Stokes 'Gamble' Rapped By Police, Businessmen

By WILLIAM ECENBARGER

CLEVELAND (UPI)—National Guardsmen, sent back into the east side area by Mayor Carl B. Stokes, restored order today to a district ravaged by three days of looting and racial violence that left 10 dead.

A force of 1,200 guardsmen patrolled a seven-square-mile area until dawn, halting persons on the deserted streets and ordering cars from the district.

Some to Remain

Reports of a crowd of juveniles gathering at an intersection some six miles outside the restricted zone sent a force of about 100 guardsmen in trucks and jeeps to the scene. The crowd was dispersed without incident.

Most of the guardsmen returned to their billets as the 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew ended. A spokesman for the mayor said some guardsmen would remain at looted stores which had not been boarded up.

Normal transit service and traffic resumed.

With peace apparently restored in the riot-scarred area, Stokes faced the task of restoring harmony among angry businessmen and police.

Stokes imposed the curfew in a seven-square-mile area after businessmen complained bitterly of the damage done by looters and firebombers, estimated to run as high as $1.5 million.

One businessman, who claimed looters caused $500,000 damage to his cleaning plant, said he was "eliminated and no one seems to care."

John Little, the mayor's executive secretary, said shortly before dawn today that "there were no major incidents and no confirmed reports or sniping." A total of 30 persons were arrested, 27 of them for curfew violations, one for attempted arson and two for looting. This brought the total arrests for three days to 96.

Little said the 3,000 National Guardsmen would remain in the city until further notice and that police would stay on 12-hour shifts.

The merchants and police were angry that Stokes had ordered all National Guardsmen and white police out of the area Wednesday night. Only Negro officers and a force of 500 black community leaders were sent in to maintain law and order.

Police in the Fifth District refused an order Thursday night to travel in two man squads, one white and one Negro, into the area where three white patrolmen were killed during the initial outbreak of violence.

They finally agreed to three-man patrols after a conference with Police Chief Michael Blackwell.

Stokes was the target of obscenities over the police radio during the ban against white law enforcement officers in the area. He was jeered at a police station Thursday night when he appeared on television to urge residents of the East Side area to observe the curfew.

Stokes ordered the curfew shortly after he toured the affected area and met with black community leaders.

He said the civil rights leaders recommended the return of the National Guard and police because "I think they recognized that without the proper authority they could not cope with the increasing numbers of people on the street."

Only sporadic incidents were reported during the curfew as the guard and police patrols moved quickly to quell any disturbance.

In his statement recalling the National Guard, Stokes placed the burden of blame for disturbances on "youngsters" and asked for the cooperation of "every black citizen in this city."

Okay College Budget, Only Minor Criticism

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

The $1,673,543 Ulster County Community College budget for next year was approved Thursday night by the County Legislature following a public hearing in the legislator's meeting room.

The vote was 23 yes with one abstention following the hearing which produced only minor criticism. Clarence Raichle, R-Kingston abstained.

Legislator William West, R-Woodstock directed the most severe criticism in which he said the college budget left too many questions unanswered. He said it was difficult to understand and confusing.

Urges Fiscal Restraint

He offered an amendment to the resolution for adoption which noted the deep concern for the increase in the amount to be raised and urged the trustees of the college to exercise the greatest fiscal restraint in the future. The amendment was defeated 18 to 6.

Also questioning various items in the budget was Gardiner Supervisor George Majestic.

Both Majority Leader Douglas V. Dye, R-2nd District, and Minority Leader Roger W. Mabie, D-7th District disagreed with West and defended the preparation of the budget.

The measure was approved by resolution accepting the $456,222 figure established as the amount the county must raise by taxation as its share of the college's operating costs. The resolution was introduced by County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago, R-New Paltz - Gardiner, who heads the Community College Committee.

In another resolution approved unanimously, a $32,500 figure was approved as a capital expenditure to purchase new equipment for the college. The total amount for equipment is $65,000 with the other half being paid by state aid.

$488,722 County Chore

Estimated revenues listed in the budget total $1,194,321 and an appropriated surplus of $23,000, leaves $456,222 to be raised by taxation. The $32,500 for equipment added to this amount results in a total of $488,722 to be raised by the county.

The budget for 1968-1969 reflects an increase of $124,692 over last year's figure of $331,530.

The budget report submitted to the County Legislature notes that the $124,692 increase represents 26 per cent of the total increase in the budget while the anticipated increase in full - time enrollment for the fall semester is 36 per cent.

Estimated revenues will include student revenues of $541,970 and the same amount is matched by state aid. Both figures indicate an increase over last year of 39.7 per cent This compares with the 39.4 per increase in the total budget.

Of the total budget $1,187,643 is appropriated for personal services compared with last year's modified budget request of $889,195. The increase is $298,448 or 33.6 per cent. The increase in personal services also reflects an increase of employe's benefits. The budget request is for $174,900 as compared with $122,000 in the modified budget request last year. The increase is $52,900 or 43.4 per cent.

Under administration a total of $191,711 is listed compared with $159,679 in last year's modified figure. The increase is $32,032, or 20.1 per cent.

Library Operation Up

The operation of the library will cost 39.6 per cent more for the coming year with a total appropriation of $89,528 over last year's figure of $64,125. The increase is $25,403.

Total maintenance shows an increase of 32.5 per cent or $17,487 over last year's cost of $53,781.

The budget received administration approval of the State University early in June. The anticipated enrollment of full-time students in the fall is 1,106 and 851 part - time students. This subsequently requires a full - time equivalent faculty increase of from 54.3 to 68.8 members.

This increase will reduce the student-faculty ratio from 18.9 to 18.1 students to each faculty member. The student-faculty ratio recommended by the State University of New York is 15 to 1.

Some New Programs

Increases in the budget are also reflected by the addition of new programs as well as by expending and improving existing educational programs. During the academic year 1968-1969, funds will be required to initiate a two-year degree program in nursing. The college will be preparing two new curriculas for the fall nursing year 1969-1970, computer science technology and law enforcement.

The educational program at the college will show steady improvement as a result of the new sophisticated laboratory and educational facilities on its new campus at Stone Ridge. Subjects planned to fully utilize the facilities will include chemistry, biology, physics, art, speech, as well as programs in mechanical and electrical technology. A modest increase in the budget is needed for these additions.

The budget report of the college indicated its plans to continue expansion of its evening and summer courses. Extension programs were offered in various locations throughout the county including Saugerties, Ellenville, Kingston and Woodstock. Due to the enthusiastic response to these extension courses, the college will further develop the offerings next year.

More community service programs including continuing education courses for the public as well as county employes will be offered. The past year the college offered courses for ambulance rescue workers, dental assistants, secretaries, attorneys, insurance personnel and high school students. The report noted that the college has discontinued use of the temporary quarters on West Chestnut Street in Kingston and has returned the property to the Kingston Consolidated School System.

Protest Terror--Blown Up

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—Five Viet Cong, two of them women, chased 20 workers out of a Chinese-language newspaper office in Saigon today and blew up the building with a 60-pound charge. The newspaper had waged an editorial campaign against terrorism.

About 20 employes were in the offices of A Chau the Asia Daily News at noon when the Viet Cong burst in, held them at bay with pistols and planted the plastic charge under the printing press.

Then, racing out, the terrorists screamed, "get out! get out! there's going to be an explosion." The employes fled. A minute later, the bomb exploded and the three-story stucco building collapsed.

A woman riding past on a motorbike was hit by debris—the only casualty of the bombing.

Gen. Creighton Abram's command today sent waves of B52 bombers against Communist infiltration routes into the city, concentrating on Viet Cong hideouts a scant three miles from Cambodia and 75 miles north of Saigon.

Two other stratofortress raids slammed tons of bombs into a North Vietnamese buildup detected Thursday 25 miles west of Hue on the northern coast, spokesmen said.

There, U.S. cavalrymen discovered the new threat to the old imperial capital, killed 11 Communists in mountain fighting and unearthed enough hidden guerrilla munitions to equip two Hanoi battalions, American commanders said.

Seven U.S. soldiers were killed and nine were wounded in the battle, the command said.

The bombing of the newspaper A Chau was the second since October when a Viet Cong explosion killed the editor, a staunch anti-Communist. Since then, it began printing U.S. propaganda leaflets.

On June 6, another Chinese-language newspaper just a few yards down the Cholon street from A Chau was bombed, killing two persons and wounding 10.

American soldiers patrolling Saigon's outskirts in attempts to quell the infiltration killed 30 Communists Thursday in fighting 27 miles northwest and 19 miles southwest of the city, spokesmen said. Thirteen Americans were killed and 27 were wounded.

Spina Says He'll Plead Innocent To Charges of 'Non-Feasance'

By JOSEPH DI LEO

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Police Director Dominick A. Spina says he will plead innocent to charges by an Essex County Grand Jury of "willfully refusing" to crack down on gambling operations.

A tough cop, who says he has loved his 35 years of police work, Spina was charged Thursday with four counts of "non-feasance" in an indictment handed up to Superior Court Judge Walter H. Conklin.

Spina had his living room window shattered by shotgun blast early this week. His life was probably saved when he stopped to put a leash on his dog, Nero, just as pellets blasted overhead.

The police director told newsmen his attorney would seek an "immediate trial," and termed the allegations "completely without merit."

Spina was backed up by Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio who appointed him in 1962. The mayor refused to accept Spina's offer to resign the directorship.

The mayor said, "The failure of the grand jury to call Director Spina and extend to him the opportunity to testify borders on the incredible, and I cannot destroy the officer's magnificent career before he has had his day in court."

If convicted on all four counts, Spina faces a maximum sentence of 12 years imprisonment and $4,000 in fines.

The indictment charged Spina with having knowledge of widespread violations of state gambling laws regarding "bookmaking, pool-selling, keeping a gambling resort and lottery operations . . ." between July, 1964 and the present.

The bill also stated that on April 15 Spina disbanded a special police gambling squad, nicknamed "Redden's Raiders," after its head, Deputy Chief John Redden.

The Essex County Grand Jury was empaneled on May 27 to investigate allegations made in a report by the Governor's Select Commission on Civil Disorders, which studied the 1967 Newark riot.

Several witnesses told the blue-ribbon panel they felt Newark City Hall was "so corrupt everything there is for sale" and that there was widespread illegal gambling in the city.

Beacon Youth Loses Life

By JON POWERS

A 20-year-old Beacon youth was struck and killed by a Penn Central freight train Thursday night near the Putnam County village of Cold Spring.

State Police from the Fishkill barracks report that Michael Newman, 20 of 478 Main Street, Beacon was standing on the southbound tracks of the Penn Central Railroad with a companion, 17-year-old Charles Todd of Willow Street, Beacon when the incident occurred at about 9 p. m.

Whistle Sounded

Engineer F. L. Decker, the operator of Penn Central freight train No. 74, told state police that he was proceeding on the southbound tracks at approximately 40 miles an hour when he observed the two youths standing on the tracks. He sounded the train's whistle and applied the brakes, but the train was unable to stop in time.

The whistle apparently startled the two youths. Todd jumped clear of the tracks just as the train passed through, but Newman was unable to react in time. He was struck by the front right section of the train and thrown clear of the tracks.

Newman was pronounced dead at the scene by Doctor Freeman of the Butterfield Hospital in Cold Spring. Todd was not injured.

An autopsy was performed at Butterfield Hospital. While the cause of death was not immediately determined, Putnam County Medical Examiner Anthony Constantino did state, in a preliminary verdict, that the death was accidental.

No Action Pending

The accident was investigated by Investigator McCauley of the Fishkill State Police barracks and Sgt. Cleary of the uniformed detail at Fishkill.

Decker was questioned by State Police investigators at the Fishkill station last night. There is no criminal action pending.

Last night's incident was the second fatal train accident to occur on the Penn Central tracks in the area within a week. Last Saturday afternoon, two 19-year-old Long Island girls were killed when their auto was struck by a Penn Central train at an unguarded crossing on New Copake Road, several miles southeast of Hudson.

Ted Says No to Veep Spot

BOSTON (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today that for personal reasons it would be "impossible" for him to run for vice president this fall.

"Under normal circumstances such a possibility would be a high honor and a challenge to further public service. But for me, this year, it is impossible," Kennedy said.

"My reasons are purely personal. They arise from the change in my personal situation and responsibilities as a result of the events of last month," he said in obvious reference to the slaying of his brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

Wawarsing To Consider Camp Purchase

The Wawarsing Town Board meets tonight in special session to consider purchasing the 75-acre Camp Sunrise to serve as a community center for the township.

Total cost for the land and buildings is $65,000.

Supervisor Frank Harkin called for the special meeting after board members made a physical inspection of the former summer resort.

The resort, including its swimming pool, baseball fields, handball and basketball courts, casino and varied buildings was made available to the town through co-owner Jack Kramer at the regular town meeting two weeks ago.

Supervisor Harkin appeared enthused over the possible purchase of the property located beyond Cape Pond, just west of the Greenfield area.

Harkin sees the area as a potential first aid squad training site an area for youth and the elderly, and "an all around township community center."

Not the least of the important aspects of Camp Sunrise, or Sunrise Manor as it is sometimes called, is the fact that within its acreage rests a vast gravel bank.

Another significant point is that the only area for town expansion is west of Ellenville. The reason for this is that to the north, on both sides of Route 209, the land is developed residentially and commercially; the south is hotel country, and the mountains rise to the east.

Tonight's meeting has been set for 7:30 p. m.

The $65,000 price figure was arranged by the owners of the resort especially for township consideration, co-owner Kramer had declared.

Meet Dyson Night In Kingston Sunday

"Meet John Dyson Night" will be held in Kingston Sunday at 5 p. m. at the Dyson headquarters, 288 Fair Street.

The event, to which the public is envited, is being arranged by The Ulster County Volunteers for Dyson who support him in his candidacy for Congress in the 28th District.

Acknowledges Acceptance

Dyson will speak briefly and will answer questions and talk informally with those attending. Refreshments will be served.

The Millbrook publisher, in a letter today to his Republican opponent Hamilton Fish Jr., declared, "I am happy that you have finally recognized the importance of face - to - face discussion and accepted my challenge for public debate.

"I am pleased that you have agreed to meet me on Aug. 25 in Columbia and Greene counties, whose needs are of great importance to anyone who sincerely wishes to represent the people of the 28th District in Congress."

The agreement of Dyson's principal opponent to engage in debates came in response to four letters sent to Fish over a period of five weeks, which had previously gone unanswered. The Millbrook publisher pleased that in your letter you stated: "I am especially pleased that in your letter you spoke of your general willingness to engage me in debate in the future. Because candidates for Congress must also be concerned with the problems of Dutchess, Schoharie and Ulster counties as well as Columbia and Greene, I am confident that we can schedule our other debates in those counties."

Dyson, a graduate of the Cornell College of Agriculture and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton University, declared: "I shall be more than willing to discuss any questions you may have concering my ideas about the Farm Bureau, declining rural areas, or any other agricultural matter.

He also suggested that the two other candidates, G. Gordon Liddy and Peter Kane DuFault be invited to participate.

Ulster Town Sets Public Hearing Dates

Public hearing dates were set for two Town of Ulster projects — construction of a town hall complex and establishment of a sewer improvement area — at Thursday night's special Town Board meeting following informational sessions held at Lake Katrine Grange Hall. More than 100 residents attended.

Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz said the public hearing on the proposed construction of a new town hall complex with highway department gagage will be held Tuesday, Aug. 13 at 7:30 p. m. in Chambers School. The project is estimated to cost $300,000.

The public hearing on the establishment of a sewer improvement area embracing about 1,580 families within a four-mile area of the town will be held Tuesday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the Chambers School. The sewer project is estimated to cost $4,528,000.

The Town of Ulster supervisor said there seemed to be a positive air among those attending that these projects are sorely needed and he did not anticipate any opposition at the public hearings.

Following the public hearings, dates will be set by the Town Board for referendum votes on each project on separate dates. The entire township will vote on the town hall complex project. However, on the sewer improvement area installation only those voters residing within the improvement area may cast ballots for or against the project.

Supervisor Musialkiewicz said brochures about the town hall project were distributed at the informational meeting and additional brochures are available at his office in the post office, Vincent Street. Photos and drawings with specifications are on display at the office on both projects, he said.

The sewer improvement area embraces an area generally bounded on the north by Leggs Mills Road, on the east by a natural drainage divide running generally parallel to and to the east of Route 9W, on the south by the city line and on the west by the Esopus Creek.

Camp Slates Benefit Play

Camp Rising Sun, Rhinebeck, will produce the play, "The Birds", tonight for the benefit of the Upper Dutchess Visiting Nurses Association.

The performance of the Walter Kerr comedy will begin at 8:30 p. m. at the camp site. The public is invited.

Residents of Camp Rising Sun come from many countries of the world and annually produce a play to benefit a service organization of the Rhinebeck community.

Harry Stuhldreher, Don Miller, Elmer Layden and Jim Crowley were the famous "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame.

CONVENTION AWARD — Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association Thursday night honored a charter member who has served in the firemanic service for 66 years, former Kingston Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy. A plaque recognizing his faithful service to the county volunteers was presented at the annual convention dinner held at New Paltz Legion Hall. Presentation was made by Supreme Court Justice Lawrence H. Cooke (right) of Monticello, a past president of Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemens Association. Chief Murphy joined Union Hose Company Aug. 2, 1902 and was named chief of Kingston Fire Department Nov. 1, 1924. More than 350 delegates and guests attended the dinner. The convention program tonight at 8 p. m. will include election of officers and filing of annual reports at New Paltz Town Hall. The three-day convention will culminate with the Firemen's Parade Saturday at 4 p. m.. (Freeman photo by Haines).

KUR Demolitions

Kingston Urban Renewal Agency yesterday released plans for demolition of 42 more structures in the Uptown Project and another 94 in the Downtown project, bringing the demolition phase in the latter to near completion. Contracts will be let in September.

In other news, the agency told of the completion of a 40 by 70 feet basketball court along Chambers and Ann Streets between Mill and East Union. The agency blacktopped the court and the Kingston Recreation Department will erect two basketball rims and provide supervision.

In other youth news, the agency announced that it is employing 10 young men for the summer to work at maintaining the agency's property Downtown.

After conferring with committees of Uptown businessmen, the agency has prepared sketches to provide a canopy over Wall Street on the sidewalks from John to North Front Street. This latest trend, called a semi-mall permits through vehicular traffic and unloading areas.

Pedestrian traffic will be opened on that section of Broadway between Stuyvesant Street and Newkirk Avenue. The agency's engineers had advised KURA that the wall was showing signs of displacement and presented a possible danger to life and property. The current repairs are temporary but permanent repairs will be instigated with the approval of the federal government of a repair contract from the agency.

Final plans have been submitted by the agency to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in New York City for a new dock along the Rondout at the foot of Broadway and a 20,000 square foot pork.

The agency is also waiting for HUD approval on construction of Meadow Street, realignment and extension of Murray Street and Maple Street from Murray to Newkirk Avenue in addition to related utilities and street lights.

Presiding at the meeting yesterday afternoon was the agency's chairman, G. Scott Alexander. He was accompanied by the agency's acting executive director, Ward B. Tongue.

It was announced at the meeting that Eddie Parker, newly appointed agency member, has been named secretary to the agency.

Atty. Gen. Reviews the Motives Behind Opposition to Abe Fortas

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says political partisanship and, in some cases, opposition to civil rights advances are the motives behind many of those who oppose the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

Clark, in an interview, also said the slaying of 10 persons Tuesday in a Cleveand Negro neighborhood was "the random act of a handful of very extreme and violent-prone militants," and not part of a nationwide conspiracy to cause racial unrest.

In discussing President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to move up on the Supreme Court from associate justice to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren, Clark said that "quite clearly there is dominant in the opposition a highly partisan strain that's unfortunate. I don't believe a political affiliation should enter into the qualification for nomination."

He added that "those who oppose securing equal rights and civil rights are opposing the nomination. I would suggest the basis for opposition, in truth, is their opposition to the very great advances that have been made in civil rights under law."

Clark also defended the Justice Department's stand in writing a controversial memorandum to the Senate Judiciary Committee praising Fortas. The department was criticized by opponents of the nomination of trying to propagandize the committee by the memo.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he requested the memo.

Clark said the department always has supported administration nominees for judicial appointments. He cited Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's testimony in support of the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. John D. Coleman to the federal bench.

He said those who have made the memorandum an issue have used it "in an emotional way in my judgment just to create a diversion. I don't believe serious people are impressed by it, nor are other senators."

In discussing the Cleveland shootings, Clark said that "in one sense you could wonder why something like that hadn't happened before in other cities."

Clark rejected continuing reports that a nationwide conspiracy is behind unrest in big cities. He said "there was in fact no significant activity in any other city that could be related to what happened in Cleveland so far as we know at this time."

He added that "the FBI has not indicated any change as to the views heretofore expressed by Mr. Hoover (FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover) as to the existence of a conspiracy." Hoover has said there is no evidence of a conspiracy in big city racial disturbances.

Clark also rejected any thought that because the Cleveland shooting did not immediately break out into widespread race rioting the wave of urban disturbances is subsiding. "To feel this is just a passing phenomenon and now the fever is broken is to misread the cause. There are vast underlying causes which will not go away."

Prague Ready For Showdown

By JAMES O. JACKSON

PRAGUE (UPI)—Czechoslovakia's Communist reformers today put their regime in new order in readiness for a showdown meeting with angry Soviet leaders. Observers said the changes may both please the Russians and irk them still more.

A Czech Communist party Central Committee source said the confrontation between First Party Secretary Alexander Dubcek and his Kremlin critics probably will come Monday.

The Dubcek-led Czech party presidium in an announcement once more proclaimed its allegiance to the East bloc. "At the same time, they stressed the invevitability of pursuing a policy of a sovereign and independent state," the presidium's announcement said.

The two-sided Czech policy statement mirrored major changes announced late Thursday. Out of party office went Lt. Gen. Vaclav Prchlik, a man the Soviet press has accused of being one reason the Kremlin is threatening to use force if necessary to halt the anticommunism it says is at work in this former satellite.

Agency Abolished

But the Czech reformers also abolished the agency that Prchlik headed—the party's eight commission. This was sure to anger the Soviets.

The Czech eight commission, a holdover from the Stalinist regime overturned by Dubcek and his reformers eight months ago. policed the red politics of such governmental units as the army, security forces, judges and prosecutors. It was a key commissar system and dear to Soviet eyes, observers said.

It could not be immediately determined if the action actually meant Prchlik was being thrown into the power wilderness. Prague announcements merely said he was being returned to a purely military post. His fate will hinge on what that post will be.

The Soviet press zeroed in on the general for his public call for extending Czechoslovakia's reform policies to the Warsaw pact, the Soviet-led East bloc military alliance. Prchlik advocated giving the pact's smaller partners more power.

Independent State

The Presidium gave no hint it is repudiating Prchlik's views on the pact. If anything, its announcement said the opposite. Speaking of reform delegates being elected for a party congress in September, it said they endorse "the inevitable of pursuing a policy of a sovereign and independent state."

GI Defenders of Saigon: Confident, Impatience

SAIGON (AP) — Mud-caked American GIs defending the approaches to Saigon exhibit a mixture of dread, confidence and impatience as they prepare for the third battle of Saigon.

Warned by their commanders that the third offensive of the year against South Vietnam's capital may be the biggest battle of the war, quite a number voice fervent hopes that some other unit will bear the brunt of the fighting.

Sitting at the edge of a rice paddy, hands cupped around cigarettes in the monsoon shower, combat infantrymen don't talk about the strategic importance of the battle, how it might affect the Paris peace talks or what would happen in Saigon if the enemy again breaks through the city's outer defense perimeter.

Instead the talk is of chances for survival, whether the unit will be rotated out of a particularly dangerous area before the attack opens, whether intelligence can possibly be right about the large number of battalions facing them.

When the word first came that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regiments were massing for a new attack, it set off a low voltage feeling of excitement. But weeks later and with several enemy regiments maneuvering away from the capital, the edge of expectation is somewhat dulled. When intelligence reports of an attack in mid-July proved wrong and new estimates put D-Day as far away as Septembtr, some commanders found it difficult to keep their men up to peak performance.

"When the men haven't been in a good fight for several weeks they tend to relax. That's just what Charlie wants," the commander of one infantry company said.

Many of the men are newly arrived, and the battle may be their first major fight of the war. These men look forward to it as a personal testing under fire.

Not so Sgt. Glen Boulware of Dallas, Tex., who has nearly finished his one-year tour.

"Me, I just hopeth e next one holds off until I can get out of here. Enough is enough," he said. "My wife wants me out of Saigon and so do I. But I didn't even want to be in the Army and here I am anyway."

Weinstein on Election:

Acting Speaker Sees Backing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Moses Weinstein, acting Assembly speaker, says "some surprising support" among fellow Democrats, combined with backing from some Republicans, will assure him the speakership when the legislature convenes in January.

Weinstein, powerful Queens Democratic leader, has been the party's majority leader in the Assembly. He became acting speaker Tuesday because of the resignation of Anthony J. Travia, who was tapped for a federal judgeship.

"I plan to be a working speaker during the next five months," Weinstein told newsmen and Capitol personnel Thursday.

He noted that Assembly Republicans are marshalling their forces for the November election.

"That's what the Democrats must do," Weinstein said. "That's what I plan to do."

Weinstein faces two hurdles in his bid for the top post in the 1969 Assembly. His party must retain its majority position in the election, and he must prevail in an expected battle with Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, Brooklyn Democratic leader, who also aspires to the speakership.

"I have some surprising support," Weinstein told reporters. He declined, however, to identify the upstate Democrats he says endorse him.

His plans for the election include a possible "candidates' school" to help Democrats get the votes they need.

Beyond that, Weinstein is setting forth ways of expediting legislative business.

He said he wants joint legislative committees to work actively to have bills ready well before the start of the new session.

He also hopes to keep assemblymen in Albany "through most of the week" at the outset.

"I don't want to work one day and then go home," Weinstein said.

Despite his apparent confidence, Weinstein hesitated when an admirer addressed him as "Mister Speaker."

"Whenever people say that to me, I can't help but look around for Tony (Travia)," he said.

Mail Spending Cut Program Might Be Partly Rescinded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate hopes to head off a threatened weekend cutback in mail service by voting to rescind a major portion of its spending cut program.

A vote was tentatively scheduled for late afternoon — or possibly Saturday — on a measure to exempt postal workers from a forced reduction in federal payrolls.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson had told him the Saturday service cutback would be postponed for another week if the Senate passed the measure.

Monroney said he was expecting a clear majority for the measure. But a floor fight was expected, led on the opposition side by the Senate's leading economy crusader, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

Williams said that exemption of the economy mandate Congress invoked earlier this year as its price for approving the 10 per cent surcharge on income tax payments.

Under Monroney's bill, he said, 83,000 of the 205,000 federal jobs Congress ordered to be cut by attrition over the next four years would be exempted.

"It will shoot the bottom out of the whole thing," Williams said.

But Monroney warned that if the measure failed to pass, Watson would eliminate ordinary Saturday window service at large post offices this weekend. That would mean delays of two or three days for postal customers expecting magainzes, checks and letters.

Our children are taught in school to drive a car, but are given absolutely no guidelines as to how to budget this major purchase against other necessary expenditures they will have to face when they become working adults.

They are taught how to handle an automobile safely, but not how to handle budgets and credit safely.

Making this charge is S. C. Patterson, president of the National Foundation of Consumer Credit, which reports that an estimated $500 million evaporated from the economy last year as 192,000 "overextended Americans" flocked to the bankruptcy courts at the rate of more than one a minute.

Except for a hard core of perhaps 10,000 "credit drunks," who will never be able to handle their personal financial affairs, most of this 192,000 didn't get into trouble deliberately and they want to get out of debt honestly, says Patterson.

The average "overextended American" is not a disadvantaged ghetto resident. He is a reasonably well-off blue collar worker who makes $500 a month. He is married and has two or more children. His indebtedness is in the neighborhood of $3,000. Generally, he is a man who simply got in over his depth unwittingly, bit by bit, or was pushed over the edge by an emergency which could have been planned for but wasn't.

Patterson believes that credit training at the high school level could have helped him avoid the pitfalls of overindebtedness. Acting on this belief, the foundation is providing texts for courses now being taught in some 3,000 high schools throughout the country and is designing new courses for junior high school, college and adult education levels.

Democracy at Work

Hundreds of millions of viewers the world over will hear and listen to the proceedings at the national political conventions. A consortium of 42 foreign television networks from 30 countries will pool their resources to bring the story of how democray works to the rest of the world.

The British Broadcasting Company will act as anchorman. Using footage shot by NBC and CBS cameras as raw material, a special BBC production team will put together a 30-minute condensation at the end of each evening's session. This will be transmitted by satellite to London and Tokyo. From London, the edited film will be transmitted to Europe and North Africa; the Tokyo relay will serve Japan and Australia. European networks taking part will include both East and West European countries.

Necessity, both economic and physical, dictated this approach to convention coverage. By pooling resources, the 42 networks will be able to do the Atlantic portion of the two-week project for about $1.6 million. BBC's extra cost will be only $100,000. The balance will be divided among the participating networks. By comparison, American networks are spending $23 million. But then it is our President we will watch nominated.

Auto Insurance Hearing

A Senate antitrust subcommittee hearing is revealing statistics that will startle auto owners used to raises in their premiums on the ground that more money is needed to meet claims and losses.

The subcommittee staff reports that since 1930, the auto insurance industry has collected $120 billion in premiums for three primary forms of coverage—injury to others, damage to the property of others, and damage to the insured person's own car—and has paid out $60.8 billion.

Thus in 37 years, the gap between pay-in and pay-out amounted to $59.2 billion. Of this sum, $21.6 billion was accumulated in the last five years alone, when the industry's demands for higher premiums on the ground of greater claims and losses grew into a loud chorus across the country.

The insurance industry and its rating groups were exempted from the antitrust laws by the McCarran Act of 1945. A central purpose of the current hearing is to find out how well or how poorly the public has been served by the exemption, which was granted on condition that regulation be undertaken by the states.

The discrepancies among the states are so broad, that federal regulation or at least federal standards, may be the outcome of these hearings.

Senate Majority Leader Everett M. Dirksen went to the defense of President Johnson on the charge of cronyism for appointing Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice by saying, "Where are you going to find a person whose views you can trust if he is not a friend?" Friendship some times beclouds judgment, too.

To focus attention on pleas that adults be included in programs of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, a relay run over 175 miles was staged from Landsdale, Pa., to Washington, D. C. The relay runners, all adults, proved their point.

"Get This. We Aren't FOR Anything---
We're AGAINST!"

Riots, Guns Within Federal Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON — For many months now there has been a tendency by many groups to scoff at the charges that some of the riots across the country have been due to a conspiracy. The National Commission to study civil disorder, appointed by President Johnson and headed by former Governor Otto Kerner of Illinois, concluded that none of the 1967 disturbances was caused by or the consequence of "any organized plan or 'conspiracy.'"

But some concrete evidence of a conspiracy has been revealed in connection with the riots in Cleveland Tuesday night which resulted in the death of ten persons. Police officials in Cleveland declare that the disorder was planned and that it was part of a "black power" plot against four major cities.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who is a Negro, said he received information from the FBI and other intelligence sources that major disturbances would break out on Wednesday morning in his city as well as in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh. He had a police task force ready on Tuesday night to respond.

Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso, commander of the Ohio National Guard, commented that, on the basis of intelligence reports, "this is a conspiracy by black militant groups to cause disturbances not only in Ohio but all across the United States."

Fred Evans, a Black Nationalist leader who was arrested by the Cleveland policemen, told officers that he and 17 others instigated the shooting. Patrolman David Hicks said that Evans boasted he and the others began firing at the officers because "you police have bothered us too long."

Another self - proclaimed member of a Black Nationalist organization is reported to have declared that the snipers came from a group of 50 or 60 Negro veterans recently returned from Vietnam who have an arsenal of several hundred weapons and "decided they were going to get some white cops." But the list of casualties shows that of the ten dead, three were white policemen, three were Negro snipers and four others were Negroes caught in the crossfire. Twenty - nine other persons, 16 of them police officers, were wounded.

Incidentally, in May 1967 Detective Sergeant John Ungvry of Cleveland stated that, under the direction of Evans, Black Nationalists were plotting a "black revolution" to coincide with "a war between Red China and the United States."

There have been many reports in the last year indicating that the disturbances inside the United States might have some connection with the Communists.

Certainly, there is no doubt that some of the ammunition which was used in the latest Cleveland riot was transported in interstate commerce, with perhaps an international connection.

The problem is what will the federal government do about it. Representative Charles A. Vanik, Democrat of Ohio — who lives in Cleveland — has criticized other members of Congress for having weakened a pending gun-control bill. Pointing out that sniper fire in Cleveland came from M-1 carbines, M-16 automatics, shotguns, pistols and apparently other long guns, he said to the House of Representatives on Wednesday:

"Undoubtedly some of these guns came into the city through interstate commerce and certainly the ammunition did. Yesterday the House riddled effective gun controls by weakening amendments, including one which exempts ammunition from application of the law."

The reluctance of many members of Congress to vote for strict laws to control the sale and distribution of guns and ammunition is said to be due to a "lobby" which is supported not only by businesses which are engaged in the manufacture and sale of guns, but by rifle organizations.

The whole problem of how to deal with riots has not yet been solved, and the inclination in Washington has been to pass responsibility on to the state and city governments. But the presence of a traffic in interstate commerce" in connection with the Cleveland riots and the existence of a plan to start disturbances in several cities puts the matter plainly within federal jurisdicion.

It would not be surprising if, during the coming political campaign, the people insisted upon an explicit statement from the presidential candidates as to what they propose concerning not only further restrictions on interstate traffic in arms but the uprooting of the conspiracies which lead to riots and disturbances.

Alleged Code of Ethics Was Phoniest Move by Congress

WASHINGTON — The phoniest move by Congress this year was to pass an alleged code of ethics. The code didn't even begin to deal with the finagling and backstairs lobbying that takes place on Capitol Hill.

One illustration of its failure is what is happening with television, where crime and violence programming is influencing the crime rate in this country. In England and France, where the crime rate is almost zero compared with the United States, television is strictly regulated. In the United States it is supposed to be regulated by the Federal Communications Commission. But in real fact it is not

Basic reason: the influence of Congressmen who own TV stations or have law firms which represent TV clients or who want favors from the networks. In addition, the President's family, for the first time in history, is a TV owner. Congressmen with pocketbook interests have cracked down on the Federal Communications Commission brazenly.

When the FCC tried to limit the number of commercials on TV, for example, the House wrathfully voted 317 to 43 to strip the agency of this power. Few other issues have received such overwhelming House support.

Secret No. 1—Congressmen like to see themselves on TV, and TV stations offer a lot of free time. A broadcasting magazine survey indicated that 70 per cent of the Senators and 60 per cent of the Representatives film TV reports to constituents which are shown "as a public service" by local stations.

The taxpayers, incidentally, provide both the Senate and House with free radio and television studios. The members pay for little more than the cost of the film, scarcely a fraction of what commercial studios would charge. Sen. Everett Dirksen, R - Ill., for example, gained an advantage over other recording stars by cutting his profitable, patriotic recording of "Gallant Men" in the tax - subsidized Senate studio.

Secret No. 2 — The radio-TV industry has more influence on Capitol Hill than any other lobby, except possibly the highway lobby. The National Association of Broadcasters has lined up station owners in every state who can be called upon to apply pressure upon their Congressmen. When the occasion demands, the NAB can back this up with letters from its 3,600 member stations. Each network also keeps a vice president in Washington, whose main function is to keep Congressmen happy.

Secret No. 3 — Many Congressmen have a pocketbook interest in broadcasting through personal or family holdings in radio - TV stations. Equally significant, Congressmen's law firms have radio - TV clients.

To illustrate, Rep. Clarence Brown Jr., R - Ohio, isn't the least abashed about feathering his nest via WCOM in Urbana, Ohio. As executor of his father's estate, he holds 75 per cent of the station's voting stock. Yet he has become the champion of radio-television interests inside the House Communications Subcommittee, which processes all broadcasting legislation.

Brazen Congressmen

Brazenly, he led the fight against forming a Public Broadcasting Corporation. Equally brazen, he sought to restrict educational radio and television. He was willing to permit the teaching of academic courses on educational stations, but he introduced legislation to prevent these stations from broadcasting dramatizations, classical music or cultural activities which might attract viewers away from the commercial channels.

Another brazen pocketbook Congressman is Paul Jones, D - Mo. When the FCC tried to regulate TV commercials, the loudest howl came from him. He did not reveal that his family then owned a substantial share in KBOA of Kennett, Mo.

"I have had a recent experience with the Federal Communications Commission," he wailed on the House floor, "and have been the victim of rulings made by incompetent employees who have been given too much authority with no supervision and no responsibility. When you try to talk to some of the commissioners, you are usually referred to some subordinate.

"I want to predict that unless we do pass this legislation (to prevent the FCC from limiting commercials) we are going to find the Federal Communications Commission, and particularly the employees of that commission, taking unto themselves authority which no one feels they should have."

Rep. John Dellenback, R - Ore., who owns a large block of stock in KMED - TV of Medford, Ore., called for a statute last April that would require the community - antenna TV companies to pay copyright fees for the programs they pick up from the networks.

Equally brazen, this legislation is being handled in the Senate by Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., who owns an interest in Midwest Video, a CATV complex. His son and son - in - law are also stockholders. He doesn't worry about this obvious conflict of interest.

In an interview with Television magazine, McClellan described the CATV business as "vital."

"I will oppose anything I think will destroy it," he snorted.

This is part of the case against Congress. The public has been fooled by the adoption of a code of ethics, but that code merely brushes a lot of unethical conduct under the rug. Indirectly, this is one reason there is so much crime and violence on television.

Humphrey Still Squeezed On the Vietnam War Issue

By PETER LISAGOR.
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey is trying hard to avoid being whipsawed in the Vietnam war issue by friends and opponents alike.

He has said again that he has no intention of repudiating either President Johnson or his policies in Vietnam even if it costs him support in his campaign for the presidency.

The vice president's dilemma was heightened by the Honolulu conference last week in which President Johnson and Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam took a firm line and left him no opening for political maneuvering.

Humphrey's plight was simply ignored in Hawaii. Even on the point of a possible cease - fire, for which Humphrey has called as an early order of business, the two presidents gave him no satisfaction.

"If President Johnson had been a candidate," an official here noted, "he might have been a bit ambiguous on a cease - fire and the, promise it held out for an end to casualties while the talks go on. But he isn't in politics, so he didn't have to fuzz over one of the most intricate problems in a guerrilla war."

What the Johnson - Thieu communique said was that a cease - fire must be guaranteed through effectively policed arrangements, and that is admittedly a long way off in the negotiating process.

The vice president already has rejected the proposal of Vermont Gov. Philip Hoff that he resign his official post in order to prove his independence from the Johnson administration and its Vietnam policy.

Hoff now says that Humphrey will issue a detailed statement on his own Vietnam position sometime before Aug. 10.

The Vermont governor strongly implies it will contain differences with the administration.

However, in an interview with United Press International, Humphrey emphasized, as he has in the past, that he has no conflict with the President.

"To those who say that I must repudiate my President and repudiate my government and its policy or they won't support me," Humphrey was quoted as saying, "then I say to them that they will have to find somebody else to support."

Denying a report of differences with LBJ over a party platform plank on Vietnam, Humphrey said he hoped the Democratic platform will contain proposals that will influence the peace negotiations in Paris.

The necessity for Humphrey to continue denying private differences with the administration on Vietnam reflects his problem in attracting anti - war supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Those urging him to stake out a position of compromise and conciliation come mainly from the Kennedy camp and from liberal sympathizers who fear his identification with the war will result in widespread defections in their ranks.

The point, of course, is that Humphrey has been a loyal supporter of the war policies, often being called "more royal than the king" in his defense of them. Moreover, Mr. Johnson has told visitors to the White House that the vice president has not differed "one iota" on Vietnam, and if Humprhey sought to suggest otherwise, he would risk offending the President.

Humphrey may later decide to take that risk, but even his friends say that would be out of character for a man who rates loyalty as a top political and personal priority.

The Vietnam issue, some experts contend, may be largely neutralized if Richard M. Nixon is the GOP nominee against Humphrey. Nixon's own firm and unyielding position on the war might give Humphrey the opening he has not yet found to develop a posture of moderation and reasonableness he can legitimately call his own.

Liberals Snare Selves as Specialists in False Hope

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some of the nation's older liberals recognize that, as promoters of major social legislation over a span of 35 years, they have often been guilty of promising too much.

They saw programs like public welfare, public housing and aid to economically distressed area as virtually final solutions of great American problems.

By investing too much emotion in their public clamor for these programs, the liberals successfully conveyed to the people the idea that solutions could be final, that society could be perfected little by little.

Today they know better. They have seen public housing become a long - range failure which sometimes breeds highrise slums. The welfare system has crumbled before their eyes, snarling itself in a tangle of complex rules, damaging human dignity, creating a permanent sese of dependency in some families.

So the older liberals, and many of their younger counterparts, have lost faith in the idea that, by stitching together a kind of grand patchwork quilt of social programs, America could rid itself of its great problems.

Many are quite lost today. No new, all - embracing faith has arisen to replace the old. Some liberals simply do not know what to propose. Some think that the answer may lie in far more massive programs calling for the outlay of hundreds of billions.

Others, however, have chosen to join rebellious students, militant black Americans and antiwar groups in a heavy assault upon the whole establishment of government and society.

The underlying notion seems to be that a "system" which will not quickly transform itself into the perfected structure they desire is just not worth keeping.

But it may very well be that the liberals who are pursuing this course are falling into the old liberal trap. In their high - pitched cries for a new system which they clearly imply will be more perfect than the one we have, they are promising too much.

So, too, are the student rebels, the black militants and the antiwar types whose shorthand slogans usually include the urgent word "now" and really represent a demand that a sort of instant perfection be introduced into American life while they are still marching in protest against the old ways.

The most extreme students are the worst in this regard, since they busy themselves trying to destroy what is here and leave the promise for the future largely unspoken.

Some of the white liberals and the more extreme black militants are not much better. Talk of a "black nation" within this country is never supported by practical proposals indicating how it could be achieved and maintained. Nor is it ever made plain how a new "system" could avoid anarchy on the one hand or dictatorship on the other.

The promoters of these notions like to comfort themselves with the argument that their talk of "revolution" holds out the only real hope for a troubled, problem - ridden American society.

But they are making extravagant promises which they cannot support with substance. They do not make clear and cannot make clear what a black nation or any other kind of new system would be like.

It may not be unfair to say that in their clamor for a perfection that cannot be realized, these promoters have made themselves specialists in false hope. As such, they are far crueler men than those moderates who fight for change with hard realism and make more limited promises which can in fact be kept.

Conant Proposes State Takeover Of Public School Financing

By GERRY MCLAUGHLIN

ALBANY, N.Y. AP — State and local government officials are being asked to weigh the possibility of a drastic change in public school financing.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. recently urged responsible officials in New York and elsewhere to consider the feasibility of state takeover of the localities' share of school financing.

At the same time he called for consideration of an accompanying move to eliminate local authority to levy school taxes.

The ideas were advanced last month by Dr. James B. Conant, expert whose opinions on public school matters are widely known to education professionals in this country and abroad. Allen told a school superintendents' meeting two weeks ago that he felt the Conant suggestion merited a "thorough study."

Reaction to his call has been slow in developing, but the legislature, at least, seems willing to take a look at the Conant plan.

The proposal is bound to arouse strong feelings in education and government circles since it involves a potentially drastic change in the pattern of school financing and affects the principle of local control.

Such key officials as State Senate Education Chairman D. Clinton Dominick of Newburgh, Senate Finance Chairman Warren M. Anderson of Binghamton and State Budget Director T. Norman Hurd agree that the state should take a look at the idea.

At this point, however, neither Dominick nor Hurd are saying much more than that. Anderson says he has an open mind on the subject but showed himself wary of any undermining of local control over public schools.

The three were among a scattering of state officials asked for comment on Allen's call for a study.

The commissioner made it clear that he is not endorsing the Conant proposals but, rather, pressing for a sound evaluation of their worth.

Dominick says he believes the plan possibly could be explored in connection with proposed state takeover of other items such as welfare costs.

One big question involved is how the state would raise the money to assume the local share — now about $2 billion —of the burden.

New York does not have a statewide real propery tax. Since local real - property taxes furnish the money for localities' shares of the cost of running the schools, legillation to transfer the jurisdiction would be necessary.

Anderson expressed concern about this aspect of the picture.

"I have a feeling, he said, "that local sharing has been one of our great strengths in education in New York. And we have to wonder what effect such a change would have on efforts to decentralize New York City schools."

Allen's stature in the state virtually guarantees that the Conant proposals will receive more consideration in the months ahead.

16 The Negro Doers

Writers and casting directors who have studied the old West . . . fear the incredulity of readers and viewers . . . They fear that the accurate representation of the Negro's role in the opening of the West would paradoxically seem to be a falsification of history.

—From "The Negro Cowboys"

There had always been a few outstanding Negroes, a few who somehow obtained education or found an opportunity to excel.

Now, in the flush of freedom after the Civil War, Negroes moved ahead in all fields. Negro churches and fraternal orders expanded. Banks, stores, businesses were founded. At the time of Emancipation, one in 20 Negroes could read; by 1900 the figure was one out of two. There were tens of thousands of teachers, writers, ministers, professional men, performers. In the cities, an elite, well-to-do, snobbish Negro middle class was emerging.

There had always been a few inventive Negroes. In the 18th century, for example, shipowner James Forten invented a sail-handling device. Before the Civil War, Norbert Tillieux devised a new method of refining sugar—ironically contributing to the profitability of slavery.

In the second half of the 19th century, Jan Matzelinger from Dutch Guiana (one of 60,000 Negroes who voluntarily migrated to the United States after the Civil War) perfected a device that revolutionized the shoe-making industry. Granville T. Woods invented induction telegraphy, the third rail on electric railways and 23 other inventions. By 1900, Negroes had been granted patents on some 400 useful inventions.

There had always been Negro explorers. James P. Beckwith was a famous contemporary of Kit Carson and Jim Bridger.

Now the West was to be tamed and settled and Negroes took a prominent part. Philip Durham and Everett L. Jones, authors of "The Negro Cowboys," estimate that 5,000 Negroes rode the cattle trails along with whites. Two Negro infantry and two cavalry regiments saw service in the West for three decades after the Civil War. (The latter were to save the day for Teddy Roosevelt at Las Guasimas, Cuba, in 1898.)

But after the West was fenced in, write Durham and Jones, the Negro was fenced out. By 1900, when history became myth and legend, the Negro cowboy and trooper, like the wild prairies and wild Indians he had helped subdue, had vanished utterly.

NEXT: Down With Uncle Tom

The Air Congestion, And the Possible Rx

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — On one recent, clear day, with beautiful flying weather, more than 20,000 passengers aboard 200 flights were delayed landing at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, most of them for an hour or more.

An early afternoon flight sat on the ground at Newark, N.J., waiting for takeoff clearance for three hours.

This kind of situation, once a rare exception, is now the rule.

The airlines estimate that delays due to traffic congestion are costing them $50 million a year in extra fuel, added crew time, and inefficient use of equipment.

In addition, annoyed and inconvenienced passengers are losing millions of dollars a year in productive time.

Alan S. Boyd, secretary of transportation, has estimated that needed airport improvements and expansion will cost $6 billion, through 1975, and that the cost of bringing the airways navigation system up to date will be about $150 million a year for the next four or five years, in addition to current airways appropriations of about $500 million a year.

Summary of Problem

The Air Transport Association, representing the airline industry, has produced a summary of the air traffic congestion problem which answers some of the questions about long-range solutions to air congestion.

The industry answers do not touch upon demands by federal air traffic controllers for more manpower. The controllers launched a by-the-book safety campaign July 3 which has contributed to the current crisis of delays.

A bill before Congress would provide immediate relief for the manpower shortage. The government, the controllers and several industry groups also are trying to work out other short-range solutions.

Question: What's the basic problem?

Answer: The great increase in air traffic. Airline passenger traffic has increased an average of 15 per cent a year for the past five years. While the U.S. population is increasing by about 7,000 a day, the airlines are adding more than 40,000 passengers a day.

This is more than matched by the growth of private aviation which now accounts for almost 75 per cent of the landings and takeoffs at airports equipped with Federal Aviation Administration control towers. Private planes operated almost 23 million hours last year compared to five million for the airlines.

Q. What about the future traffic?

A. Airline traffic will triple by 1975, and the private aviation fleet will increase by about a third.

Q. What long-range solutions do the airlines propose?

A. Establishment of an Airport Development Trust Fund, financed by a 2 per cent increase in the passenger ticket tax. Resulting revenues would provide funds for airport expansion. Also, increased funding for airways, followed by consideration by Congress of the whole user-charge question. If a need should be found for user charges beyond the current 5 per cent ticket tax, the airlines will accept them under an arrangement to insure that all who use the system pay their fair share. At present, through the 5 per cent ticket tax recognized by Congress as a user charge, airline traffic generates $250 million in annual revenues. This is about equal to the 45 per cent share of the airways cost that the FAA says the airlines should bear.

Q. What of other users?

A. Through an aviation gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, private users paid about $7 million last year, or only 4.3 per cent of the $163 million the FAA considered their fair share in 1967. Many private plane users actually contribute no taxes whatsoever toward the cost of maintaining the airways system.

The 133 million passengers of the scheduled airlines are becoming increasingly aware of this disparity and are beginning to question why they must wait for landing clearance on equal footing with the man rich enough to buy his own plane but who is not paying an equal share of the airways' cost.

Q. What alternative is there to requiring all users to pay fair shares of the cost of modernizing airways and airports?

A. Perhaps serious thought should be given to establishing priorities for the use of these scarce resources, on the basis of public need and financial participation. Secretary Boyd said in Senate testimony last month, "The federal government has a greater interest in promoting the efficiency of the common-carrier system of air transportation than it does in promoting private air transportation and, where a choice must be made, the common-carrier system will receive preference."

Q. How can all users of the airways system be required to pay their fair share of the costs?

A. A first step might be a registration fee for private aircraft.

Q. How would the Airport Development Trust Fund work?

A. It would be set up within the U.S. Treasury and administered by the secretary of transportation. Besides proceeds of a 2 per cent tax on airline passengers within the U.S., there would be revenue from a flat fee of $2 a trip for passengers going abroad.

Q. What airports would be eligible for financial help?

A. Both the major hub airports and the smaller ones. Funds also would be available for "reliever" airports—small fields near major airports used to relieve the big fields of private traffic which does not need to land there.

Q. In what form would the fund provide assistance?

A. It would pay up to 75 per cent of the debt service of airport bond issues, and also would provide short-term loans for planning, land acquisition and the start of construction of urgently needed projects, pending approval of long-term financial aid.

Barrientos Government Falls Apart in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The government of President Rene Barrientos fell apart Thursday night after the revelation that his interior minister was an ally of Fidel Castro and had smuggled a copy of Che Guevara's captured diary to Cuba.

The Social Democratic party quit the four-party government coalition earlier in the day, withdrawing its four members of the Cabinet. The other 12 Cabinet members submitted their resignations.

Military leaders met in an atmosphere of crisis as unrest mounted around Barrientos, the former commander of the air force. A senator was arrested.

The pesident told newsmen rumors of a coup were unfounded.

He said he expected the armed forces to remain loyal to him "except if special circumstances intervene." He did not explain this cryptic remark.

The president's troubles started when the Castro government published the diary which Ernesto "Che" Guevara kept during his abortive guerrilla campaign in Boivia last year. The Bolivian government seized the dairy after its troops killed the Cuban guerrilla leader and planned to sell it to foreign publishers, but Castro gave it to selected foreign publishers free, killing the sale for the Bolivians.

An army investigation revealed that Interior Minister Antonio Arguedas had slipped the diary out to Castro, and Arguedas and his brother fled to Chile. Granted asylum there Wednesday night, the former minister told a news conference he was a Marxist humanist and an admirer of Castro.

Algeria May 'Soon' Free Women, Kids

ALGIERS (UPI) — Algeria may "soon" release the women and children among 24 Israelis taken prisoner Tuesday off a hijacked El Al jetliner, well informed Algerian sources said Thursday.

The release would be the first break in a growing crisis between the two nations technically at war. There were reportedly four or five women, two children and two teenagers among the 10 crew members and 14 passengers in custody.

Faces Hearing Tonight on Abuse Charge

A 36-year-old Ellenville man was arrested by State Police last night on cnarges of sexually abusing an eight-year-old girl.

Harry Hill, of Oak Ridge Road, Ellenville, was arrested at his home by Troopers from the Ellenville barracks after they had received a complaint that the man had allegedly abused the young girl.

Hill issued a statement at the time of his arrest and then was arraigned before Town of Wawarsing Justice Frank Spada. He was remanded to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bail pending his preliminary hearing before Spada tonight at 8:30 p. m. in Ellenville.

State Police did not reveal the identity of the girl, or the time and place that the alleged crime took place.

Wawarsing Vacancies To Be Filled

Two vacancies in the Town of Wawarsing governmental body will have to be filled permanently at the general election in November.

The town justice slot, temporarily filled by attorney Frank Spada,was vacated upon the resignation of Herbert Poppel.

The town superintendent of highways was vacated because of the death of Harry Decker.

Clifton Marl was temporarily assigned to the position until the voters make their decision in November.

Kingston Man Remains Serious

Francis Peterson, 61, of 78 Downs Street remains in serious condition at Benedictine Hospital today as a result of injuries he sustained Wednesday night when the Texaco Service truck he was operating was sideswiped by a tractor-trailer truck on the Thruway, 14 miles north of the Kingston interchange.

Peterson has been placed in the intensive care ward at the hospital and is being treated for compound fractures of both legs. Surgeons performed a 6½ hour operation on the patient yesterday but expressed concern that one of the legs may have to be amputated.

Peterson had pulled off the side of the highway to aid a disabled car when the incident occurred. He was pinned between the tractor-trailer truck and the service truck as he was getting out of his vehicle. The driver of the tractor-trailer was issued a summons by State Police for changing lanes unsafely.

Peterson's wife was vacationing in Florida at the time of the incident. He had returned to work at the Malden Thruway station several days ago.

Woodstock Man Named Director

Alexander Chepeleff of Woodstock, controller of Data Processing Division, IBM, Kingston, has been named a director of the Albany Chapter of the Financial Executives Institute. He was vice president of the chapter in 1964.

The institute has 56 chapters and about 6,500 members in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada.

The Albany chapter covers Northeastern New York and Vermont.

Chepeloff joined IBM's Endicott plant in 1942. He is a native of Olyphant, Pa., a graduate of Syracuse University and took advanced work at Columbia University.

He taught accounting at Triple Cities College for three and one-half years and also taught at the IBM School.

Meeting, Tour

The regular monthly meeting of the Rhinebeck Historical Society will be combined with a tour of "Clermont" the historic site and home, located north of Tivoli, on Saturday, at 2 p. m.

Information concerning the project of the society for the Dutchess County Fair will be presented at this meeting. All members are urged to attend.

Miss Rhinebeck Title Goes to Ellen Graffam

A petite blue-eyed brunette won the Miss Rhinebeck title last night in a beauty, personality and poise competition held at Foster's Coach House Tavern.

Miss Ellen Graffam, 17, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Graffam, 22 Livingston Street, Rhinebeck, won out of a field of 15 originally entered in the contest.

The two runners-up were Joanne Keirnan and Betty Kane, according to Robert Kirwood, contest chairman for the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored annual event.

Miss Graffam, next to the oldest in a family of nine children, will enter her senior year at Rhinebeck High School next year. Her hobby is painting.

Her entry into the contest was a first for the young girl who will now seek the Miss Dutchess County title at the Dutchess County Fair in August. Last year's Miss Dutchess County was also a resident of Rhinebeck.

Contest judges included Robert Marvin, Mandeville Frost, Vicki Forbes and John Brady.

The winner of the Miss Dutchess County title will compete for the Miss New York State honors.

Clean Air Group Watches Film

About 16 persons attended last night's meeting of the Ulster County Citizens for Clean Air meeting at the County Office Building.

A film was shown concerning polluted air and a planning committee met to determine new programs of action in the future.

The group, which was organized last year, has been responsible for obtaining public hearings at Albany where this area's alleged polluters have been called to testify. In several instances the action resulted in the institution of abatement procedure orders.

Killed by Train

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A suburban town of Tonawanda woman has been killed, apparently by a freight train, as she walked near her home before dawn.

Police said the body of Mrs. Lotti G. Krafzick, 59, was found next to the Erie-Lackawanna tracks early Thursday.

She lived at 291 Cleveland Drive.

Gannett Dividend

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Directors of Gannett Co. Inc. have declared a quarterly dividend of 16¼ cents a share of common stock, payable Oct. 1 to shareholders of record Sept. 16.

The company announced the divident Thursday.

New Paltz Dems Support Slate For Humphrey

The 14 active New Paltz Democratic committeemen have issued a statement this week in support of the slate of delegates committed to Vice President Hubert Humphrey for president.

In defining their position, the committeemen said they support Joseph Y. Resnick, Thomas Quinn and Roy Guarino as delegates to the national convention.

"We do so because Vice President Humphrey has a long and impressive list of accomplishments. The vice president has been a creative liberal who has fought for civil rights, Medicare, education, urban improvements, young people and the elimination of poverty."

The statement reads further that the committeemen support Humphrey as individuals, but as committeemen they will support campaign and work for the candidate nominated at the national convention.

Mention is also made of another Democratic contender, Sen. Eugen McCarthy, of whom they say, "Sen. McCarthy does show a good voting record, and he has attracted some intelligent, aggressive political novices whose participation in politics is encouraging."

The 14 whose names appear on the statement are: Eric Winkky, Lillian Schreiber, Harriet Allen Kerr, Frederick L. Brough, W. R. Jansen, John Shand, James E. McLaughlin, Edna L. Branigan, Jedd S. Reisner, John M. Logan, Frank J. Donahue, Sylvester Bruno, Hal King and Mildred Haig. There are two committee vacancies.

Annual Bazaar

Glenford Engine Company No. 4 is holding its annual Bazaar Aug. 2 starting at 6 p. m. and Aug. 3 starting at noon. The bazaar will be at the firehouse, Ohayo Mountain Road, Glenford. There will be games, food, hot and cold drinks, pony rides for children on Saturday, and displays. Chairman of the event this year is Joseph Le Clerc. Those serving on the committee are: Bill May, Robert Scully, Mrs. William Grey, Mrs. Robert Boice, Mrs. Lewis DeGraff and Mrs. Keith Ogden.

Miss Frances Eaton Preston

Miss Frances Eaton Preston, 82, died in this city Thursday. Graveside services will be held in Wiltwyck Cemetery Monday 2 p. m. There will be no calling hours. Miss Preston's life work was in recreational and library work with boys in New York City. She served eight years on the staff of Grace Episcopal Church, Broadway and Front Street where she was introduced to settlement work in Grace Chapel on the Lower East Side working with Italian boys. In 1926 she joined the staff of E. H. Harriman's Boys Club of New York City where she served for 30 years retiring in 1956 coming in contact with thousands of boys of all ages and nationalities. She was a member of the Library committee of the Boys Clubs of America. She substituted during summer months as children's librarian in the New York Public Library, alternating with playground work and summer camp counseling for other organizations in the city. Before going to New York she was associated with the Choristers' School of the church of the Messiah at Rhinebeck. Surviving are two cousins, Mrs. Eloise Preston Lovatt and Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck, both of Kingston.

Ellenville UR Demolition Meets Snarl

The last big demolition job under the Village of Ellenville urban renewal project has met a snarl. Only one bid was received for the razing of the Masonic Hall on Canal Street. At least two bids had to be received to meet minimum requirements.

The Stachnik Lumber and Wrecking Co. Inc. of Phillipsburg, N. J. bid $43,000 for the project but, because of the requirements set by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the bid could not be presently accepted.

Ellenville Urban Renewal Director John O'Conner contacted HUD in New York City and learned that it was possible for the department to change its rules, a process that could take from six to eight weeks "or longer," according to O'Conner.

The Ellenville agency will, in the meantime, advertise for further bidding.

Demolition on the project is, apparently, a difficult assignment because the Masonic Hall rests between two other buildings, a pharmacy and a bakery.

Because of this, much of the work has to be done "by hand," said O'Conner.

Advertisements for bids had gone out two weeks prior to the July 22 opening. Also, 30 invitations had been sent to firms already known to the local agency.

Only four inquires had been received by the Ellenville department, along with the single bid.

The large structure is 56 feet high.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. John (Josephine) Liccardo, who departed this life 28 years ago today, July 26, 1940.
It is only a grave, but still needs care,
For the one we love, is sleeping there.
Some may forget her, now that she is gone,
But we will remember no matter how long.
We miss her, when we need a friend,
On her we always could depend.
She cheered us in sickness and soothed our pain,
God grant some day we'll meet her again.

DANIEL SMILEY

Mohonk Owner Takes Part in Audubon Fete

Daniel Smiley, owner and operator of the Lake Mohonk Mountain House in New Paltz, is participating in the Sharon (Conn.) Audubon Center Festival today, Saturday and Sunday.

Smiley is a member of the board of governors and the executive committee of the nature conservancy. He is on the Ecological Committee of the national organization and is on the Natural Areas Committee of the Eastern New York Chapter.

In 1964 he was one of 10 nonprofessional conservationalists selected to win the American Motors award for dedicated work in the field of renewable natural resources. He is on the conservation committees of both the Appalachian Mountain and the Adirondack Mountain Clubs. As chairman of the Research and Records Committee of the John Burroughs Natural History Society he has authored and co-authored many articles and pamphlets. He is active in the development of the Mid-Hudson - Catskill Museum as vice-chairman for sciences, as well as an expert nature photographer.

Press Workers Back

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Employes o fthe Williams Press in nearby Menands have returned to their jobs, and the company has withdrawn court action against their union.

An attorney for the printing company said Thursday all differences have been resolved in the month-long dispute with 400 pressmen represented by Local 28 of the Printers and Pressmen's Union.

Williams prints several magazines, including the Eastern edition of Time.

The dispute arose over the firing of two employes.

Utility Preferreds Produce High Yields

Q — I have considerable stock, but because I am to retire shortly I have been switching to income issues. One company I would like to know about is Allegheny & Western. Is this good for income? — H.S.

A — Yes, the $6 annual dividend is guaranteed under a contract in perpetuity, originally drawn up in 1899. Allegheny leases 68.5 miles of connecting track to Baltimore & Ohio, which is in turn 90 per cent owned by Chesapeake & Ohio. A merger is pending between the latter rail and Norfolk & Western.

Because Allegheny's capitalization is limited, transactions with shares are infrequent, and the spread between bid and ask prices is wide. Unless shares can be bought at a price yielding over 6 per cent. I would not recommend purchase.

Recently there have been signs that market interest may be swinging back to the utilities. For that reason I feel that you would be well advised to consider any of the preferred issues of Phila. Elec. Each of the four classes yields 6 per cent or slightly better and is a high - grade holding.

Q — Enclosed is a list of our 9 - year - old daughter's holdings. With the $300 we have now, should we continue to diversify or concentrate on a single issue? — S.H.

A — Although your daughter has 10 separate holdings, four are in health care and four are in utilities and related fields. Thus, although you have a large number of companies to follow, you have not achieved the diversity she needs. In order to minimize her risk in these two principal areas, I would suggest sale of Amer. Cyanamid and Cons. Edison.

With available funds you could add to any one of her other holdings and or spread out into another industry. At this time, I feel that the defensive characteristics of the food packagers make them attractive. In particular, I like Kellogg Co. with an annual record of earnings improvement stretching back 16 years.

'Misnomer' Says Legion On Viet Talks

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The United States should cease "further accomodations of North Vietnam in current and future negotiations," the State American Legion said in labeling the Paris peace discussions "a misnomer."

A resolution adopted Thursday by more than 2,000 delegates to the organization's 50th annual state convention charged that no gains have been made in Paris but that the loss in human lives in Vietnam "remained appalling."

The three-day convention ends Saturday.

Another resolution called on this country "to take whatever action is necessary, including military force, to free the U.S.S. Pueblo and her crew."

The intelligence ship was seized by North Korea in January.

The resolution concerning the Pueblo said reliance upon diplomatic means alone represents "a sign of weakness and admission of guilt."

The organization also urged "vigorous enforcement in prosecution of our laws and the qual punishment of those who violate them so that law and order can once again flourish throughout our cities, state and nation."

Saugerties Board Plans 6-Month Report

Arrangements for submitting a complete six months report embracing all departments of town government was discussed Thursday night at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board.

Supervisor A. Michael Schovel said it was agreed that all departments submit a six months report and these would be studied by the Town Board and prepared in one complete report of town operation.

The Saugerties supervisor said the Town Board is preparing to set a public hearing date for the proposed adoption of the State Building Code. The public hearing date will be set at the Thursday meeting of the Town Board.

A public hearing date will also be set on the modification and amendments of the town's trailer ordinance.

Deadlock Voting For Demo. Candidate

The Committee, including representatives from Ulster, Dutchess, Greene, Columbia and Schoharie Counties, met Thursday night in the Community Room of the New Paltz Savings Bank to hear Peter Kane Dufault, Liberal candidate for Congress give his views in the current campaign and solicit endorsement of his candidacy. Following Dufault's speech, a motion from the floor that the committee vote immediately on officially endorsing one of the four area candidates (instead of waiting until after the Democratic National Convention to do so) ended in a tie.

There was some feeling among members that John Dyson, Democratic Congressional candidate, should be given the opportunity of presenting his views before the group before an official endorsement is made by the McCarthy-O'Dwyer organization. Dyson will be invited to speak at the next meeting of the committee in Saugerties on Aug. 8. No plans were made to hear Republican Hamilton Fish or Conservative Gordon Liddy.

The Concerned Citizens group is a newly formed organization which had its nucleus in the five-county organization in the 28th District that supported the election of McCarthy pledged delegates to the Democratic National Convention in the N. Y. State Primary in June.

The fact that McCarthy delegates polled almost 5,000 votes at that time, and that the combined anti-administration vote in his district in the two counties of Ulster and Dutchess alone exceeded the votes given to the elected delegates pledged to Hubert Humphrey in all five counties, led to the formation of the group. In the months ahead, the committee will work "to support the ideals of a representative democracy as typified by the stands on issues shown by Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Paul O'Dwyer."

In his speech last night, Liberal candidate Dufault said he seeks election "because Democrat Dyson vs. Republican Hamilton Fish looks just like Johnson (or Humphrey) vs. Nixon in miniature."

Dufault contended that the two top runners would "rather be congressmen than candid; that nobody knows what Fish thinks, if he thinks anything; and that Dyson won't tell us if he prefers McCarthy or Humphrey or take a stand on the war." He also suggested that Dyson has been to Congressman Joseph Resnick what Hubert Humphrey has been to Lyndon Johnson, a fact that "makes him guilty of a kind of party loyalty that has become a symbol of international moral cretinism."

"Editorial of the Air"

February 27, 1968

How many remember that ten cent hamburger? Wasn't it a taste delight? And that nickel glass of milk? They were real American gems. Now a hamburger in many diners in our area costs forty cents. A glass of milk no bigger and no tastier than that nickel glass now costs either fifteen or twenty cents. How many recall that nickel coke we used to buy? Now the stores don't even have that nickel glass anymore. What's happening to us—when the very basic bits of Americana take more to buy than our weekly allowance was as a youngster? It's sad. Look at the cost of a quart of milk or a loaf of bread. We truly believe labor costs have done it for these two items.

We think the pay-off is in the U. S. mail costs today. Who remembers a penny post card — stamp and card all in one? Who remembers that three cent first class postage? Now — think of it — a letter has doubled — totally doubled — to six cents. These outrageous charges are not because of the load put on the Post Office Department by the public or businesses in sending out first class mail. These armed bandit rates are because of the practically free ride given to junk mail. Last week we received six pieces in our mail box of the same identical junk mail. The duplications caused by misspelling of the name. wrong initials, one piece had the last name with no initials and no first name a

So it went.

Take a look in the wastebaskets of the Post Office next time there — see how much junk mail gets piled up there. Ask the postmen how big their load would be if half the junk mail was cut out, and how big it would be if those sending it didn't have a 50% cut, or thereabouts in mailing rates.

What makes it so bad is that there are mail list companies who are paid for the use of their lists. When people move to another address or out of town that list is seldom brought up to date correctly and so tons of it are totally wasted.

Typical Suburban Living

Today's feature is a suburban type ranch home providing all the facilities essential to formal living without traffic confusion, as each member pursues his or her activities. The designer exceeded the bounds of common interest in the proper placement of rooms in a sequence that creates a blending while still providing the proper amount of separation. A good example of this happy medium is provided in this week's home design feature of "The Toddy."

The designers not only accomplished their purpose, but added many delightful touches to enhance the natural charm. Any room is easily accessible from any given point without awkward detours. The thru passage hall, while essentially a part of the sleeping area, is the main traffic artery of the house, particularly taking the burden off the living room. Any homemaker will call this a blessing, for the living room is where she lavishes her tender care, and in "The Toddy" her efforts will not go unrewarded.

The dining room is an extension of the living room, for formal or informal use. The kitchen is of good proportions with equipment arranged to save steps, and shows a blank wall for the kitchen table if desired. The master bedroom, situated at the front, is serviced by a private lavatory with shower.

The exterior of this pretty house makes use of wood shingles, stone and vertical siding. All the doors and windows are lumber yard stock items. There are 1,300 square feet of living area, plus 320 square feet for the two porches and one-car garage. Plans show sections for construction of wood, stone, brick or block. Complete working blueprints are available at moderate cost by using the accompanying coupon.

Getting Tough Seeds to Sprout

Readers have asked me why it is that their radish, carrot, beet and other seed "never did a thing" after it was sowed in the ground. Don't blame it on the seedsman because chances are he sold you good seed. He wouldn't stay in business long if he sold bad seed. Then why didn't the seed sprout? I'll list several reasons:

(1) Deep sowing. Some seed has small pushing up power, and it rots before it can germinate.

(2) Drying out. If seed starts to sprout, then dries out, it may die before it can push up through the soil.

(3) Hard, clay soil on top of the seed. Rains or irrigation water may cause soil to pack on, cake, making it difficult for seed to penetrate. Covering with peatmoss, rotted compost or other organic material will prevent this. Covering "difficult" seed with a board after sowing is a good trick. It prevents drying out, prevents soil from caking and hastens germination.

(4) Over-treated seed. Some home gardeners treat seed in hot water, kerosene, and various chemicals. These may reduce the viability of the seed and cause poor germination.

Italian Eggplant Recipe

Here's a good one to keep in mind, if you like eggplant. Peel and slice one large eggplant. Cover with water, bring to a boil and drain. Dip slices in bread crumbs, arrange alternately with spaghetti sauce, in casserole. Cover with Mozzarella cheese slice and bake in moderate oven until eggplant is tender, and cheese is melted.

More people must "discover" eggplant! Properly cooked, it's one of the best vegetables you can put on your table. FREE: Send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my bulletin, How to Grow and Cook Eggplant. My guide is packed full of recipes sent me by French, Lebanese, Italian and American cooks. You should have a copy!

Petunias Again

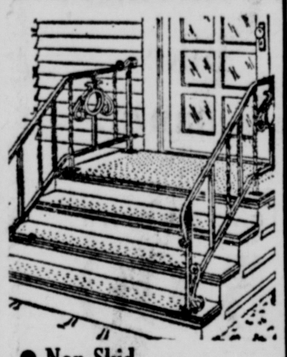

If petunias have turned yellow, it may be due to too much water, poor drainage or fertilizer burn. A pale color could mean a lack of nitrogen, but do not apply it if you've already fed the plants heavily. Holes in leaves means snail injury. Scatter some metaldehyde baits near the base of the plants. Or dust some coal and wood ashes in the area.

Verdi based his opera, "La Traviata," on "Camille" by Alexander Dumas the Younger.

New Paltz Doctor On Planning Board

The New Paltz representative to the Ulster County Planning Board is Dr. David Menches, according to New Paltz Supervisor Anthony Moriello.

The planning board is responsible for the overall supervision of planning and development of projects which involve the entire county or whenever local town planning efforts affect adjacent townships.

Dr. Menches arrived in New Paltz five years ago after serving as an officer in the U.S. Air Force.

Prior to his military service, he attended undergraduate schools at Cornell University and the University of Buffalo, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree.

After graduating from the University of Buffalo School of Medicine, Dr. Menches completed his training in Detroit, Mich.

The medical doctor has been in private practice as a partner of Medical Associates of New Paltz and during this time has been actively engaged in the planning and growth of the New Paltz Medical Center.

He is a member of the American Academy of General Practice, the Ulster County Medical Society, the New York State Medical Society, the American Medical Association, and has served on the staffs of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospital.

Dr. Menches resides in New Paltz with his wife, Elizabeth and their three sons.

The Mood In Dixie Country

ATLANTA (UPI)—Southern delegates to the Republican National Convention sit staunchly around the campfire of Richard M. Nixon. But looking ahead to November, they can't escape the shadow of George Wallace.

The deep South belongs to Nixon at the Miami Beach convention. As things now stand, he is expected to get all but 40 to 45 of the 236 votes from nine states—Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Even more may have swung over to the former vice president by convention time.

Look Beyond

But many southern GOP leaders are looking beyond the convention—at the swath they fear Wallace will cut through their area in November.

Nixon has won the hearts of southern Republican stalwarts chiefly for two reasons: He was off and running for the nomination long ago; he never has hesitated to work hard and long for local candidates in Dixie.

On purely ideological grounds, many probably would have preferred Ronald Reagan. But his coy attitude about the race cost him heavily in the South. Nelson A. Rockefeller can muster roughly two delegates votes from the entire South.

Republicans are generally convinced they could carry Dixie in November if it were not for Wallace. But they expect Wallace to carry several states and make deep inroads into the Republican turnout in others.

The only southerner with any avowed hope of getting on the GOP ticket is Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida, who has made frantic gestures in virtually every direction in hopes of a vice presidential bid. But Kirk goes into the convention lacking even a favorite son designation by his delegation.

Nixon appeared to have cornered 25 of Florida's 34 delegates when Kirk announced that although Nixon was a "great pal" and Reagan had him "all excited," he was Rockefeller. Rockefeller has one delegate in Florida.

Nixon appears to be weaker in Alabama than any other southern state. GOP chairman Alfred Goldthwaite says the delegation is about evenly divided between Nixon and Reagan.

But come November, if there is anything sure, it is that Wallace will carry Alabama.

Nixon appears to have Mississippi and Tennessee locked up. Tennessee went Democratic in 1964, despite the South's trend toward Barry M. Goldwater. But political leaders in the state seem to agree that had the election been held immediately after Wallace's recent swing through Tennessee, he would have carried the state.

Not Too Popular

Now, they feel, he will not be particiularly popular by November. And most political sources seem to agree that Wallace will not be taking any more votes from the GOP then he will from the Democrats.

Georgia delegates are overwhelmingly committed to Nixon. Reagan's few supporters are squabbling among themselves over who the California governor likes the most.

Nixon also apparently has South Carolina locked up.

South Carolina Republicans, like others in the South, are considerably more worried about George Wallace than Hubert Humphrey.

North Carolina Republicans currently are solidly behind Nixon. The party leader is Rep. Jim Gardner, a young phenomenon running for governor at the age of 34. Gardner was reported committed to Nixon.

Nixon had all but three of Virginia's 24 delegates—and observers felt he has a good chance of carrying the state in November.

Louisiana's 26 delegates are officially uncommitted, but Nixon is expected to get 19 convention votes on the first ballot. David Treen, chairman of the delegation, is expected to swing the state's other 7 votes to Reagan.

Michigan Senator a Backbencher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Robert Griffin is once again challenging the Republican establishment in Congress and win or lose, he will likely emerge with new lustre.

The effort also may increase the Michigan Republican chances of securing a rung on the GOP leadership ladder.

Griffin at present is a backbencher in Republican Senate ranks (literally, as well as figuratively; he occupies a back row seat).

But after serving less than two years in the Senate, he is doing battle on a historic issue with Republican Leader Everett Mckinley Dirksen of Illinois.

The issue: The confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice and of Homer Thornberry as Fortas' replacement as an associate justice.

Dirksen is the GOP patriarch whose close friendship with President Johnson has irked many Republicans in the past.

He immediately supported Johnson's court nominees, even though Griffin had gotten the signatures of 19 Republican senators on a statement in opposition.

Half Back Griffin

With only 36 Republicans in the Senate, more than half had sided with Griffin against their chosen leader.

Probably even more irksome to Dirksen was one of their chief objections—that the nominations were made on the basis of friendship and "cronyism." Dirksen and the President are also cronies.

Griffin took his case against Fortas and Thornberry to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Dirksen performance delighted the audience; but it was received with somewhat less enjoyment by Griffin and his 18 cosigners.

"Dirksen hurt himself, trying to make Griffin look foolish," said one GOP lawmaker. "I think he's sorry he did it."

ISSUE WARNING — Members of the County Sheriff's Office marine patrol Albert Hobush (L) and Sid North, caution a passing yachtsman (upper left) about raising too high swells which could be hazardous to other craft on Rondout Creek. The Sheriff's Department vessel is used in rescue operations, aiding swimmers and water ski enthusiasts and also locates missing or stolen boats. The patrol operates during the summer months.

Report on Hunger In U.S. Critical Of Early Inquiry Board Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunger in the United States is mainly a health problem that cannot be solved by simply putting more food in undernourished or empty bellies, says a new report.

The report, circulating among influential medical people, public officials and researchers, is highly critical of a study by the Citizens Board of Inquiry earlier this year.

The citizens board's findings that thousands of people are starving in the United States were based on factual error, lack of knowledge and too much emotion, says the new report.

The report is entitled "Hunger USA—A Critical Review."

The author is Dr. Herbert Pollack, a staff member of the Institute for Defense Analyses, a private corporation which handles a variety of research projects for the Pentagon.

Not Endorsed

The IDA said the Pollack report was his own and is not endorsed by the organization. It was published by IDA, a spokesman said, "as a courtesy" to Pollack, who was described as "a widely recognized authority in the medical profession."

The published findings of the Citizens Board of Inquiry have weighed heavily in efforts for expanded food programs.

"It is unfortunate that a report of this importance should contain so many factual errors and manifest a lack of basic knowledge of nutrition," Pollack said.

"It must be considered more of a political polemic than a scientific treatise. It seems to stir up action based on an emotional appeal," he added. "As a scientific document it fails to supply the necessary information to direct the energies of the responsible people into the proper channels of corrective measures."

An example, Pollack said, is a hunger report statement that nutritional anemia stemming primarily from protein and iron deficiencies was commonly found in 30 to 70 per cent of the children from poverty backgrounds.

"The report does not, at this point, mention that over 50 per cent of these children were found to have intestinal parasites which may well be the cause of the anemias," he said.

"Another well-known cause of childhood anemia is over use of milk. The bulk of the evidence is that this is an iron deficiency anemia and not a protein deficiency. It was correctible by the addition of iron to the diet," he added.

Accounts of poor people existing on diets of blackeye peas, grits, flour, fatback, potatoes and beans also were cited by Pollack.

"Blackeye peas are excellent sources of protein as are beans," he said. "The potatoes are good sources of Vitamin C and calories, and the fatback is a good source of calories and protects the greens during the cooking process.

"The monotony of eating is frequently by choice," he said. "People do not like to eat strange foods."

Variety of Causes

Anemia, Pollack said, is a symtom of "a variety of causes," including chronic bleeding, intestinal parasites, iron deficiency, protein deficiency, inherent bone-marrow diseases and many others.

MRS. PAUL KENIK

Miss Caryn Pollack Weds Paul Kenik

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Miss Caryn Martel Pollack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Pollack of Kingston, to Paul Kenik, son of Mrs. Sylvia Levy of Manhattan and the late Samuel Kenik.

The traditional double ring wedding ceremony took place at Pinegrove Hotel, Kerhonkson. Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport and Cantor H. Slomovitz officiated. Vocal selections were sung by Nelson Finkelman of East Meadow, L. I., uncle of the bride.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white imported silk-faced peau de soie gown. The empire A-line gown was appliqued with re-embroidered Alecon lace and seed pearls. The long lace sleeves had ruffled cuffs and the chapel length train was detachable. The matching headpiece was a camelot cap veiled in cathedral length English silk illusion. The bride carried her mother's white Bible. It was covered with orchids surrounded by cascades of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Susan Golden of New Rochelle and Miss Robin Ann Pollack of Kingston, sisters of the bride, served as matron and maid of honor, respectively. The bride's youngset sister, Miss Lisa Melanie Pollack, served as a junior attendant. All three were gowned in sky blue saki sleeveless cage dresses, accented at the necklines with tiny rows of lace. Their headpieces were French maline picture hats accented with large tulle bows and streamers. They carried colonial bouquets of tinted blue carnations with white roses.

Attendants were Miss Louise Sorgen, Miss Joan Murphy, Miss Beverly Sklon, Miss Alice Valentine, Mrs. Judy Robins, and Mrs. Susan Schor. Their gowns were fashioned identically to those worn by the honor attendants except in pistachio green. They carried colonial bouquets of tinted green carnations.

Robert Golden, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Jay Kenik, brother of the groom, escorted the latter down the aisle. Ushers were Saul Basch, Steve Holzman, Joseph Cohen, Lenny Robins, Richard Schor and Bill Presser.

Miss Amy Finkelman, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a short sky blue dress styled similarly to those worn by the attendants. She carried a white basket filled with blue and green rose petals.

Jonathon Marc Pollack, Brother of the bride, and Scott Alan Golden, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearers.

A reception for 165 guests was held after the wedding ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenik are graduates of Kingston High School. Both are now in their senior year of study at State University College at New Paltz.

Columnist Says Women Searching for Youth Should Take More Interest in the World

By JOAN SWEENEY

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (UPI)—A woman searching for the fountain of youth should stop looking for it in cosmetic jars and instead should take a greater interest in the world around her.

So says Betty Scripps, the beautiful and vivacious newspaper columnist.

"Nothing ages a woman faster than boredom," says Mrs. Scripps, herself a lovely blonde who appears, even though she was a teen - age bride, far too young to be a mother of two grown sons.

In addition to her syndicated newspaper column, Betty Scripps has just written a book entitled "Both Sexes Should Know," a collection of beauty tips and fashion news from various countries as well as a peek at the Beautiful People and some of their playgrounds.

Mrs. Scripps believes a woman will do more toward staying young by involving herself in stimulating or worthwhile activities and by exercising, eating and sleeping properly than she will be relying solely on expensive creams.

"Once a woman passes the age of 30, it's almost mandatory that she have some interest outside of the home if she wants to continue to look young," whether it's a job, church activities, club work or charities, she said at her home in this San Francisco suburb.

"In the United States, there is too much advertising about creams, makeups and beauty preparations," she added. "Basically a woman, if she just uses soap and water and maybe a moisturizer, plus correct diet and sleep, would probably achieve more in the way of beautiful skin.

"You have to exercise, to be outdoors, eat the right foods; fresh fruits and vegetables and proteins. You have to watch this side of your life. You can't just be completely lax. You can't say four jars of cream is going to do it for me. You can't sit in the house and eat gooey stuff and think you'll be beautiful."

Betty practices what she preaches as far as outside interests go. Listen to the schedule: There is the column, which runs six times a month. Her book took her five years altogether to write. And there are demands of her home and family. Also, she works out at a gym three times a week, takes French lessons, is on the executive committee of the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco and is a member of other volunteer organizations.

"My husband says I'm too organized," she smiled.

She credits the secret of her organization to a little red diary in which she carefully lists what is planned for each day.

She started writing her column "World Fashions," nearly four years ago, she said, out of self defense. She found that her husband, who is president of the Scripps League group of newspapers, and her sons, who started working on the newspapers while still in school, were engrossed in "newspaper talk." She decided that if she were going to enter into the conversation she would have to do something in the newspaper field. One son is now the publisher of a newspaper at Taft, Calif., and the second is a student at the University of Arizona.

She travels extensively and most of the ideas for her column come from her travels. She has come to the conclusion that American women are the most beautiful in the world.

"There's only one point we have to give to the foreign women," she said. "Because of the independence of the American woman she can tend to become overbearing and domineering. This we have to watch. We have to be a little more subtle about our attitude."

Mrs. Scripps said that one of the most charming women she ever met was an American—the Duchess of Windsor: "She has the knack of knowing how to dress beautifully, maintains her figure, is vivacious, interesting, and it is very easy to see how she was able to capture the heart of the Duke. She epitomizes femininity, charm and womanhood.

Betty defines charm as "a warmth, an outward sweetness, interest in other people, interest in listening to what they have to say, encouraging conversation in other persons ... charm certainly is not being cold and distinterested."

Hints from Heloise

Dear Folks:

My family loves pineapple upside-down cake. It takes me a little longer to make them, but they sure look pretty with the pineapple rings and delicious goo on top.

It used to break my heart, however, to see the icing crumble and stick when it was cut after it cooled. So last week I held a knife under the hot water faucet a few seconds and then cut that beautiful cake.

By gum, that hot, wet knife cut through the sticky icing like hot butter. No crumbling, sticking or chunks.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

When my old vinyl-covered TV pillows tore out at the seams beyond repair, I cut them apart with pinking shears and made bookmarks and covers, ash tray and vase coasters to protect table tops.

The larger pieces I used for placemats or decorative table mats as well as for lining by silverware drawers.

Mrs. James Hood

Dear Heloise:

I sew a strip of elastic to the overalls when I make or buy shoulder straps of my children's them.

Gives a couple of more inches for growth before I have to piece 'em or change the buttons.

Dear Heloise:

Outdoor playpens for the older baby can be fun if the wooden botton of the pen is removed and small wheels installed on the four corner posts.

He can push it around on the lawn when you are there to watch him. He may bump into some of Mama's pet flowers, but at least he will be occupied and happier!

Congress of Strings Concert Tonight

Two contemporary works for unusual combinations of instruments will be performed when the Congress of Strings presents its second chamber concert of the season in the Filene Recital Hall, New Skidmore Campus, this evening at 8:30.

David Popper's Requiem for Three Celli and Piano and Kenneth Cook's Introduction and Rondino for String Bass Quartet are scheduled on the program together with the first movement from Robert Schumann's Piano Quintet, the Sonata for Violin and Piano by Aaron Copland and the String Quartet by Smetana.

Performers will be student members of the Congress of Strings, who were selected for their outstanding talent by regional competitions in all states east of the Mississippi River. The competitions were held by units of the American Federation of Musicians, and the winners have been brought to Saratoga under the joint sponsorship of the Saratoga Performing Arts Center and the Rockefeller Foundation. Admission to the concert is free.

BLIND DATES

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Many people think of blind dates as a last resort and dread the very idea of them. Others look forward to them as a great way of meeting new people. Here is a quiz to answer some of the questions I am most often asked. If you score well, you shouldn't have any trouble the next time your best friend suggests a blind date.

1. A girl who goes on many blind dates is sure to give the impression she can't get any other kind. True.. False..

2. It is a mistake to accept blind dates unless you actually know the person who is making the arrangements. True.. False..

3. There is a universal tendency to expect too much from blind dates. True.. False..

4. If a blind date doesn't call you back, this probably means he didn't like you. True.. False..

5. If you don't think much of your date when you first meet him you don't need to make much effort the rest of the evening. True.. False..

6. You have every right to be furious if the date your friend represented as being tall, handsome and super, turns out to be considerably less. True.. False..

7. If a blind date starts to take advantage of you by making a pass, or drinking too much, you have no remedy other than to grin and bear it. True.. False..

Here are the correct answers:

1. False. She is more apt to give the impression of being a friendly type who enjoys meeting people.

2. True. The dangerous blind date is the one that is arranged through unknown friends of friends.

3. True. You should go into them with the firm idea that they will probably be a "one shot" affair.

4. False. Not necessarily. Undoubtedly he, too, just wanted a companion for one evening.

5. False. Apart from common courtesy, you don't want him telling people what a dope you are.

6. False. Make a mental reservation not to trust his or her advance billings on future occasions, but keep your sense of humor and try to discover what he or she did see in this clown.

7. False. You should treat him just like any other date. Just because he hasn't met you previously is no excuse for poor behavior on his part.

MRS. ALBERT WILSON

Elaine Schwartz Weds Albert Wilson Here

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Miss Elaine Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moe Schwartz, 171 Washington Avenue, Kingston, to Albert Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson of Bristol, N. H.

Mrs. Raphael Warshaw of Pottstown, Pa., was matron of honor for her sister and James E. Gregg of Catskill served as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at The Hedges in West Park.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and State University at Cortland where she received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. She is a member of the teaching staff of Kingston Consolidated School System at Port Ewen School and served as head teacher. She did graduate work at State University at New Paltz and, under the sponsorship of Temple University Philadelphia, Pa., she studied comparative education in Europe, involving travel and study abroad.

Her husband is a member of the teaching staff at Onteora Central School. He is department chairman of pilot program for culturally deprived children. Wilson completed graduate work at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., where he received his Masters in Education and Elementary Administration. He served in the U. S. Air Force Technical Institute at Montgomery, Ala., as an education specialist and was liaison between military and civilian educational institutions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are on a year's leave from their respective schools. During that time they will reside in California where they will further their graduate studies.

Will Bid 'Shalom' To Rabbi Rappaport

Final plans for a buffet dinner dance to bid 'Shalom' to Rabbi and Mrs. H. Z. Rappaport who will leave this area Sept. 1, were made Monday, July 15, at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Weiner, 69 Washington Avenue, this city. The Rabbi has served Congregation Agudas Achim for more than 20 years.

The dinner dance has been scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 24, at 9 p.m. at Rhinebeck Country School on Foxhollow Farm, three miles south of the Village of Rhinebeck. It is part of an estate which was formerly the home of John Jacob Astor.

Tickets and reservations may be made by contacting: Mrs. Herman Schneider, 9 Grandview Avenue; Mrs. Irving Rudolph, 740 Lincoln Park Place; Mrs. Joel Pollack, 43 Virginia Drive, all of Kingston; or Mrs. Robert Selinger, 8 Austin Avenue, Simmons Park, Saugerties.

Other members of the committee include: Manny Lipton, Raphael Klein and David Popick, program; Mrs. Mike Weiner, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Trast, Mrs. Ted Weiner and Sheldon Levy, refreshments; Mrs. Max Salomon, Mrs. Saul Schecter and Mrs. Jack Sheinvold, publicity.

The public is invited to join with Congregation to honor the couple. For further information contact Mrs. Robert Selinger.

Swedes Visits U.S.; Consumer Project

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)--Whether a nation is eight million or 200 million in population, these populations represent consumers. And consumers, being purchasers, provide the outlets for the fraudulent trade practices, for over-pricing of the products sold the poor, for misleading labelling and advertising.

Two women from that nation of eight million, Sweden, are in the United States to study what this country of 200 million is doing to protect the consumer in pricing and quality of merchandise.

"We have no ghettos, but we do have families with less than others," is the way Mrs. Birgitta Rembe puts it. "And we do want to see what we can learn from you in helping them . . . and all consumers."

"I'm impressed by the way the consumer really is getting to be known, to be heard, in the United States," said Mrs. Lillemor Erlander.

"We don't have legislation on truth in labelling like you have just had enacted," she continued. "But we have a government-aided information labelling institute that regulates labels on everything from canned pizza and stews to canoes and tents. And we have the strongest legislation I know of on performance and safety of anything electrical. Every electrical product goes through a thorough government testing . . . you hardly ever heard of any accident from an electrical appliance."

Mrs. Erlander, daughter-in-law of Tage Erlander, Sweden's prime minister, is an economist with the Swedish Confederation of Trade Unions.

The women are rounding out a month in the United States that began with an international consumers' conference at Sarah Lawrence College.

SHRIMP STROGANOFF makes a wise hot-dish choice when serving a buffet meal. It is one of many exciting Slavic dishes which uses sour cream. Placed in a chafing dish over low heat, it will stay warm for hours. (Photo by International Shrimp Council).

Stroganoff...an Exciting Slavic Dish

Stroganoff is a buffet bonus on either side of the Iron Curtain. Developed by the Russians, stroganoff is one of the many exciting Slavic dishes—such as soup (borscht), pancakes (blini), and a variety of meat dishes—which use sour cream. The International Shrimp Council has adapted popular beef stroganoff for America's favorite shellfish, shrimp. Served in a chafing dish, Shrimp Stroganoff will stay warm for a late dinner or buffet. Called a "Zakuski," the buffet method of serving was also originated by the Russians. If you are looking for a way to entertain easily, have a "zakuski" and serve Shrimp Stroganoff.

SHRIMP STROGANOFF

- 1 lb. Shrimp, fresh or frozen, or (10 or 12 oz.) package frozen, peeled and deveined shrimp
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ lb. bacon (5-6 strips), diced
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1½ cups tomato juice
- ½ cup commercial sour cream

Hot cooked rice, Holland rusks, or toast points.

Clean shrimp if necessary. If frozen, thaw on a paper towel to absorb moisture. Cut large shrimp to bite-size. Rinse and drain. Place flour, salt and pepper in a clean bag. Add shrimp, and shake well thoroughly. (If preferred, you may now arrange them one layer deep, cover and refrigerate until serving time.) About 15 minutes before mealtime, place bacon in cook-and-serve type skillet and cook, stirring constantly, until brown and crisp. Remove bacon and drain on paper toweling. To fat in pan, add onion and shrimp. Cook over moderate heat two minutes; turn to brown second side, about two minutes more. Mix mustard with tomato juice and add to pan, stirring to blend. Cook 3-5 minutes more. Just before serving, remove from heat and stir in sour cream. Keep warm over lowest heat. Serve, garnished with bacon, over rice, rusks or toast. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If desired, bacon may be omitted. Use ⅓ cup oil to brown the shrimp and proceed as recipe directs.

Home-Fashions-Features

A winner—blueberry cream pie.

Blueberry Cream Pie

Whatever its history, Publick House Blueberry Cream Pie is a winner. At the famous white Sturbridge, Mass., inn, Dick Stone has been baker for 15 years. From the Stone family in Maine he was given the general idea for the pie and then he and Tom Fay, the Publick House supervisor, together worked out this luscious recipe.

For three years it has been delighting guests. Fay gave us a few reminders: please note only one-quarter of the berries are cooked, and these just barely. The other three-quarters of the berries are used raw. For crust, use your favorite prebaked pie shells. Just before serving, garnish liberally with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

Publick House
Blueberry Cream Pie

Pick over and wash 1 quart blueberries; drain. Make a smooth paste of the following ingredients:

- ¼ cup cold water
- 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- Pinch of salt

Bring to a boil:

- 1 cup blueberries
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup water

When boiling, add the flour paste and stir until it thickens. Remove from stove and cool. When cool, add the remaining 3 cups of raw blueberries and put into 10-inch baked pie shell. Refrigerate. When cold, garnish with sweetened whipped cream.

'Peachy' Lamb Meal

Fresh peaches enhance lamb chops.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Lamb chops, fresh peaches filled with chutney, and slightly green bananas broiled together produce a different and very delicious main dish.

Peaches are in full season now. Incidentally, most of them come from Georgia and South Carolina, known as "Peachland, U.S.A."

PEACHY BROILER MEAL

- 4 lamb chops, about 1-inch thick
- 4 medium-sized firm or slightly green-tipped bananas
- 4 firm peaches, peeled, halved and pitted
- ⅓ cup chutney
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1½ teaspoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cut fat edges of chops at 1-inch intervals. Arrange lamb chops, bananas and peaches (cut side up) on broiler rack. Spoon chutney into peach centers. Mix together butter or margarine, sugar and lemon juice. Brush fruit with butter mixture. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat about 8 minutes. Turn chops and bananas. Brush bananas with butter mixture. Remove peach halves (keep warm). Continue broiling chops and bananas until bananas are fork-tender and chops are desired degree of doneness, about 6 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Four servings.

Japanese Students At Paltz Seminar

A special four-week seminar for 38 visiting Japanese students is being held at State University College, New Paltz, this month to teach the English language and American culture.

This is the second group of foreign visitors reported on the New Paltz campus this summer. The College earlier announced that 15 African women leaders from the Ivory Coast are attending a five-week training course at the College under the sponsorship of the African-American Institute.

The seminar for the Japanese is sponsored by the Committee on International Education Exchange of New York City and is financed by the students and interested foundations. Those attending the seminar are undergraduate or graduate students in Universities throughout Japan.

After they leave New Paltz, the students will live with American families for a month before returning to their homes.

While at New Paltz they will take field trips to places of interest including IBM plants in Poughkeepsie and Fishkill, the resorts at Mohonk and Minnewaska, the Roosevelt and Vanderbilt estates and New York City art galleries.

Among those hosting the students were New Paltz residents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Guttman, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Silverman, and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Polatsek.

46th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Short Sr. of 83 Greenkill Avenue, Kingston, celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary Friday, July 19, with a party at their home.

Those attending were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Keizer; their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Short Jr.; Mrs. Short's sisdaughter Camilla; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Organtini and daughter Dawn; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shuman and family; and Mrs. Patricia Gallagher.

Briton Plans 'Super' Sale Of Antiques

BENNIE GRAY'S IDEAS about selling antiques prove as profuse as the curls on his head. His two London "antique supermarkets" seldom have less than $3 million in stock on the premises at a time. Cashing in on the antique boom, Gray plans to move to Manhattan, where residents are not strangers to antiques or new merchandising schemes.

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA European Staff

LONDON — (NEA) — The American housewife may soon shop for antiques at her local supermarket the way she now buys a package of frozen peas, if an ambitious young Briton has his way.

He is 32-year-old Bennie Gray, who owns two antique supermarkets here in London and who is planning to open a third soon in Manhattan. Gray, who has just returned from a business trip to New York, is convinced that America is ripe for his idea.

"Now all I've got to do is to persuade about a hundred Manhattan antique dealers to rent stalls under the same roof, and I will be in business," he says optimistically. Apparently this is not so simple, as antique dealers are prickly fellows, and inclined to eye each other suspiciously.

Still Gray has had spectacular success in corralling dealers together here, opening his first antique supermarket in an unused printing works in 1964. This first experiment specialized in inexpensive Victorian knicknacks.

To cash in on the luxury antique boom, Gray took over an empty Woolworth store in central London last year, gave it a $25,000 face-lift, and christened it "The Antique Hypermarket." ("Hyper" is Greek meaning "over" or "above.")

The building itself is supported by a row of toga-clad maidens molded in fiberglass from the originals on the Parthnon in Athens. Inside, items range in price from $2,000 for a gold Tibetan god to $21,000 for a set of eight Chippendale chairs, and there are no green trading stamps thrown in.

There is seldom less than $3 million worth of stock on the premises at any time, which calls for elaborate security precautions, including the use of radar.

Chippendale chairs that cost $2,622 apiece are not everyone's idea of a basement bargain, but apparently there is no scarcity of takers for anything the antique trade can dish out here.

The value of paintings and antiques exported from Britain has zoomed from $10 million in 1953 to over $90 million today. Devaluation of the pound sterling accounts for part of the antique boom here. So does the American craze for Victoriana, meaning everything from mustache curlers to hand-painted chamberpots, which are just the thing for serving salad.

The boom has hit the silver market in particular. "British dealers now find it cheaper to buy back Georgian silver which they sold to Americans as recently as two years ago," says Bennie Gray. "The original American customer makes a profit, so does the dealer, so everyone is happy."

As an example of inflated prices, Gray cites a James II silver tankard, which fetched $120 in 1920, but which recently sold for $9,600. "Of course, there are only six of them in existence," he explains.

Although both his parents were in the antique business, tall, curly-haired Bennie Gray became a property dealer when he left school, and by the time he was 28 had cleaned up enough money to last a lifetime.

"After I retired, I bought a Bechstein piano," he recalls, "but after six months of hard practicing I decided I was no Chopin. So that's how I landed in antiques."

After spending eight weeks touring the States, Gray has harsh things to say about American interior decorators, who have a stranglehold on American taste, he claims.

"Americans, for some strange reason, do not trust their own judgment when it comes to buying antiques, particularly antique furniture," he claims. "Instead, they go running to the so-called experts for advice, which makes it easy for the interior decorator to rock them.

"The interior decorator demands and gets a 15 to 20 per cent discount from the antique dealer, but none of this saving is passed on to the client, who usually gets soaked."

If the antique supermarket catches on in America as it has here there will be no middleman coming between dealer and customer. Only the check-out counter, where the Chippendale will be toted up with the chipped beef.

Raw Mushrooms in Summer Salads

Considering the fact that Americans are eating more than twice as many tossed salads as they did a quarter century ago, it is obvious we love well-made flavorful salads, every day in the year, but especially during summer.

All kinds of crunchy and flavorful ingredients can join forces in the salad bowl. Leaves in varying shades of green, golden carrots, red tomatoes mix happily. More and more salad chefs are discovering sliced raw mushrooms which can be added freely to any vegetable or luncheon salad. In spite of the "meaty" texture of mushrooms, they compare in calorie content with leafy greens, celery and cucumbers.

Mushrooms should be washed very briefly in clear water. Jiggle them around a bit, but don't let them soak; remove from water promptly.

Modern cultivated mushrooms have delicate skins. Do not peel. Not only is this a lot of extra work, but considerable mushroom goodness is lost with the peelings.

These salad recipes will show the versatility of mushrooms. They're delicious not only with salad greens, but with tomato wedges, raw zucchini slices, green pepper rings, avocado chunks, onions, herbs and even such hearty ingredients as cooked rice or macaroni.

Mushroom Zucchini Salad

- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 avocado, peeled and diced
- 1 zucchini, thinly sliced
- 1 tomato, diced
- ¼ cup sliced scallions
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
- ½ teaspoon marjoram leaves, crumbled
- 4 tablespoons olive or salad oil
- 2 tablespoons white vinegar
- Lettuce leaves

In a salad bowl combine mushrooms, avcado, zucchini, tomato and scallions. Sprinkle with sugar, salt, black pepper and marjoram. Toss gently. Add oil and vinegar. Toss gently until well coated. Serve on lettuce-lined salad plates.

Yield: 6 portions.

Louisiana Mushroom Rice Salad

- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 2 cups cooked rice, chilled
- 1 cup diced tomato
- ½ cup chopped red onion
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon red pepper sauce
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
- Lettuce leaves

Yield: 6 portions.

In a salad bowl combine mushrooms, rice, tomato, onion and green pepper; set aside. In a small bowl blend mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and red pepper sauce. Pour over mushroom mixture. Toss gently, coating all ingredients. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Helpful Hints

To keep lettuce and celery fresh longer, keep in paper bags instead of cellophane. Do not remove the outside leaves until you are ready to use.

Some women who use garlic in cooking don't like to leave the actual bud in their food. Stick a toothpick through the bud before placing it in the food or sauce. That way it will be easy to find if you want to remove it.

Try this new bacon treat: dip bacon slices in beaten egg, then in crushed cracker crumbs, and broil!

Twelve Swimming Teams at Wiltwyck

Twelve teams, including the All-America Camp at New York Military Academy, have filed entries for Wiltwyck Country Club's first Invitational Swim Meet Saturday.

In addition to the All-America and Wiltwyck, entries have been filed by Callabar Club, Poughkeepsie YMCA, Pawling YMCA, Williams Lake Hotel, Camp Ben-Ann, Moriello Park, Ridgelawn Swim Club and Jewish Community Center.

Time trials will start at 9:30 a.m., with the finals scheduled at 4 p.m. The host club, which has compiled an impressive showing in AAU and local meets, anticipates a record-breaking entry of 261 juniors from the Mid-Hudson Valley area clubs.

Thirty-six events are scheduled in the 50-100 meter freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly, and eight in the 100-200 meter medley relays.

Medals will be awarded for first, second and third place in the individual events. Medals also will be awarded for first place in the relays.

High point trophies will be awarded for boys and girls in each group, in addition to a team trophy for the team accumulating the most points.

The meet director is Miss Mary Elizabeth Boyd, who will be assisted by Debbie Rifenbary. Both are staff members of the Wiltwyck Country Club pool.

Hoffman Tosses One-Hitter for Yallum's

Richie Hoffman, the only Kingston City Softball pitcher to hold a win over the Poughkeepsie Red Whites in loop play this year, last night tossed a one-hitter, leading Yallum's to a 2-0 semi-final playoff victory over Royal Grill.

The contest, the first of the best-of-three to decide who meets the 12-1 league champion Red Whites in the finals, was over early as Yallum's got their runs in the first frame and Hoffman checked Royal Grill throughout.

Hoffman set down the first 11 men he faced, giving up a fourth inning single to Billy Costello as the no-hitter went down the drain.

The burly Hoffman put away the next six he faced before walking Joe Tremper, who was later thrown out at second on an attempted steal.

For the winners, George Fisher opened things with a one out single. Hoffman beat out an infield single to put men on first and second and Paul Buytkins drove Fisher in with a single to center. Hoffman, rounding third, scored when the throw from the outfield went astray and into the losers' dugout.

Hoffman faced 22 Royal's in all, striking out 13 and giving up that lone walk. Billy Costello started for the losers, whiffed six and allowing a walk before giving way to Billy Stokes, who had a strikeout.

The series resumes Monday when the same teams clash at Block Park. If Yallum's wins, it is all over, and they will go on to the finals. Should Royal take it, the deciding contest is slated for Tuesday at Block.

Gibson Keeps Winning Despite 'Koufax Arm'

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Bob Gibson's aching arm may yet be enshrined with Sandy Koufax' arthritic elbow in baseball's medical hall of fame.

Koufax established some of the most remarkable pitching feats in baseball annals despite the painful disease in his left elbow and Gibson, the whiplash right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, is zeroing in on at least one outstanding achievement, sore arm and all.

Gibson breezed to his 11th straight victory and eighth shutout of the season Thursday night by beating the Philadelphia Phillies 5-0 on five hits and in the process lowered his earned run average to a miniscule 0.957.

"My arm ached before the game tonight," conceded Gibson, who has allowed only two runs in a phenomenal stretch of 92 innings. "Usually, I get that kind of ache in the sixth or seventh inning. Tonight, it came while I was still warming up in the bullpen."

Gibson, who hasn't lost since May 28, pitched his 12th straight complete game, struck out six to raise his season total to 145 and tied Luis Tiant of the Cleveland Indians for the major league lead in shutouts.

"I'm tired again," said the 32-year-old Gibson who had two doubles, drove in a run and reached base in each of his four at bats. "It was kind of close out there tonight. Being on base didn't make that much difference. I get tired from pitching, not from running the bases."

The victory enabled the Cards to maintain their 12 1-2-game lead over the Atlanta Braves, who beat the New York Mets 4-2. The Cincinnati Reds edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-0 in only other National League game and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Washington Senators 4-1 in an American League game curtailed by rain after 6 1-2 innings.

Joe Sparma allowed only one hit, a line single by Paul Casanova in the fourth inning, and an unearned run in the first and Jim Northrup blasted his 14th and 15th homers as the Tigers' hiked their Al lead to 5 1-2 games over the idle Baltimore Orioles.

Joe Torre's first home run in 31 games, a three-run blast which climaxed a four-run sixth, lifted the Braves over the Mets. All of Atlanta's runs were unearned as the resuls of Ed Charles' two-out error on Felix Millan's grounder. Phil Niekro allowed six hits in posting his 10th victory while Dick Selma was charged with the defeat.

"My roomie, Dick Kelley, shook my hand last week when I hit one out in batting practice," quipped the powerful Torre, whose last home run came on June 20 against Cincinnati.

Don Pavletich, who failed to hit safely against Pittsburgh all last season, stroked a run-scoring single during a two-run fourth inning as the Reds recorded their sixth successive triumph. Leo Cardenas knocked in the second run of the inning with a double. The Pirates stranded 13 runners as they collected 13 hits and three walks off winner George Culver and reliever Clay Carroll.

Boo's, Southside In Saugerties Wins

John Freligh's timely single, plus his tight pitching for South Side Men's Club who used a two-run rally in the seventh enabled them to post a 4-3, come-from behind victory over Statewide in the Yankee Division, and Boo's Tavern stopped last place McConekey's, 12-2 in a 10-run rule, five-inning contest in the Met Division of the Saugerties Softball League.

South Side, fighting for the pennant, trailed 3-1 in the bottom of the sixth. A run in the sixth helped, but it took a couple of errors, a sacrifice and two walks and Freligh's single to left to win it.

Roger Mickle belted a bases-full triple to send second place Boo's off and running while McConekey's two tallies came on back-to-back three-baggers. Barney Hoyt had a pair of singles for the winners.

Mathis TKO's Big Jim Beattie

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Buster Mathis, the onetime fat man of the heavyweight boxers, plans to lose more weight and enjoy a vacation after cutting down giant Jim Beattie in their scheduled 10-round match Thursday night.

Fighting at 226½ pounds, the lightest in his pro career, Mathis stalked Beattie for six rounds, then floored his heavier, more experienced opponent twice in the seventh to score a technical knockout.

"I felt even stronger and I was even faster," said Mathis, who weighed about 285 when he turned pro three years ago. "I want to go down to 210."

Mathis, 24, of Grand Rapids, Mich., notched his 19th knockout in 26 pro fights. His only loss was an 11th round technical knockout to Joe Frazier a few months ago, in which Mathis maintains he was beaten by exhaustion. He weighed 243½ then and decided to peel off more pounds to gain speed and stamina.

The 6-foot-9 Beattie, who weighed 244½, lost his fifth match in 35 fights and his fourth by a knockout.

Ferraro Blasts 919 in Classic

The three-man Summer Classic was once again led by Jack Ferraro who combined games of 244 211, 227 and 251 for a 919 high. Vern Van Dusen was second with 207, 226, 201—833; followed by Sonny Barnes 202, 222, 204—820; Lou Kolano, 200, 255—826; Don Smith 202-231, 206—814; Gary Barnes with a game of 257 and Ed Riozzi 235.

Team results: Ferraro Jr.'s 9, Dusharm 3; G. Barnes 9½, Kgn. Orn. Iron Co. 2½; T. Smith 9 Kingston Coal and Oil Co. 3; Lincoln Park Inn 6, Bagatta's 6; Overfields 6½, Childs 5½; S. Barnes' 11, Linnartz 1; Riozzi Masons 7, George's Auto Sales 5; Hinkley's 5, Sanfords 7; Wayslderkest 7, Unnamed 5.

Dragging-tails are dynamite.
When your car is dragging its tail with a load of kids or a loaded trailer—you're riding on dynamite. Hit a bump. Take a sharp curve. And you can lose control in seconds. ☐ Monroe rear Load-Leveler stabilizing units end tail drag. Keep your car on the level, wheels on the road, and you in control. ☐ Get your Monroe Load-Leveler stabilizing units wherever you see the Monroe wings. It's the safest way to drive your level best.

Pinehaven Doll Posts Easy Wire-to-Wire MR Victory

MONTICELLO — Pinehaven Doll, owned by and driven by Harold I. Stayton of Felton, Del., scored her third victory of 1968, posting a gate-to-wire victory at Monticello Raceway last night, winning by a length and a half in 2:08.3.

Leaving from post position two, Pinehaven Doll led Nevele Duke (1) to the first quarter in 0:31.3 and went on from there to take the $1,200 featured trot with relative ease. She has 21 starts.

Going down to the half, Pinehaven Doll was on top, Sam Darlington (6), outside the entire race to this point, was second, Nevele Duke was third inside and Avon Mary (8), fourth, outside. The half went in 1:04.1.

In the backstretch the second time around, Sam Darlington and the winner were head and head, but Pinehaven Doll, a bay mare, five-year-old by Scottish Lord out of Pinehaven Lady by Lawde Me, was still in front. She had a head advantage at the three-fourths pole, reaching that mark in 1:37 flat. But, Sam Darlington was pressing hard.

Stayton called on the mare for a strong close and she responded, pulling away from Sam, who was parked the entire mile, extending the lead to one and a half markers under a hard drive.

Joe Schlichting, in Sam's seat, held off a strong close by Avon Mary, who tried to go between the rail horse, Pinehaven Doll, and Sam, who was halfway out on the track.

The winner, sent off the favorite at 5-2, returned $7.00, 3.80 and 3.00. Sam's place payoffs read $6.80 and 4.60 while Mary had a $4.60 show price.

The daily double of Heleada (3) and Tarstreak (7) was worth $50.20. Tarstreak is partially owned by Hy Greenspan of Kingston.

Wright's Blanks Eddie's

Four very costly errors resulted in six unearned runs for Wright's Service Station and enabled them to move into a tie for second place with a 6-0, two-hit shutout over Eddie's Country Fair in the Ellenville Softball League.

Ron Joray, Wright's moundsman, gave up singles to Jerry Schoonmaker and Percy Greene for the lone safeties by Eddie's, but his teammates caught on to the miscues and parlayed them into two runs in the third, a trio more in the fifth and a loner in the sixth.

The victory, Joray's seventh against four setbacks, all the team's decisions, tied Wright's loop with an 8-3 mark.

Dick Harding led the hitting for Wright's with a pair of singles. The only extra base hit was a two-bagger by John Hubert.

Chidsey, K of C BRL Victors

Dave Kwasnowski and Bill Stevenson carried the big sticks yesterday in Babe Ruth League interdivisional play, each belting a triple and two singles as Kwasnowski led Chidsey-DeForest to a 10-1 triumph over the Kiwanis and Stevenson's hits powered the Knights of Columbus to a 17-6 romp over the American Legion. Both winners are National Division teams.

Kwasnowski also garnered a first-inning walk that triggered a three-run rally, featuring a pair of passed balls with the bases loaded.

The Chidsey catcher drove in two in the fourth with a single and added his final RBI in the sixth with a booming triple.

His batting prowess helped hurler Ralph Perry coast to the win, and upsetting loser Chris Schick's performance despite Schick's 13 strikeouts. Perry had nine Ks.

Led by Stevensons perfect three-for-three evening, the K of C unleashed a 13-hit attack against Legionnaires Jerry Smart and Vince Rua. Jim Ferraro had a double and two singles in five at bats and Paul Saehloff had a one bagger and a triple for the winners. Bill Weishaupt also had a three-base hit for the K of C.

The Legion cause wasn't helped any by the fact that they made 10 fielding errors.

'Apple Tree' Opens in Woodstock

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

A scoundrel of a snake gets Eve to bite into the forbidden fruit, the gal and her man Adam are served with an eviction notice, a Bassett hound saunters out on stage nearly convulsing the cast and audience, a rapacious stuffed lion falls out of its cage and the lead forgets her line. This, added to an off-key balladeer, overstraining, overreaching, some ungraceful prancing on stage, was part and parcel of "The Apple Tree" which opened Wednesday night at the Woodstock Playhouse. The production was like a half-baked pie—it wasn't perfect but there were enough ingredients in it to make it tasty and amusing nonetheless.

Actually, "The Apple Tree" is a collection of three one act plays. The first is, by far, the best of the trio.

Listed as "The Diary of Adam and Eve," it is based on a short story by Mark Twain. Gene Nye portrays the perplexed and confused Adam while Tanny McDonald is Eve. The "snake" is Gary Miller. Twain's version of Paradise is a farcical one. He exploits the typical man-woman relationship right down to the decor of their hut, milady's hat, wifely nagging, and the inevitable enslavement to the upkeep of the grounds — cutting the grass, for instance. The lines are witty and very contemporary.

Both Nye and McDonald show ample musical ability and get their rather unusual songs across very well. Nye has been in several of this summer's productions at the Woodstock Playhouse as well as in the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre group. He appeared on Broadway as the Fool in Judith Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen" and as an understudy in "Song of the Grasshopper." His extensive regional theatre credits include the Hartford Stage Company, American Shakespeare Festival and the Ypsilanti Greek Theatre as well as the Phoenix Theatre in New York.

Miss McDonald's training as a singer and concert pianist are evidenced by her handling of the musical portions in the play. An extremely attractive actress, her talents are multifaceted and she makes a charming Eve.

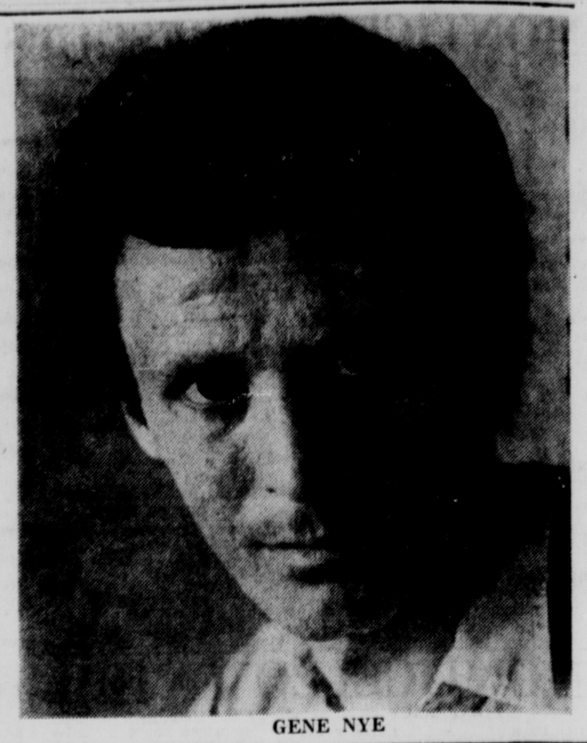

The second one-act play is a take-off on a short story by Frank R. Stockton, "The Lady or the Tiger?" The near slapstick staging is entertaining and features Miss McDonald again in the role of a much bedecked princess who can't decide whether to lose her lover to another woman or to the bad, bad, lion. Cast with Miss McDonald in this vehicle are R. Mack Miller as a balladeer; George Pollack, Trent S. Knepper as guards; Nico Boccio as King Arik; and Gene Nye as the prisoner. Captain Sanchar, the poor bloke who is to be tossed to his doom, is portrayed by Gary Miller. Jennifer Higgin is Nadjira, femme fatale, and Anne Sward is the prisoner's bride. In the King's retinue are Michael Bradshaw, Eugene Blythe and Clint Allmon. Handmaidens are Tressa Gilliland, Judi Moncure and Amy Lieberman. Action in this one-act farce takes place in a faraway kingdom ruled by an absolute monarch.

"Passionella," a one-act comedy based on a cartoon story by Jules Feiffer, winds up the evening. Miss McDonald, cast as the lowly chimney sweep who aspires to be an actress, does a creditable job with this role but it's her costuming that really delivers the gaffaws.

Complete with spangles, sequins, and psychedelic lights, the production moves fast enough to keep up interest and Miss McDonald comes through as a quick change artist.

"The Apple Tree" will run through August 4. On August 7, Edgar Rosenblum will present one of the most entertaining musicals to come from the Broadway scene, "Guys and Dolls." It will play through August 18.

The Association to Rock The Colonie Tent on Monday

The nationally famous recording group, The Association, will rock Eddie Rich's Colonie Summer Theatre for one night only on Monday, July 29. The single performance will be at 8:40 p.m.

According to the Random House Dictionary of the English Language, association means "1. an organization of people with a common purpose and having a formal structure . . . 3. friendship, companionship." This definition most certainly applies to The Association.

It is a group of extremely talented young men named Terry Kirkman, Jim Yester, Russ Giguere, Ted Bluechel, Larry Ramos and Brian Cole. The group was formed in the spring of 1965 with the intent purpose of becoming the top group of musical performers in the country.

A brief look at the accomplishments over the past three years fully establishes that intent. The group has had three hit records, "Cherish," "Windy" and "Never My Love," each selling a million copies. They have won three Grammy awards for these records and an additional Grammy for their best contemporary album, "Insight Out."

Two of their singles have been in the Top 10 on the recording charts, "Along Comes Mary" and "Everything That Touches You."

To apply descriptive measures to The Association's music would be nonsensical. Let it suffice to say that they are vocal virtuosos, harmonically tight and instrumentally instinctive.

On stage, The Association presents a musical review, their endless string of hit records interspersed with bits and pieces of satirical humor.

Dedicated disciples of peace, they speak of love; not as a replacement for war, but as a way of life. Unafraid, they speak of God and of the inner satisfaction one must find before he begins to live. Intellectually curious and concerned, The Association are students of life, and yet, although their warehouse of knowledge is expansive, they cannot produce that piece of paper reading "Degree." They have become lyrical liberators, speaking on subjects within their melodic structures as a means of getting their message across.

They are performers and the audience comes first with them. "They shell out their hard-earned dollars to attend our concerts and the least we can do is give them the best show possible," says Terry.

Following The Association on Tuesday evening, July 30 will be The Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca Show. It will play the tent through Aug. 4.

Tickets are available at the box office from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, or by writing to Box 136, Latham. It is strongly suggested that tickets be purchased in advance for The Association

Chicago and Suburban Town Hit by New Disturbances

By EDWARD W. RUNDEN

CHICAGO (AP) — More than a dozen persons were injured Thursday night when Negro youths vandalized a food store on Chicago's North Side. In suburban Maywood another crowd smashed store windows after police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the village hall.

Twenty-five persons were arrested in Maywood. Three were held on disorderly conduct charges after the Chicago disturbances.

Follows NAACP Meeting

In Maywood, an integrated city of 30,000 15 miles west of Chicago's downtown section, trouble started after a meeting of a local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Discussions at the meeting centered on the lack of a swimming pool in Maywood—a long-standing complaint of the community's 10,000 Negroes.

A police spokesman said after the NAACP meeting about 300 Negro youths marched a mile to the Maywood Village Hall where the village board was meeting on the second floor.

Officials refused to permit the entire group to enter the meeting. Police, whose headquarters is on the first floor, asked the youths to disperse. After they refused and became boisterous police hurled tear-gas canisters at them.

One of the youths picked up a canister and hurled it back into the village hall. Police Sgt. Grady Rivers said. Policemen in the hall donned gas masks.

Most of the youths headed for the nearby downtown section and smashed store windows, overturned park benches and hurled objects at passing vehicles, injuring 10 persons, none seriously.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was quickly imposed. Reinforcements from surrounding communities, some wielding submachine guns, moved in.

Maywood Police Chief Berner Kellough said those arrested, all Negroes, would be prosecuted for mob action and violation of curfew.

The disturbance on Chicago's North Side started after a large group of young Negroes listened to talk described as inflammatory, according to Sid Bennett, 35, a Negro who lives in the area.

"About 8 to 10 men, some dressed in African-style garb were inciting the crowd," said Bennett. "They were outside agitators."

Bennett, a karate expert, rescued Mel Larson, 54, a Sun-Times photographer who was beaten around the face and suffered chest injuries, including possible broken ribs by a Negro gang. He was reported in fair condition.

100 Youths Invade Store

The front of the store has been boarded up since the April disturbances. The supermarket has been the scene in recent weeks of picketing and boycotting by members of Operation Breadbasket protesting against alleged exorbitant prices of the A&P food store chain.

Several youths carried a cash register from the food store, but dropped it and ran when shotgun-wielding policemen arrived. The cash register was locked and the $150 in the drawer wasn't taken, police said. The youths were not arrested.

The store manager, Martin Stratton, said the youths also carried some food and liquor out of the store.

Besides invading the food store in Chicago, youths harassed a Fire Department station and pelted passing vehicles, including a Chicago Transit Authority bus, with rocks and bottles.

'MISS SHOWGIRL' — Pert Jackie Hewitt, a pretty brown-eyed blonde showgirl in Desert Inn Hotel's "Pzazz '68" show, captured the "Miss Showgirl International of 1969" title Thursday during the second competition at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Nev. Miss Hewitt stands five feet, 11 inches, and measures 35-23-36. She is from Barnet, England. The lively blonde beauty, 23, won a $1,000 mink stole and a guest appearance on television's "Big Valley" series. She captured the title from 18 other contestants. The show was video taped in color for later national viewing. Television star Clint Walker was the emcee. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Thieu Opponent Sentenced in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — A military court sentenced the runner-up in last fall's presidential election to five years at hard labor today for advocating peace talks between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The five-man court found Truong Dinh Dzu, the 51-year-old peace candidate in the October election, guilty of "actions harmful to the anti-Communist fighting spirit of the South Vietnamese people and armed forces."

The trial lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

Since Dzu, a lawyer, ran second to Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu last fall and then led opposition candidates in accusing the military junta of stealing the election, he has spent much of the time under detention on various charges and pretexts.

In the trial today, the government charged that Dzu in interviews with British and American newsmen urged talks with the Liberation Front and a coalition government including the Communists. Dzu contended that he had advocated talks and coalition only with non-Communist members of the NLF.

Communism and neutralism are outlawed by South Vietnam's constitution, and the government refuses to consider talks with the Viet Cong. The verdict and the sentence were not unexpected since the same court on Thursday gave a five-year sentence to the 23-year-old publisher of South Vietnam's leading student newspaper for publishing articles the government said were pro-Communist.

Last week the same court gave death sentences in absentia to 10 leaders of the new Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces, which Hanoi is boosting to attract non-Communist support in South Vietnam.

"They are putting me in jail for hard labor because they say I acted against the government and the army," Dzu said after the verdict. "But I have not acted. I only expressed my opinion as a politician and as a peace candidate. I have never acted illegally against the government."

Grove Press Office Is Damaged By Bomb

NEW YORK (UPI)—A bomb was hurled early today through a window of Grove Press, publisher of off-beat and controversial magazines and erotic literature. It damaged the office, but there were no injuries.

Grove Press publishes "Evergreen Review," a monthly magazine which carries in its August edition a lengthy reprint of the diary of Ernesto Che Guevara, the slain Cuban revolutionary.

Today's blast came at about the same time a bomb exploded at the Mexican tourist office in Chicago, second time in two weeks that building was bombed. There were no injuries in the latest explosion.

A police spokesman said that judging from a hole in a curtain on the second floor offices of Grove Press, a "handgrenade type" missile may have been fired from grenade launcher.

The office of Grove in the five story brick building in Greenwich Village was lined with erotic novels the firm specialized in publishing. Three windows were blasted out and damage was widespread, but not serious.

IBM Mulling Site Additions

KINGSTON — International Business Machines Corporation has announced that it is studying the feasibility of additions to its sites in East Fishkill, Kingston and Poughkeepsie.

If approved, these additions would consolidate existing groups now in other buildings, and also, provide for expansion in East Fishkill.

The studies involve an addition to the Components Division site in East Fishkill, and to Systems Development Division facilities located at the Kingston site and at the South Road complex in Poughkeepsie.

Northeast Dairy Farmers See Fluid Milk Price Increased

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the 25,000 dairy farmers in the Northeast says that an incease in the minimum pice of fluid milk is "imperative for price alignment and orderly marketing."

Dr. Stewart Johnson, an agriculture economist at the University of Connecticut, representing the New York-New England Dairy Cooperative Coordinating Committee, presented his statement Thursday at a hearing in the offices of the New York-New Jersey Milk Market Administration.

The committee is seeking an increase of 26 cents a hundredweight-slightly more than ½ cent a quart—in the price of class I fluid milk.

Johnson said that statistics showed that for some 14 years, the New York-New Jersey Class I price averaged $1.49 above the Chicago price, but that this was disrupted by a July 1 increase granted to the milk-marketing regions around Chicago.

"If the 14-year average difference of $1.49 were added to the current Chicago Class I price of $5.53, a Class I price for New York of $7.02 would result—53 cents higher than the present price," he said.

Johnson also mentioned that the price farmers actually get for all the milk they sell under federal marketing orders, a price which is normally higher in the Northeast than in the Midwest, has reversed so that the Midwest price is now higher.

He also cited figures indicating a decline in per capital milk production in the Northeast as compared with the rest of the nation and that there had been a drop of 6 per cent in the number of dairy farmers in the Northeast.

An alternate proposal to the staight 26-cent increase was presented by the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc.

This group suggested compromise 8 per cent increase in Class I milk prices in the New York-New Jersey maketing region and a 5 per cent increase in the rest of the Northeast regions.

Vermont Agriculture Commissioner Robert J. Branon said "devastating weather conditions and insect damage" had increased milk production costs.

David Derr, marketing specialist for the Dairy Division, Consumer and Marketing Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture said the earliest possible ruling on the price increases would probably not be before Sept. 1.

Derr said that once the hearings are completed, interested parties will file briefs arguing their positions. After this the secretary of agriculture will make a temporary recommendation. After exceptions are filed, the secretary will make a final recommendation.

Negroes Break Store Windows In Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — A group of about five Negro men and youths broke the windows of five stores and stole items from at least three of them in the downtown section of this Hudson River city between 9:30 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 a.m. today, police said.

Two men were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

Police said about $500 worth of record players and other items and $10 in cash were stolen from the Hi-Fi Center.

Also stolen, police said, were an undetermined amount of liquor from a liquor store and an undetermined amount of items from a Spanish-American food store.

Police said they did not know if anything was stolen from a clothing store where a window was broken, and apparently nothing was stolen from an upholstery store where a window was broken.

Bomb Rips Mexican Tourist Office

CHICAGO (UPI)—The second bomb in two weeks blasted open the door of the Mexican government's downtown tourist office early today—the 12th anniversary of Fidel Castro's attack on the Moncada Military Barracks that launched the Cuban revolution.

Lying in the shattered glass of the entryway, police found a note date "26 de Juio," the slogan of Castro's revolutionary movement.

Attached to the two-page, handwritten note were two small stickers, reading, in Spanish, "Unete Poder Cubano" —unite Cuban power!

The first two lines translated roughly as "international democratic commandos, bulletin No. 2. another year of slavery for the Cuban people . . ."

Police would only reveal the top of the note, saying it was "a matter of intelligence" and further handling might destroy fingerprints.

The bomb seemed to be part of a series of blasts of Mexican government offices around the country. The Michigan Avenue office was bombed previousy on a Sunday Morning, July 14. Nobody was injured at either blast.

Since April 22, many such explosions have occurred in other cities. Police theorize they are the work of anti-Castro Cuban groups angry at Mexico for holding the 1968 Olympics with Cuba participating, and at 26 non-Communist countries who trade with Cuba.

Set 15th Anniversary Of Castro's Revolution

SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP) — More than 600,000 Cubans are expected to crowd into this gaily decorated capital of Las Villas Province today to join Prime Minister Fidel Castro in celebrating the 15th anniversary of his revolutionary movement.

A carnival complete with street dancing, Afro-Cuban music and plenty of beer and rum set the tone for the celebration.

The city about 240 miles east of Havana was festooned with flags and thousands of banners bearing the number 26. A 10-story portrait of slain guerrilla leader Che Guevara decorated the front of the Santa Clara Libre Hotel on the city's main plaza.

A speech by the bearded Cuban leader is the high point of the festivities. Castro is expected to issue a rallying cry for more work and a stronger dedication to communism.

He also is expected to touch on Czechoslovakia's current feud with the Soviet Union and the uproar in Bolivia caused by the publication in Cuba of the diary taken from Guevara, who was killed by Bolivian soldiers in that country last October.

Special North Korean, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations were invited to join Castro on the speaker's platform. More than 50 foreign newsmen were given permission to cover the event.

The mass rally celebrates the anniversary of Castro's debut in 1953, when he led an attack against an army barracks in the city of Santiago.

The attack failed and Castro was jailed for two years by President Fulgencio Batista. Batista freed him, and Castro organized the invasion which ended in the overthrow of the Batista regime in January 1959.

It was at Santa Clara that rebel forces led by Guevara defeated the army decisively and forced Batista to flee.

Ten and Twenty Years Ago

July 26, 1948 — A fire which started in the kitchen, damaged the Schreiber farm house south of New Paltz.

An estimated 10,000 spectators saw the parade of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in Saugerties.

Flying saucers were reported seen in various areas.

A cut in the personnel of the New York State Employment Service was expected.

The Rev. Dr. Walter O. Macoskey was guest minister at First Baptist Church in Kingston.

Henry W. DuBois was appointed mayor of New Paltz at a special meeting of the village board.

The Post Office Department announced that there would be no free loading of mail at the old postal rates after July 31.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church announced that it would have the Rev. Lloyd A. Berg as guest speaker.

Kennedy Book Nearly Ready

The last pages of our new Close-to-the-news book, "Triumph and Tragedy, the Story of the Kennedys," are coming off the press at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Shipment of some of the 250,000 copies already ordered by this and other Associated Press newspapers and by their readers will be made next week; the rest will be shipped just as fast as possible, within a week or two.

Production of this out-size, handsome volume has proved more time consuming than first expected because of the vast amount of research involved, because the book has been increased in size successively from 190 to 224 pages, and then to 254 pages, and because the number of black and white and color illustrations has been increased to about 150.

It's going to be well worth waiting for. Its brilliantly written text of about 95,000 words provides a sweeping panorama of the spectacular rise of this Irish immigrant family to the peaks of power, wealth and fame-and tragedy.

For you to be sure to get your copy, you should order at once if you have not already done so. There is no increase in the special price of $3 originally announced.

Upstaters Die In Accident

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Two persons were killed and two were injured early today when an automobile crashed into an abutment of a railroad overpass, flipping over on a second automobile.

Police said the two cars were going at high rates of speed and apparently were racing.

Dead in the accident were Bobby Watsons, 30, of Rochester, and, in the other automobile, Mrs. Barbara Scott, also of Rochester.

The women's husband, Marcus Scott, was in Genesee Hospital, reportedly in fair condition, along with an unidentified companion of Watsons.

Watsons lived at 31 Kelly St. The Scott address is 4 Payne St.

Man Arrested, Ran Up $1,071 Bill in Paltz

Bruno Oscar Klahre, 67, whose permanent address is unknown, was arrested by Highland State Police Thursday night after checking out of the College Motor Inn in New Paltz without paying is bill.

Klahre had stayed at the New Paltz motel since late December, and had accumulated a bill of $1,071 up until several days ago. He was arrested last night after the manager of the motel issued a complaint to police. Klahre had apparently left the motel several days ago. When he did not return, the manager informed the Highland barracks.

Klahre was arraigned before New Paltz Town Justice Schneider last night and remanded to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $150 bail. He will appear before the Town Justice tonight at 8 p. m. to answer charges.

Seaway Tieup Ends

MONTREAL (AP) — Ships have resumed their normal passage through the St. Lawrence Seaway after an 11-hour tieup that resulted from a freighter ramming into a ship-arrester.

Approximately 25 vessels were halted as of Wednesday night because, a Seaway spokesman said, the Greek freighter Castilia hit the arrester — a series of cables — at the Beauharnois Locks.

Utica Lumber Plant Hit By Blaze

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen worked into the morning hours today to douse a fire that destroyed two buildings and 11 lumber sheds at a lumber-company complex on the city's southeast side.

The fire was reported shortly before 7 p.m. Thursday at the Sunset-Philip Thomas Lumber Co. It was reported under control at about 10:15 p.m. but kept scores of firemen at the scene hours later.

Five firemen were treated at hospitals. None was reported injured seriously.

Some damage was reported to nearby houses and private garages.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

An estimate of damage was not available.

Rubbish Fire Behind Store

Ulster Hose Company No. 5 responded to a small rubbish fire behind the Robert Hall clothing store on Albany Avenue at approxiamtly 1:30 a. m. this morning.

The cause of the blaze was not determined, but it is believed that it started as a result of spontaneous combustion. The fire was not extensive and there was no damage reported.

The blaze was extinguished at about 2:15 a. m. The equipment was returned to the fire hall at 2:37 a. m.

Ordered to Leave U.S., Man Swims Niagara River

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A 19-year-old Mexican claims he slipped into Canada, after being ordered to leave the United States, by swimming the swirling Niagara River just below Niagara Falls.

The youth gave his name as Niels C. Thomson and his last official address as Jalisco, Mexico.

He described to Canadian officials Thursday his descent into the treacherous gorge and a 1,000-foot swim during which "my arms were shaking and I couldn't stop trembling."

A police officer said the youth repeated the account three times without variation.

Thomson was ordered to leave the United States as an illegal immigrant. He said he swam the river before dawn Wednesday.

According to his account, he spent Tuesday studying the river at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and plunged into the water in trousers, a sport shirt and gym shoes.

The current, which ranges up to 18 miles an hour, was stronger than he had anticipated, he said, but he could not get back to shore.

"I thought I must die," he told police, saying he felt as though he was in the water "for a whole year."

When he reached the Canadian side, he said, he took an empty cable car up the bank.

He was picked up while hitchhiking Wednesday night.

Thomson also claimed that he once tried out for the Mexican Olympic team as a long-distance swimmer.

To MARIAN KOTS, 4 Norman Road, Upper Montclaire, New Jersey, HENRY PERLMAN, 1802 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, New York 11223, "JOHN DOE" and "MARY DOE," said names being fictitious and intended to be the heirs and distributees of Anna Ceglinsky, if living and if dead, their executors, administrators and all legatees, devisees, distributees, heirs at law and next of kin of said Anna Ceglinsky and all persons who by purchase or inheritance or otherwise have or claim to have an interest in the above entitled matter derived through the said Anna Ceglinsky, or her executors, administrators, legatees, devisees, distributees, heirs at law or next of kin, or through any of them, which executors, administrators, legatees, devisees, distributees, heirs at law, next of kin and other persons, if any there be, and their names and post-office addresses are unknown to your petitioner, and also all persons who are, or make any claim whatsoever as executors or administrators of any person wha may be deceased and who, if living would have any interest in the above entitled matter derived through any or all of the above named people or their devisees, legatees, distributees, heirs at law and next of kin, which persons, if any there be, and their names and residences are unknown to your petitioner, and to Hon. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Atorney General of the State of New York, Albany, New York.

Upon the petition of JOHN BUZDYGAN, of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster, State of New York.

You and each of you are hereby cited to show cause, at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Surrogate's Office, in the City of Kingston, in said County, on the 19th day of August, 1968, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the Last Will and Testament and the codicils thereto of Anna Ceglinsky, late of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster and State of New York, should not be admitted to Probate and Letters Testamentary issued to John Buzdygan, the Executor named hereln.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of the said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. WITNESS HON. ARTHUR A. DAVIS, Surrogate of our said County, at the City of Kingston, the 25th day of June, 1968.

Tax Stamps Shifted to State Disburser

Beginning Aug. 1 New York State will start issuing real estate transfer documentary stamps and collecting the revenue formerly collected by the Federal Government. The Federal Government halted the issuance of documentry stamps on Jan. 1.

County Clerk Albert Spada said this week he had been notified by the State Tax Commission that county clerks have been designated as agents for the commission to issue the stamps and serve as a collection agency.

The State Tax Commission will provide a Pitney-Bowes tax meter machine to assist in disbursement and control of the tax stamps. The fee for documentary stamps is $1.10 for each $1,000 transaction.

Tax stamps are required after Aug. 1 on all deeds, documents, instruments, except wills, regarding any real property granted, bargained, sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed.

The real estate transfer tax will be paid either by purchase of adhesive documentary stamps from the Tax Commission or its agents, in this case county clerks, through the use of metering machines.

In February the County Legislature approved a resolution seeking an act of the State Legislature to permit the county to issue the documentary stamps. The state however pre-empted the revenue producing idea and the bill was recently signed by Governor Rockefeller.

The tax stamps will be affixed on each documunt recorded in the county clerk's office, a procedure which was in effect prior to Jan. 1, when the Federal Government sold the tax stamps.

Troy Youth Drowns

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Michael Werner, 17, of Troy, was drowned Thursday in the nearby Poestenkill Creek, where he had been swimming.

The Weather

FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1968

Sun rises at 4:42 a. m.; sun sets at 7:22 p. m. EST.

Weather: Mostly Sunny

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 58 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 85 degrees.

Weather Forecast

MOSTLY SUNNY

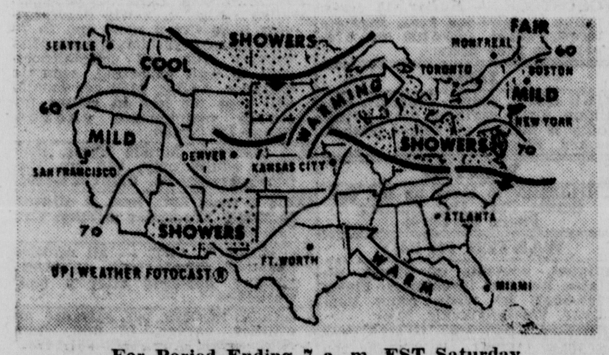

Lower Hudson Valley:
Upper Hudson Valley:
Mohawk Valley:
Western Catskills:
Northeastern New York:

Mostly sunny today. Highs in the upper 70s and 80s. Fair tonight. Lows in the mid 50s to low 60s. Saturday fair to partly cloudy with seasonal temperatures. Highs in the upper 70s and 80s. Clouding up Saturday night with scattered showers or thunder showers on Sunday.

Winds variable and generally under 15 today and tonight, becoming south to southwest and increasing to 10 to 20 during Saturday.

Western New York:
Eastern Lake Ontario:
Northern Finger Lakes:
Southern Finger Lakes:

Sunny and mild today. Highs near 80. Fair tonight with lows about 60 but cooler in some of the valleys. Saturday increasing clouds and warmer with a chance of showers late in the day or at night. Highs in the 80s. Light and variable winds today and tonight, becoming south to southwest, 10 to 20, Saturday.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Saturday

Tonight, scattered showers and thundershowers are expected to spread from the mid Atlantic states through the Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys and into the Northern Plains. Showers and thundershowers are also forecast for the southern Plateaus. Clear to partly cloudy skies should prevail for the rest of the nation. Slightly warmer weather is expected for the Lakes region, while the remainder of the nation can anticipate little temperature change. Minimum readings include: Atlanta 70; Boston 66; Chicago 72; Cleveland 64; Denver 58; Duluth 58; Ft. Sees No Future For Railroad Passenger Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the nation's railroads says "there is no future need for the passenger train" except in some heavily populated areas such as the New York-Washington corridor.

Thomas M. Goodfellow, president of the Association of American Railroads, gave this assessment to a Senate Commerce subcommittee Thursday.

Goodfellow told the committee he opposes a proposal by the Interstate Commerce Commission to limit cutbacks in passenger service.

The commission seeks to block discontinuance of "last train" service between cities in different states.

"We see no purpose whatever in running trains the public isn't riding," Goodfellow said.

He told the committee intercity passenger trains would lose about $600 million this year. The deficit, he added, would have to be passed on to the public in the form of higher freight rates "for just about everything people buy."

60th Birthday Today for FBI; No Celebration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, born almost out of desperation and mired in its early years in political problems, is 60 years old today.

But the bureau planned no celebration. For the FBI's 16,000 employes it was just another work day.

Although the FBI of 1968 is one of the most controversial, efficient and—some say—powerful government agencies, it was founded almost as a desperation move July 16, 1908, by then Atty. Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte.

The Justice Department had been borrowing investigators from the Treasury Department's Secret Service to collect evidence for cases, but Congress prohibited that practice on May 27, 1908, and an independent agency was set up.

When Hoover—then 29—took over in 1924 the agency had become mired in the administration of political hacks.

Port Ewen

PORT EWEN — Presentation Church, the Most Rev. James E. McManus, CsSR, D.D., pastor—Masses 8, 10, 11:30 a.m and 12:45 p.m. Youth of the parish will receive Holy communion at the 8 a.m. Mass. Wednesday, Novena after the 9:30 a.m. Mass and after the 6:30 p.m. Mass. Friday, the first Friday of the month, Mass at 9:30 a.m.

The annual bazaar of the Presentation Church will be held on the church grounds Friday, Aug. 9 and Saturday, Aug. 10. Various booths will be on display such as fancy article, doll, game, and refreshments. On Saturday, Aug. 10, a dance in St. Leo's hall will be held. Music by the Midnites.

Saturday, July 27, there will be two buses at the Port Ewen Firehouse for those of the fire department and their families who wish to go to the firemen's parade to be held at New Paltz. Buses will leave at 2 p.m. and 2:45 p.m. Those taking the buses are to be at the firehouse at least 15 minutes before bus time.

OKs Lakes Compact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill granting the consent of Congress to the Great Lakes Basin compact comprising the eight states bordering the lakes.

The compact creates the Great Lakes Commission, which is empowered to make recommendations to the eight states, the U.S. government and Canada on development, use and conservation of the water resources of the basin.

The states are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Each is represented on the commission by three to five commissioners.

THE GOOD LIFE

begins in a home that you truly enjoy living in. A home you are proud to entertain your friends in.

We have a listing for just such a home. Take the kitchen first, it's large with plenty of dining space, add a Tappan dishwasher & range, plenty of cabinets and glass doors to a deck and you've got a mighty pleasant place to prepare meals. Look at the big comfortable living room with wall to wall carpet and a fireplace at one end, perfect for having friends over. But most important are the large bedrooms and two ceramic baths. There's also a large pleasant dining room that puts pleasure back in dining and a big family room.

All this located on a big lot offering privacy without isolation. Owners are anxious and have reduced the price as they are leaving the area. May we show it to you today?

Dear Abby

To Tell or Not to Tell

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If you knew positively that your sister's husband had been keeping another woman for 7 or 8 years, would you take on the sad task of telling your sister?

Many other people know it, and she is bound to find out someday, and then she will know that we knew it, too.

HER SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: There are two schools of thought. To tell and not to tell.

I belong to the "not to tell" school. There are exceptions, of course. In most cases the wife usually knows, but she is putting on a brave face for reasons known only to her.

Allow her her pride and keep quiet. And should she in time admit that she knows, be "big" and don't chime in with those who would say, "I knew it all along."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and I am waiting for a guy who is overseas in the service. (Let's call him Morey.) I don't have an engagement ring or anything like that, but I promised Morey I would wait for him, so that's what I am doing.

Well, there is a guy Morey used to run around with (let's call him Herman), and Herman comes over and takes me out just to keep me from going nuts. Anyway, it started out that way. Now, Herman tells me he thinks he is in love with me, altho I told Herman from the start that I was waiting for Morey and I think of him only as a friend.

Don't get me wrong, Herman hasn't tried anything, but he is starting to like me too much for his own good. I don't want to quit seeing Herman because he's really a nice guy and a girl could go nuts sitting home all the time writing letters.

My mother says I shouldn't be going out at all, but I can't see any harm in it as long as I don't lead anybody on. What do you think? I don't want to hurt Herman.

WAITING FOR MOREY

DEAR WAITING: Maybe you think of Herman as "only a friend," but he obviously has other ideas about you. I don't know how you figure you are "waiting" for Morey, when you are going with Herman. IF A GIRL "waits" for a fellow, she waits alone without "going nuts." Don't worry about hurting Herman. I have an idea he can take care of himself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You said, "There is one type of man I have never known to be strong, reliable and trustworthy, and he is the man who would ask for a loan of money from the woman he loves."

Are there NO exceptions?

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: Yes. A husband and wife many years married, and united by common interests, may become so one in purpose and thought that a common purse would be as natural to them as a common bed or dinner table. But before marriage, or immediately after, the man who begins to ask a woman for the use of her purse shows himself to be lacking more than money.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO ARNIE: There are two times in a man's life when he shouldn't gamble. (1) When he can't afford it. (2) When he can.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope

A lot of players would manage to go down at today's spade slam. It isn't too difficult. South knows all about those thousands of Englishmen walking the streets of London with no soles to their shoes because they failed to pull trumps, so South draws trumps and possibly runs off an extra couple for good measure.

If East and West discard sensibly on these five trump leads, South will go down. He will go after clubs and ruff the third lead. Should those three leads clear ths suit, South would make all 13 tricks. But they won't and South wil be held to a very unsatisfactory 11.

The correct line of play will bring home the bacon. South should study the hand carefully before leading to the second trick. He will see that he needs three club tricks for his contract. Therefore he won't make it if clubs break worse than 4-2.

Can he make it if they break 4-2? Yes, provided he can get to dummy to collect a trick with the fifth club.

Then, operating on the principle that you play for your contract, South will promptly cash dummy's ace and king of clubs. When both opponents follow, it will be all over but the mopping up. He will ruff a club, enter dummy with the queen of trumps, ruff another club, draw the rest of the trumps and eventually get to dummy with the ace of hearts in order to cash the last club.

The whole point of this line of play is that dummy had two entries outside of the club suit and South had to plan his play to conserve both of them. One was needed to get to dummy for a fourth club lead; the other to get to dummy to cash the fifth club.

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1968

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Excellent time for getting together with club members, co-workers. You could shine at any convention. Key to really successful day is sense of balance. Don't ovedo — avoid extremes.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): You are encouraged in creative pursuits. Your capabilities come to forefront. Be an innovator. Strive for greater comfort and beauty where home appliances are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Stress is on relationship of lasting value. Avoid superficiality. Dig for facts, obtain solid information. Ignore individual who advocates flimsy excuses. Get to heart of matters.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Fine for social visits, short journeys. Key is to change routine and relax. Be a good listener — some of your relatives may have compulsion to confide and confess.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Pendulum swings toward financial area — money is on your mind. There is way to increase income potential. Make outline, prepare format, expand area of contacts. Get rid of petty, fearful notions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Lunar cycle high; means circumstances turn in your favor. You are able to make right moves at right time. Personality is emphasized. What you do, say hits the mark.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Trying to hide or cover up could be mistake. Instead, reveal flaws as well as assets. You may find that proving you are human is the greatest asset. Try it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Encourage social activity — give of yourself. Make effort to please. Some may appear selfish, indifferent. Don't compound error. Set your own pace. Provide beautiful example.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Accent on fulfillment of ambitions. This comes about through concentration on specific problem. May have much to do with communication, short journey or relative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Sit back and review, observe. Time to strengthen basic philosophy. Find out why you are here and where you are going. Fine for catching up on correspondence. Read and write.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Money or investment proposition could be spotlighted. Co-operation required between you and mate, partner. Combine forces — no day to go it alone. Promote meaningful alliance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent on public relations — reactions to your talents, efforts. Be true to yourself; don't water down your beliefs. Stick to principles; stand tall. Then you help insure success.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are fascinated with medical techniques because you have sincere disire to help people. You now have chance to build on solid base. An individual who teaches you should be trusted.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to PISCES: complete agreement which promotes successful partnership.

acerbate (AS-er-bate)
to irritate

The chairman of the state's political convention sharply warned that he would dismiss from the session any individual who purposely acerbated the principal speaker.

The narrow-minded magazine editor, a man who had acerbated many public officials with his slanted stories, was being sued by the town's mayor.

The young child's acerbating behavior was so bad that her first grade teacher had to send her home.

Eddie Albert

'Acres' Star—Serious Side

EDITOR'S NOTE — Actor Eddie Albert's public personality at the moment is that of the innocent city sucker being victimized by the country slickers in the CBS comedy series, "Green Acres." Everyone knows, however' that it is merely acting, for in recent months he appeared with an inspirational reading on a variety show as the narrator of a special "How Life Begins," describing sex for young viewers. Here Albert reveals his serious, off-camera self.

By EDDIE ALBERT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I don't want to be the biggest star in the entertainment world, and the main reason is that there's so little time. The bigger you are, the more of your time it takes up, and the less time you have to investigate the world around you and its wonders.

In my youth I deliberately set out to become a vagabond and a drifter as part of my growth, but after I'd had my fill I realized that there are more subtle ways of exploring.

Once Burl Ives and I got the urge to see what it was like to be alone in a Mexican desert with a gun, a guitar and two cans of tomato juice. We got lost and came back across the border on Dec. 7, 1941.

Horticulture Major Hobby

My urge for adventure was taken care of for the next two years in the Pacific, where I saw action on Tarawa and came out of the war with spiritual shell shock.

For the past 12 years my major hobby has been horticulture. I practice two techniques, liquid culture and organic gardening. I grow normal and abnormal plants, giving the latter the chemical treatment, and I take special pride in the size and beauty of the flowers.

I get some of the seeds from the research people at Oak Ridge who study the effects of radiation on various substances. The mutations are unpredictable — I never know if I'm going to rear a monster or a marvel.

I read about a trip down the Danube in a canoe, so I flew to Europe and paddled my own canoe over the same route in 1965. I once read a book which sent me on an introspective journey to a tiny island off Nova Scotia to meditate. Unfortunately, I became ill and had to be brought out by oxcart.

I made a film called "Human Growth" which caused some controversy in 1947 because it taught 12-year-olds about sex. It is now something of a classroom classic, I understand, and to my great joy it won a prize at the Venice Film Festival in 1965.

So Little Time

I want to make a film short in which a Catholic boy explains Judaism to a Protestant boy, a Protestant boy explains Catholicism to a Jewish boy and a Jewish boy explains Protestantism to a Catholic boy.

I'd like to be 20 years old again and look like Gregory Peck.

I'd like to have 24 hours a day just to plan and enjoy things a little more.

I'd like to take that canoe trip down the Danube again, this time with my son, and stop at Budapest and sing with the Gypsies in Romania.

I want to live to be 100. There's so little time.

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

Sen. Percy Joins Rockefeller Camp

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presidential candidate Nelson Rockefeller now has Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois in his corner, a development Richard Nixon's camp views as something of a campaign issue.

Percy, one of the young and attractive Republicans who came to Congress in the GOP comeback of 1966, said in endorsing Rockefeller Thursday that he was "the only presidential candidate who has set forth a detailed program to end the war."

He described Rockefeller's recent peace plan as "a constructive contribution to the dialogue on this issue."

In New York, Nixon's press secretary said there was some indication Percy's move was motivated by possibiity of joining a Rockefeller ticket.

The secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said "we must now conclude that the lure of the vice presidency has become a key Rockefeller weapon."

"There is some indication that Rockefeller has promised Percy the vice presidential spot," Klein said.

Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts, considered Republican moderates, have come out for Nixon, touching off speculation they might be interested in a vice presidential slot on a Nixon ticket.

Percy had been widely mentioned as a possible running mate for Nixon, who leads in the contest for the GOP nomination.

Percy said he had not been contacted by anyone in the Nixon camp on the possibiity of a Nixon-Percy ticket. Asked if his endorsement of Rockefeller eliminated this possibility, he grinned and said, "That is a possibility, of course."

Percy's daughter Sharon is married to a nephew of Rockefeller—John V. "Jay" Rockefeller IV, a Democrat and the party nominee for secretary of state in West Virginia.

Pueblo, Crew Release Tied To U.S. Apology

MOSCOW (UPI) — A high North Korean military official said today the crew of the captured American ship Pueblo will be punished and never released unless Washington apologizes "for their crimes."

"The American imperialists should be clearly aware that if they do not apologize for the crimes of the Pueblo crew, and if they do not guarantee there will be no repetition of such crimes, we will never return the crew," Col. Zo Nam-zoong, military attache in Moscow, told a news conference.

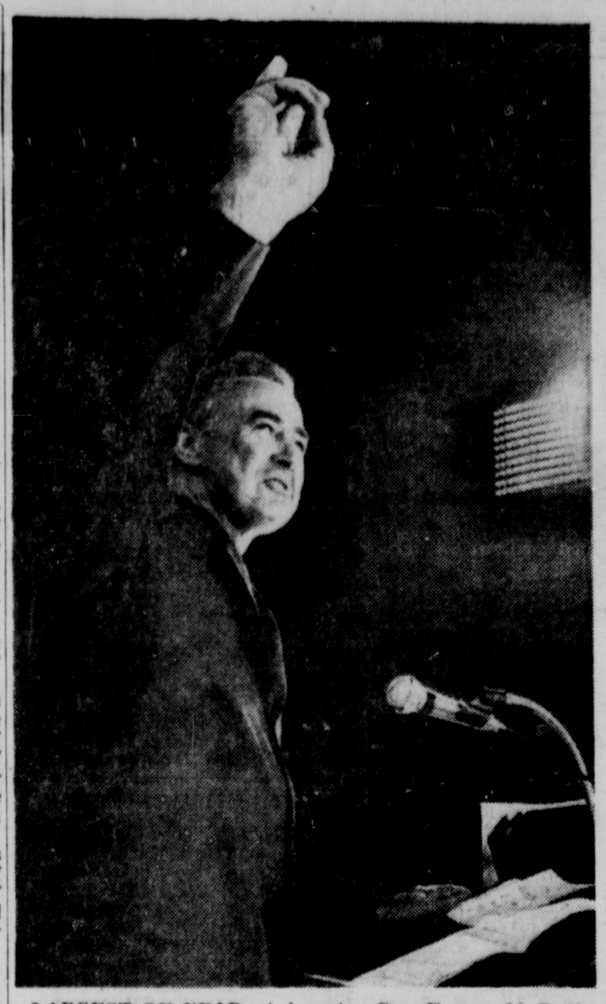

Speaking at the North Korean Embassy, Zo also said, "If the organizers of such crimes will not assume responsibility for the fate of the crew, we will have no alternative to making the crew pay for their crimes."

There was no elaboration on the colonel's threats.

The U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo with a crew of 83 officers and men was seized Jan. 23 by North Korean patrol boats and taken into the port of Wonsan.

All diplomatic efforts to release the ship and men have failed thus far.

Javits Opens Up On President

By United Press International

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, criticised by his Democratic opponent in this year's election for being pro-Johnson, has delivered his strongest attack yet on the President.

In a Senate speech Thursday, Javits accused the President of listening to the South Vietnamese government more than he listens to the American people.

Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic nominee to run against Javits, who has Republican-Liberal endorsement in his effort for a third term, has accused Javits of backing administration Vietnam policy and of voting for the Gulf of Tonkin resolution .

New York's senior senator said Johnson had shifted war policies "in a vain effort to vindicate past mistakes." Javits added the President was showing "a greater responsiveness to the protestations of the South Vietnamese government than he does to the overwhelming desire of the American people for an end to the war."

He accused Johnson of "trying to lock the nation into positions on Vietnam which have nothing more to recommend them than the sad fact that they were first mistakenly uttered some years ago."

It was one of the toughest attacks on Johnson since his current peace offensive began March 31 and it came from a Republican senator who has not been particularly outspoken against Johnson's Vietnam policies in the past.

Javits said Johnson's meeting with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu in Honolulu amounted to a "revalidation of General Thieu's veto over U.S. peace efforts..."

"Apparently," Javits said, "the same old delusions and wishful thinking that victory is just around the corner still dominate administration thinking.

"But they are not sufficient justifications for asking the nation to go on paying an unacceptably high price in blood, treasury and domestic strife in a vain effort to vindicate past mistakes in Vietnam.

"Like the egg of the cuckoo bird," Javits said, Johnson policies have "hatched into a monstrosity which threatens to eat our cupboard bare."

Dick Nixon Has It, At Least on Paper

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon still has sufficient convention delegate strength—on paper—to capture the Republican presidential nomination on the first ballot, according to a United Press International survey today.

With the selection less than two weeks away, UPI tabulated 691 probable votes for Nixon on the first ballot. A total of 667 is needed to nominate.

Of Nixon's total, 183 votes are committed to his candidacy on at least the first ballot and 508 are leaning toward it.

His nearest rival, Nelson A. Rockefeller, had 285 votes in the UPI survey, 130 committed and 155 leaning. Ronald Reagan had 157 total, 86 committed and 71 leaning. Harold Stassen had 1 committed vote.

There were still 44 uncommitted votes and 155 tied up in favorite son candidacies.

Rockefeller partisans claim Nixon has been losing delegates votes since the last of the state conventions in early July. The UPI tabulation shows a slight increase in Nixon strength during this period; there were scattered losses, but these were somewhat more than offset by the change of some previously uncommitted delegates to the leaning-toward-Nixon column.

Rockefeller has also gained strength slightly since the state conventions, largely by attracting previously uncommitted delegates.

The greatest proportionate gain in the period accrued to Reagan, who picked up delegates in Utah—the last of the state GOP conventions—and in some other places.

UPI observers across the country reported a softening in Nixon's second-ballot strength. They said there was evidence significant numbers of delegates would be willing to abandon his cause with some readiness—mainly to move to the Reagan camp.

In the Democratic race, the tabulationn gave Hubert H. Humphrey 1,078½ votes, including 419 committed and 659½ leaning. Eugene J. McCarthy had 417½, with 344 committed and 73½ leaning. A total of 1,125 are needed to nominate in the Democratic contest.

George Wallace, a third party candidate, had 15 Democratic votes, 13 committed and 2 leaning. There were 558 uncommitted votes and 325 committed to favorite sons.

Other developments:

McCarthy — The Minnesota senator told newsmen in Boston Thursday that he does not have "any plans to accept the vice presidency" if he fails to win the top spot on the ticket.

Humphrey—In a Washington speech, the vice president said that one of "our problems" in regard to the Vietnam war is that "too few people in America have been required to make any sacrifice."

Stokes 'Gamble' Rapped By Police, Businessmen

By WILLIAM ECENBARGER

CLEVELAND (UPI)—National Guardsmen, sent back into the east side area by Mayor Carl B. Stokes, restored order today to a district ravaged by three days of looting and racial violence that left 10 dead.

A force of 1,200 guardsmen patrolled a seven-square-mile area until dawn, halting persons on the deserted streets and ordering cars from the district.

Some to Remain

Reports of a crowd of juveniles gathering at an intersection some six miles outside the restricted zone sent a force of about 100 guardsmen in trucks and jeeps to the scene. The crowd was dispersed without incident.

Most of the guardsmen returned to their billets as the 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew ended. A spokesman for the mayor said some guardsmen would remain at looted stores which had not been boarded up.

Normal transit service and traffic resumed.

With peace apparently restored in the riot-scarred area, Stokes faced the task of restoring harmony among angry businessmen and police.

Stokes imposed the curfew in a seven-square-mile area after businessmen complained bitterly of the damage done by looters and firebombers, estimated to run as high as $1.5 million.

One businessman, who claimed looters caused $500,000 damage to his cleaning plant, said he was "eliminated and no one seems to care."

John Little, the mayor's executive secretary, said shortly before dawn today that "there were no major incidents and no confirmed reports or sniping." A total of 30 persons were arrested, 27 of them for curfew violations, one for attempted arson and two for looting. This brought the total arrests for three days to 96.

Little said the 3,000 National Guardsmen would remain in the city until further notice and that police would stay on 12-hour shifts.

The merchants and police were angry that Stokes had ordered all National Guardsmen and white police out of the area Wednesday night. Only Negro officers and a force of 500 black community leaders were sent in to maintain law and order.

Police in the Fifth District refused an order Thursday night to travel in two man squads, one white and one Negro, into the area where three white patrolmen were killed during the initial outbreak of violence.

They finally agreed to three-man patrols after a conference with Police Chief Michael Blackwell.

Stokes was the target of obscenities over the police radio during the ban against white law enforcement officers in the area. He was jeered at a police station Thursday night when he appeared on television to urge residents of the East Side area to observe the curfew.

Stokes ordered the curfew shortly after he toured the affected area and met with black community leaders.

He said the civil rights leaders recommended the return of the National Guard and police because "I think they recognized that without the proper authority they could not cope with the increasing numbers of people on the street."

Only sporadic incidents were reported during the curfew as the guard and police patrols moved quickly to quell any disturbance.

In his statement recalling the National Guard, Stokes placed the burden of blame for disturbances on "youngsters" and asked for the cooperation of "every black citizen in this city."

Okay College Budget, Only Minor Criticism

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

The $1,673,543 Ulster County Community College budget for next year was approved Thursday night by the County Legislature following a public hearing in the legislator's meeting room.

The vote was 23 yes with one abstention following the hearing which produced only minor criticism. Clarence Raichle, R-Kingston abstained.

Legislator William West, R-Woodstock directed the most severe criticism in which he said the college budget left too many questions unanswered. He said it was difficult to understand and confusing.

Urges Fiscal Restraint

He offered an amendment to the resolution for adoption which noted the deep concern for the increase in the amount to be raised and urged the trustees of the college to exercise the greatest fiscal restraint in the future. The amendment was defeated 18 to 6.

Also questioning various items in the budget was Gardiner Supervisor George Majestic.

Both Majority Leader Douglas V. Dye, R-2nd District, and Minority Leader Roger W. Mabie, D-7th District disagreed with West and defended the preparation of the budget.

The measure was approved by resolution accepting the $456,222 figure established as the amount the county must raise by taxation as its share of the college's operating costs. The resolution was introduced by County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago, R-New Paltz - Gardiner, who heads the Community College Committee.

In another resolution approved unanimously, a $32,500 figure was approved as a capital expenditure to purchase new equipment for the college. The total amount for equipment is $65,000 with the other half being paid by state aid.

$488,722 County Chore

Estimated revenues listed in the budget total $1,194,321 and an appropriated surplus of $23,000, leaves $456,222 to be raised by taxation. The $32,500 for equipment added to this amount results in a total of $488,722 to be raised by the county.

The budget for 1968-1969 reflects an increase of $124,692 over last year's figure of $331,530.

The budget report submitted to the County Legislature notes that the $124,692 increase represents 26 per cent of the total increase in the budget while the anticipated increase in full-time enrollment for the fall semester is 36 per cent.

Estimated revenues will include student revenues of $541,970 and the same amount is matched by state aid. Both figures indicate an increase over last year of 39.7 per cent This compares with the 39.4 per increase in the total budget.

Of the total budget $1,187,643 is appropriated for personal services compared with last year's modified budget request of $889,195. The increase is $298,448 or 33.6 per cent. The increase in personal services also reflects an increase of employe's benefits. The budget request is for $174,900 as compared with $122,000 in the modified budget request last year. The increase is $52,900 or 43.4 per cent.

Under administration a total of $191,711 is listed compared with $159,679 in last year's modified figure. The increase is $32,032, or 20.1 per cent.

Library Operation Up

The operation of the library will cost 39.6 per cent more for the coming year with a total appropriation of $89,528 over last year's figure of $64,125. The increase is $25,403.

Total maintenance shows an increase of 32.5 per cent or $17,487 over last year's cost of $53,781.

The budget received administration approval of the State University early in June. The anticipated enrollment of full-time students in the fall is 1,106 and 851 part-time students. This subsequently requires a full-time equivalent faculty increase of from 54.3 to 68.8 members.

This increase will reduce the student-faculty ratio from 18.9 to 18.1 students to each faculty member. The student-faculty ratio recommended by the State University of New York is 15 to 1.

Some New Programs

Increases in the budget are also reflected by the addition of new programs as well as by expending and improving existing educational programs. During the academic year 1968-1969, funds will be required to initiate a two-year degree program in nursing. The college will be preparing two new curriculas for the fall nursing year 1969-1970, computer science technology and law enforcement.

The educational program at the college will show steady improvement as a result of the new sophisticated laboratory and educational facilities on its new campus at Stone Ridge. Subjects planned to fully utilize the facilities will include chemistry, biology, physics, art, speech, as well as programs in mechanical and electrical technology. A modest increase in the budget is needed for these additions.

The budget report of the college indicated its plans to continue expansion of its evening and summer courses. Extension programs were offered in various locations throughout the county including Saugerties, Ellenville, Kingston and Woodstock. Due to the enthusiastic response to these extension courses, the college will further develop the offerings next year.

More community service programs including continuing education courses for the public as well as county employes will be offered. The past year the college offered courses for ambulance rescue workers, dental assistants, secretaries, attorneys, insurance personnel and high school students. The report noted that the college has discontinued use of the temporary quarters on West Chestnut Street in Kingston and has returned the property to the Kingston Consolidated School System.

Protest Terror--Blown Up

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—Five Viet Cong, two of them women, chased 20 workers out of a Chinese-language newspaper office in Saigon today and blew up the building with a 60-pound charge. The newspaper had waged an editorial campaign against terrorism.

About 20 employes were in the offices of A Chau the Asia Daily News at noon when the Viet Cong burst in, held them at bay with pistols and planted the plastic charge under the printing press.

Then, racing out, the terrorists screamed, "get out! get out! there's going to be an explosion." The employes fled. A minute later, the bomb exploded and the three-story stucco building collapsed.

A woman riding past on a motorbike was hit by debris—the only casualty of the bombing.

Gen. Creighton Abram's command today sent waves of B52 bombers against Communist infiltration routes into the city, concentrating on Viet Cong hideouts a scant three miles from Cambodia and 75 miles north of Saigon.

Two other stratofortress raids slammed tons of bombs into a North Vietnamese buildup detected Thursday 25 miles west of Hue on the northern coast, spokesmen said.

There, U.S. cavalrymen discovered the new threat to the old imperial capital, killed 11 Communists in mountain fighting and unearthed enough hidden guerrilla munitions to equip two Hanoi battalions, American commanders said.

Seven U.S. soldiers were killed and nine were wounded in the battle, the command said.

The bombing of the newspaper A Chau was the second since October when a Viet Cong explosion killed the editor, a staunch anti-Communist. Since then, it began printing U.S. propaganda leaflets.

On June 6, another Chinese-language newspaper just a few yards down the Cholon street from A Chau was bombed, killing two persons and wounding 10.

American soldiers patrolling Saigon's outskirts in attempts to quell the infiltration killed 30 Communists Thursday in fighting 27 miles northwest and 19 miles southwest of the city, spokesmen said. Thirteen Americans were killed and 27 were wounded.

Spina Says He'll Plead Innocent To Charges of 'Non-Feasance'

By JOSEPH DI LEO

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Police Director Dominick A. Spina says he will plead innocent to charges by an Essex County Grand Jury of "willfully refusing" to crack down on gambling operations.

A tough cop, who says he has loved his 35 years of police work, Spina was charged Thursday with four counts of "non-feasance" in an indictment handed up to Superior Court Judge Walter H. Conklin.

Spina had his living room window shattered by shotgun blast early this week. His life was probably saved when he stopped to put a leash on his dog, Nero, just as pellets blasted overhead.

The police director told newsmen his attorney would seek an "immediate trial," and termed the allegations "completely without merit."

Spina was backed up by Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio who appointed him in 1962. The mayor refused to accept Spina's offer to resign the directorship.

The mayor said, "The failure of the grand jury to call Director Spina and extend to him the opportunity to testify borders on the incredible, and I cannot destroy the officer's magnificent career before he has had his day in court."

If convicted on all four counts, Spina faces a maximum sentence of 12 years imprisonment and $4,000 in fines.

The indictment charged Spina with having knowledge of widespread violations of state gambling laws regarding "bookmaking, pool-selling, keeping a gambling resort and lottery operations . . ." between July, 1964 and the present.

The bill also stated that on April 15 Spina disbanded a special police gambling squad, nicknamed "Redden's Raiders," after its head, Deputy Chief John Redden.

The Essex County Grand Jury was empaneled on May 27 to investigate allegations made in a report by the Governor's Select Commission on Civil Disorders, which studied the 1967 Newark riot.

Several witnesses told the blue-ribbon panel they felt Newark City Hall was "so corrupt everything there is for sale" and that there was widespread illegal gambling in the city.

Beacon Youth Loses Life

By JON POWERS

A 20-year-old Beacon youth was struck and killed by a Penn Central freight train Thursday night near the Putnam County village of Cold Spring.

State Police from the Fishkill barracks report that Michael Newman, 20 of 478 Main Street, Beacon was standing on the southbound tracks of the Penn Central Railroad with a companion, 17-year-old Charles Todd of Willow Street, Beacon when the incident occurred at about 9 p. m.

Whistle Sounded

Engineer F. L. Decker, the operator of Penn Central freight train No. 74, told state police that he was proceeding on the southbound tracks at approximately 40 miles an hour when he observed the two youths standing on the tracks. He sounded the train's whistle and applied the brakes, but the train was unable to stop in time.

The whistle apparently startled the two youths. Todd jumped clear of the tracks just as the train passed through, but Newman was unable to react in time. He was struck by the front right section of the train and thrown clear of the tracks.

Newman was pronounced dead at the scene by Doctor Freeman of the Butterfield Hospital in Cold Spring. Todd was not injured.

An autopsy was performed at Butterfield Hospital. While the cause of death was not immediately determined, Putnam County Medical Examiner Anthony Constantino did state, in a preliminary verdict, that the death was accidental.

No Action Pending

The accident was investigated by Investigator McCauley of the Fishkill State Police barracks and Sgt. Cleary of the uniformed detail at Fishkill.

Decker was questioned by State Police investigators at the Fishkill station last night. There is no criminal action pending.

Last night's incident was the second fatal train accident to occur on the Penn Central tracks in the area within a week. Last Saturday afternoon, two 19-year-old Long Island girls were killed when their auto was struck by a Penn Central train at an unguarded crossing on New Copake Road, several miles southeast of Hudson.

Ted Says No to Veep Spot

BOSTON (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today that for personal reasons it would be "impossible" for him to run for vice president this fall.

"Under normal circumstances such a possibility would be a high honor and a challenge to further public service. But for me, this year, it is impossible," Kennedy said.

"My reasons are purely personal. They arise from the change in my personal situation and responsibilities as a result of the events of last month," he said in obvious reference to the slaying of his brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

Wawarsing To Consider Camp Purchase

The Wawarsing Town Board meets tonight in special session to consider purchasing the 75-acre Camp Sunrise to serve as a community center for the township.

Total cost for the land and buildings is $65,000.

Supervisor Frank Harkin called for the special meeting after board members made a physical inspection of the former summer resort.

The resort, including its swimming pool, baseball fields, handball and basketball courts, casino and varied buildings was made available to the town through co-owner Jack Kramer at the regular town meeting two weeks ago.

Supervisor Harkin appeared enthused over the possible purchase of the property located beyond Cape Pond, just west of the Greenfield area.

Harkin sees the area as a potential first aid squad training site an area for youth and the elderly, and "an all around township community center."

Not the least of the important aspects of Camp Sunrise, or Sunrise Manor as it is sometimes called, is the fact that within its acreage rests a vast gravel bank.

Another significant point is that the only area for town expansion is west of Ellenville. The reason for this is that to the north, on both sides of Route 209, the land is developed residentially and commercially; the south is hotel country, and the mountains rise to the east.

Tonight's meeting has been set for 7:30 p. m.

The $65,000 price figure was arranged by the owners of the resort especially for township consideration, co-owner Kramer had declared.

Meet Dyson Night In Kingston Sunday

"Meet John Dyson Night" will be held in Kingston Sunday at 5 p. m. at the Dyson headquarters, 288 Fair Street.

The event, to which the public is envited, is being arranged by The Ulster County Volunteers for Dyson who support him in his candidacy for Congress in the 28th District.

Acknowledges Acceptance

Dyson will speak briefly and will answer questions and talk informally with those attending. Refreshments will be served.

The Millbrook publisher, in a letter today to his Republican opponent Hamilton Fish Jr., declared, "I am happy that you have finally recognized the importance of face - to - face discussion and accepted my challenge for public debate.

"I am pleased that you have agreed to meet me on Aug. 25 in Columbia and Greene counties, whose needs are of great importance to anyone who sincerely wishes to represent the people of the 28th District in Congress."

The agreement of Dyson's principal opponent to engage in debates came in response to four letters sent to Fish over a period of five weeks, which had previously gone unanswered. The Millbrook publisher pleased that in your letter you stated: "I am especially pleased that in your letter you spoke of your general willingness to engage me in debate in the future. Because candidates for Congress must also be concerned with the problems of Dutchess, Schoharie and Ulster counties as well as Columbia and Greene, I am confident that we can schedule our other debates in those counties."

Dyson, a graduate of the Cornell College of Agriculture and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton University, declared: "I shall be more than willing to discuss any questions you may have concering my ideas about the Farm Bureau, declining rural areas, or any other agricultural matter.

He also suggested that the two other candidates, G. Gordon Liddy and Peter Kane DuFault be invited to participate.

Ulster Town Sets Public Hearing Dates

Public hearing dates were set for two Town of Ulster projects — construction of a town hall complex and establishment of a sewer improvement area — at Thursday night's special Town Board meeting following informational sessions held at Lake Katrine Grange Hall.More than 100 residents attended.

Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz said the public hearing on the proposed construction of a new town hall complex with highway department gagage will be held Tuesday, Aug. 13 at 7:30 p. m. in Chambers School. The project is estimated to cost $300,000.

The public hearing on the establishment of a sewer improvement area embracing about 1,580 families within a four-mile area of the town will be held Tuesday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the Chambers School. The sewer project is estimated to cost $4,528,000.

The Town of Ulster supervisor said there seemed to be a positive air among those attending that these projects are sorely needed and he did not anticipate any opposition at the public hearings.

Following the public hearings, dates will be set by the Town Board for referendum votes on each project on separate dates. The entire township will vote on the town hall complex project. However, on the sewer improvement area installation only those voters residing within the improvement area may cast ballots for or against the project.

Supervisor Musialkiewicz said brochures about the town hall project were distributed at the informational meeting and additional brochures are available at his office in the post office, Vincent Street. Photos and drawings with specifications are on display at the office on both projects, he said.

The sewer improvement area embraces an area generally bounded on the north by Leggs Mills Road, on the east by a natural drainage divide running generally parallel to and to the east of Route 9W, on the south by the city line and on the west by the Esopus Creek.

Camp Slates Benefit Play

Camp Rising Sun, Rhinebeck, will produce the play, "The Birds", tonight for the benefit of the Upper Dutchess Visiting Nurses Association.

The performance of the Walter Kerr comedy will begin at 8:30 p. m. at the camp site. The public is invited.

Residents of Camp Rising Sun come from many countries of the world and annually produce a play to benefit a service organization of the Rhinebeck community.

Harry Stuhldreher, Don Miller, Elmer Layden and Jim Crowley were the famous "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame.

CONVENTION AWARD — Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association Thursday night honored a charter member who has served in the firemanic service for 66 years, former Kingston Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy. A plaque recognizing his faithful service to the county volunteers was presented at the annual convention dinner held at New Paltz Legion Hall. Presentation was made by Supreme Court Justice Lawrence H. Cooke (right) of Monticello, a past president of Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemens Association. Chief Murphy joined Union Hose Company Aug. 2, 1902 and was named chief of Kingston Fire Department Nov. 1, 1924. More than 350 delegates and guests attended the dinner. The convention program tonight at 8 p. m. will include election of officers and filing of annual reports at New Paltz Town Hall. The three-day convention will culminate with the Firemen's Parade Saturday at 4 p. m.. (Freeman photo by Haines).

KUR Demolitions

Kingston Urban Renewal Agency yesterday released plans for demolition of 42 more structures in the Uptown Project and another 94 in the Downtown project, bringing the demolition phase in the latter to near completion. Contracts will be let in September.

In other news, the agency told of the completion of a 40 by 70 feet basketball court along Chambers and Ann Streets between Mill and East Union. The agency blacktopped the court and the Kingston Recreation Department will erect two basketball rims and provide supervision.

In other youth news, the agency announced that it is employing 10 young men for the summer to work at maintaining the agency's property Downtown.

After conferring with committees of Uptown businessmen, the agency has prepared sketches to provide a canopy over Wall Street on the sidewalks from John to North Front Street. This latest trend, called a semi-mall permits through vehicular traffic and unloading areas.

Pedestrian traffic will be opened on that section of Broadway between Stuyvesant Street and Newkirk Avenue. The agency's engineers had advised KURA that the wall was showing signs of displacement and presented a possible danger to life and property. The current repairs are temporary but permanent repairs will be instigated with the approval of the federal government of a repair contract from the agency.

Final plans have been submitted by the agency to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in New York City for a new dock along the Rondout at the foot of Broadway and a 20,000 square foot pork.

The agency is also waiting for HUD approval on construction of Meadow Street realignment and extension of Murray Street and Maple Street from Murray to Newkirk Avenue in addition to related utilities and street lights.

Presiding at the meeting yesterday afternoon was the agency's chairman, G. Scott Alexander. He was accompanied by the agency's acting executive director, Ward B. Tongue.

It was announced at the meeting that Eddie Parker, newly appointed agency member, has been named secretary to the agency.

Atty. Gen. Reviews the Motives Behind Opposition to Abe Fortas

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says political partisanship and, in some cases, opposition to civil rights advances are the motives behind many of those who oppose the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

Clark, in an interview, also said the slaying of 10 persons Tuesday in a Cleveand Negro neighborhood was "the random act of a handful of very extreme and violent-prone militants," and not part of a nationwide conspiracy to cause racial unrest.

In discussing President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to move up on the Supreme Court from associate justice to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren, Clark said that "quite clearly there is dominant in the opposition a highly partisan strain that's unfortunate. I don't believe a political affiliation should enter into the qualification for nomination."

He added that "those who oppose securing equal rights and civil rights are opposing the nomination. I would suggest the basis for opposition, in truth, is their opposition to the very great advances that have been made in civil rights under law."

Clark also defended the Justice Department's stand in writing a controversial memorandum to the Senate Judiciary Committee praising Fortas. The department was criticized by opponents of the nomination of trying to propagandize the committee by the memo.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he requested the memo.

Clark said the department always has supported administration nominees for judicial appointments. He cited Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's testimony in support of the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. John D. Coleman to the federal bench.

He said those who have made the memorandum an issue have used it "in an emotional way in my judgment just to create a diversion. I don't believe serious people are impressed by it, nor are other senators."

In discussing the Cleveland shootings, Clark said that "in one sense you could wonder why something like that hadn't happened before in other cities."

Clark rejected continuing reports that a nationwide conspiracy is behind unrest in big cities. He said "there was in fact no significant activity in any other city that could be related to what happened in Cleveland so far as we know at this time."

He added that "the FBI has not indicated any change as to the views heretofore expressed by Mr. Hoover (FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover) as to the existence of a conspiracy." Hoover has said there is no evidence of a conspiracy in big city racial disturbances.

Clark also rejected any thought that because the Cleveland shooting did not immediately break out into widespread race rioting the wave of urban disturbances is subsiding. "To feel this is just a passing phenomenon and now the fever is broken is to misread the cause. There are vast underlying causes which will not go away."

Prague Ready For Showdown

By JAMES O. JACKSON

PRAGUE (UPI)—Czechoslovakia's Communist reformers today put their regime in new order in readiness for a showdown meeting with angry Soviet leaders. Observers said the changes may both please the Russians and irk them still more.

A Czech Communist party Central Committee source said the confrontation between First Party Secretary Alexander Dubcek and his Kremlin critics probably will come Monday.

The Dubcek-led Czech party presidium in an announcement once more proclaimed its allegiance to the East bloc. "At the same time, they stressed the invevitability of pursuing a policy of a sovereign and independent state," the presidium's announcement said.

The two-sided Czech policy statement mirrored major changes announced late Thursday. Out of party office went Lt. Gen. Vaclav Prchlik, a man the Soviet press has accused of being one reason the Kremlin is threatening to use force if necessary to halt the anticommunism it says is at work in this former satellite.

Agency Abolished

But the Czech reformers also abolished the agency that Prchlik headed—the party's eight commission. This was sure to anger the Soviets.

The Czech eight commission, a holdover from the Stalinist regime overturned by Dubcek and his reformers eight months ago, policed the red politics of such governmental units as the army, security forces, judges and prosecutors. It was a key commissar system and dear to Soviet eyes, observers said.

It could not be immediately determined if the action actually meant Prchlik was being thrown into the power wilderness. Prague announcements merely said he was being returned to a purely military post. His fate will hinge on what that post will be.

The Soviet press zeroed in on the general for his public call for extending Czechoslovakia's reform policies to the Warsaw pact, the Soviet-led East bloc military alliance. Prchlik advocated giving the pact's smaller partners more power.

Independent State

The Presidium gave no hint it is repudiating Prchlik's views on the pact. If anything, its announcement said the opposite. Speaking of reform delegates being elected for a party congress in September, it said they endorse "the inevitable of pursuing a policy of a sovereign and independent state."

GI Defenders of Saigon: Confident, Impatience

SAIGON (AP) — Mud-caked American GIs defending the approaches to Saigon exhibit a mixture of dread, confidence and impatience as they prepare for the third battle of Saigon.

Warned by their commanders that the third offensive of the year against South Vietnam's capital may be the biggest battle of the war, quite a number voice fervent hopes that some other unit will bear the brunt of the fighting.

Sitting at the edge of a rice paddy, hands cupped around cigarettes in the monsoon shower, combat infantrymen don't talk about the strategic importance of the battle, how it might affect the Paris peace talks or what would happen in Saigon if the enemy again breaks through the city's outer defense perimeter.

Instead the talk is of chances for survival, whether the unit will be rotated out of a particularly dangerous area before the attack opens, whether intelligence can possibly be right about the large number of battalions facing them.

When the word first came that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regiments were massing for a new attack, it set off a low voltage feeling of excitement. But weeks later and with several enemy regiments maneuvering away from the capital, the edge of expectation is somewhat dulled. When intelligence reports of an attack in mid-July proved wrong and new estimates put D-Day as far away as Septembtr, some commanders found it difficult to keep their men up to peak performance.

"When the men haven't been in a good fight for several weeks they tend to relax. That's just what Charlie wants," the commander of one infantry company said.

Many of the men are newly arrived, and the battle may be their first major fight of the war. These men look forward to it as a personal testing under fire.

Not so Sgt. Glen Boulware of Dallas, Tex., who has nearly finished his one-year tour.

"Me, I just hopeth e next one holds off until I can get out of here. Enough is enough," he said. "My wife wants me out of Saigon and so do I. But I didn't even want to be in the Army and here I am anyway."

Weinstein on Election:

Acting Speaker Sees Backing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Moses Weinstein, acting Assembly speaker, says "some surprising support" among fellow Democrats, combined with backing from some Republicans, will assure him the speakership when the legislature convenes in January.

Weinstein, powerful Queens Democratic leader, has been the party's majority leader in the Assembly. He became acting speaker Tuesday because of the resignation of Anthony J. Travia, who was tapped for a federal judgeship.

"I plan to be a working speaker during the next five months," Weinstein told newsmen and Capitol personnel Thursday.

He noted that Assembly Republicans are marshalling their forces for the November election.

"That's what the Democrats must do," Weinstein said. "That's what I plan to do."

Weinstein faces two hurdles in his bid for the top post in the 1969 Assembly. His party must retain its majority position in the election, and he must prevail in an expected battle with Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, Brooklyn Democratic leader, who also aspires to the speakership.

"I have some surprising support," Weinstein told reporters. He declined, however, to identify the upstate Democrats he says endorse him.

His plans for the election include a possible "candidates' school" to help Democrats get the votes they need.

Beyond that, Weinstein is setting forth ways of expediting legislative business.

He said he wants joint legislative committees to work actively to have bills ready well before the start of the new session.

He also hopes to keep assemblymen in Albany "through most of the week" at the outset.

"I don't want to work one day and then go home," Weinstein said.

Despite his apparent confidence, Weinstein hesitated when an admirer addressed him as "Mister Speaker."

"Whenever people say that to me, I can't help but look around for Tony (Travia)," he said.

Mail Spending Cut Program Might Be Partly Rescinded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate hopes to head off a threatened weekend cutback in mail service by voting to rescind a major portion of its spending cut program.

A vote was tentatively scheduled for late afternoon — or possibly Saturday — on a measure to exempt postal workers from a forced reduction in federal payrolls.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson had told him the Saturday service cutback would be postponed for another week if the Senate passed the measure.

Monroney said he was expecting a clear majority for the measure. But a floor fight was expected, led on the opposition side by the Senate's leading economy crusader, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

Williams said that exemption of the economy mandate Congress invoked earlier this year as its price for approving the 10 per cent surcharge on income tax payments.

Under Monroney's bill, he said, 83,000 of the 205,000 federal jobs Congress ordered to be cut by attrition over the next four years would be exempted.

"It will shoot the bottom out of the whole thing," Williams said.

But Monroney warned that if the measure failed to pass, Watson would eliminate ordinary Saturday window service at large post offices this weekend. That would mean delays of two or three days for postal customers expecting magainzes, checks and letters.

Our children are taught in school to drive a car, but are given absolutely no guidelines as to how to budget this major purchase against other necessary expenditures they will have to face when they become working adults.

They are taught how to handle an automobile safely, but not how to handle budgets and credit safely.

Making this charge is S. C. Patterson, president of the National Foundation of Consumer Credit, which reports that an estimated $500 million evaporated from the economy last year as 192,000 "overextended Americans" flocked to the bankruptcy courts at the rate of more than one a minute.

Except for a hard core of perhaps 10,000 "credit drunks," who will never be able to handle their personal financial affairs, most of this 192,000 didn't get into trouble deliberately and they want to get out of debt honestly, says Patterson.

The average "overextended American" is not a disadvantaged ghetto resident. He is a reasonably well-off blue collar worker who makes $500 a month. He is married and has two or more children. His indebtedness is in the neighborhood of $3,000. Generally, he is a man who simply got in over his depth unwittingly, bit by bit, or was pushed over the edge by an emergency which could have been planned for but wasn't.

Patterson believes that credit training at the high school level could have helped him avoid the pitfalls of overindebtedness. Acting on this belief, the foundation is providing texts for courses now being taught in some 3,000 high schools throughout the country and is designing new courses for junior high school, college and adult education levels.

Democracy at Work

Hundreds of millions of viewers the world over will hear and listen to the proceedings at the national political conventions. A consortium of 42 foreign television networks from 30 countries will pool their resources to bring the story of how democray works to the rest of the world.

The British Broadcasting Company will act as anchorman. Using footage shot by NBC and CBS cameras as raw material, a special BBC production team will put together a 30-minute condensation at the end of each evening's session. This will be transmitted by satellite to London and Tokyo. From London, the edited film will be transmitted to Europe and North Africa; the Tokyo relay will serve Japan and Australia. European networks taking part will include both East and West European countries.

Necessity, both economic and physical, dictated this approach to convention coverage. By pooling resources, the 42 networks will be able to do the Atlantic portion of the two-week project for about $1.6 million. BBC's extra cost will be only $100,000. The balance will be divided among the participating networks. By comparison, American networks are spending $23 million. But then it is our President we will watch nominated.

Auto Insurance Hearing

A Senate antitrust subcommittee hearing is revealing statistics that will startle auto owners used to raises in their premiums on the ground that more money is needed to meet claims and losses.

The subcommittee staff reports that since 1930, the auto insurance industry has collected $120 billion in premiums for three primary forms of coverage—injury to others, damage to the property of others, and damage to the insured person's own car—and has paid out $60.8 billion.

Thus in 37 years, the gap between pay-in and pay-out amounted to $59.2 billion. Of this sum, $21.6 billion was accumulated in the last five years alone, when the industry's demands for higher premiums on the ground of greater claims and losses grew into a loud chorus across the country.

The insurance industry and its rating groups were exempted from the antitrust laws by the McCarran Act of 1945. A central purpose of the current hearing is to find out how well or how poorly the public has been served by the exemption, which was granted on condition that regulation be undertaken by the states.

The discrepancies among the states are so broad, that federal regulation or at least federal standards, may be the outcome of these hearings.

Senate Majority Leader Everett M. Dirksen went to the defense of President Johnson on the charge of cronyism for appointing Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice by saying, "Where are you going to find a person whose views you can trust if he is not a friend?" Friendship some times beclouds judgment, too.

To focus attention on pleas that adults be included in programs of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, a relay run over 175 miles was staged from Landsdale, Pa., to Washington, D. C. The relay runners, all adults, proved their point.

"Get This. We Aren't FOR Anything--- We're AGAINST!"

David Lawrence Says

Riots, Guns Within Federal Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON — For many months now there has been a tendency by many groups to scoff at the charges that some of the riots across the country have been due to a conspiracy. The National Commission to study civil disorder, appointed by President Johnson and headed by former Governor Otto Kerner of Illinois, concluded that none of the 1967 disturbances was caused by or the consequence of "any organized plan or 'conspiracy.'"

But some concrete evidence of a conspiracy has been revealed in connection with the riots in Cleveland Tuesday night which resulted in the death of ten persons. Police officials in Cleveland declare that the disorder was planned and that it was part of a "black power" plot against four major cities.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who is a Negro, said he received information from the FBI and other intelligence sources that major disturbances would break out on Wednesday morning in his city as well as in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh. He had a police task force ready on Tuesday night to respond.

Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso, commander of the Ohio National Guard, commented that, on the basis of intelligence reports, "this is a conspiracy by black militant groups to cause disturbances not only in Ohio but all across the United States."

Fred Evans, a Black Nationalist leader who was arrested by the Cleveland policemen, told officers that he and 17 others instigated the shooting. Patrolman David Hicks said that Evans boasted he and the others began firing at the officers because "you police have bothered us too long."

Another self - proclaimed member of a Black Nationalist organization is reported to have declared that the snipers came from a group of 50 or 60 Negro veterans recently returned from Vietnam who have an arsenal of several hundred weapons and "decided they were going to get some white cops." But the list of casualties shows that of the ten dead, three were white policemen, three were Negro snipers and four others were Negroes caught in the crossfire. Twenty - nine other persons, 16 of them police officers, were wounded.

Incidentally, in May 1967 Detective Sergeant John Ungvry of Cleveland stated that, under the direction of Evans, Black Nationalists were plotting a "black revolution" to coincide with "a war between Red China and the United States."

There have been many reports in the last year indicating that the disturbances inside the United States might have some connection with the Communists.

Certainly, there is no doubt that some of the ammunition which was used in the latest Cleveland riot was transported in interstate commerce, with perhaps an international connection.

The problem is what will the federal government do about it. Representative Charles A. Vanik, Democrat of Ohio — who lives in Cleveland — has criticized other members of Congress for having weakened a pending gun-control bill. Pointing out that sniper fire in Cleveland came from M-1 carbines, M-16 automatics, shotguns, pistols and apparently other long guns, he said to the House of Representatives on Wednesday:

"Undoubtedly some of these guns came into the city through interstate commerce and certainly the ammunition did. Yesterday the House riddled effective gun controls by weakening amendments, including one which exempts ammunition from application of the law."

The reluctance of many members of Congress to vote for strict laws to control the sale and distribution of guns and ammunition is said to be due to a "lobby" which is supported not only by businesses which are engaged in the manufacture and sale of guns, but by rifle organizations.

The whole problem of how to deal with riots has not yet been solved, and the inclination in Washington has been to pass responsibility on to the state and city governments. But the presence of a traffic in interstate commerce" in connection with the Cleveland riots and the existence of a plan to start disturbances in several cities puts the matter plainly within federal jurisdicion.

It would not be surprising if, during the coming political campaign, the people insisted upon an explicit statement from the presidential candidates as to what they propose concerning not only further restrictions on interstate traffic in arms but the uprooting of the conspiracies which lead to riots and disturbances.

Liberals Snare Selves as Specialists in False Hope

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some of the nation's older liberals recognize that, as promoters of major social legislation over a span of 35 years, they have often been guilty of promising too much.

They saw programs like public welfare, public housing and aid to economically distressed area as virtually final solutions of great American problems.

By investing too much emotion in their public clamor for these programs, the liberals successfully conveyed to the people the idea that solutions could be final, that society could be perfected little by little.

Today they know better. They have seen public housing become a long - range failure which sometimes breeds highrise slums. The welfare system has crumbled before their eyes, snarling itself in a tangle of complex rules, damaging human dignity, creating a permanent sese of dependency in some families.

So the older liberals, and many of their younger counterparts, have lost faith in the idea that, by stitching together a kind of grand patchwork quilt of social programs, America could rid itself of its great problems.

Many are quite lost today. No new, all - embracing faith has arisen to replace the old. Some liberals simply do not know what to propose. Some think that the answer may lie in far more massive programs calling for the outlay of hundreds of billions.

Others, however, have chosen to join rebellious students, militant black Americans and antiwar groups in a heavy assault upon the whole establishment of government and society.

The underlying notion seems to be that a "system" which will not quickly transform itself into the perfected structure they desire is just not worth keeping.

But it may very well be that the liberals who are pursuing this course are falling into the old liberal trap. In their high - pitched cries for a new system which they clearly imply will be more perfect than the one we have, they are promising too much.

So, too, are the student rebels, the black militants and the antiwar types whose shorthand slogans usually include the urgent word "now" and really represent a demand that a sort of instant perfection be introduced into American life while they are still marching in protest against the old ways.

The most extreme students are the worst in this regard, since they busy themselves trying to destroy what is here and leave the promise for the future largely unspoken.

Some of the white liberals and the more extreme black militants are not much better. Talk of a "black nation" within this country is never supported by practical proposals indicating how it could be achieved and maintained. Nor is it ever made plain how a new "system" could avoid anarchy on the one hand or dictatorship on the other.

The promoters of these notions like to comfort themselves with the argument that their talk of "revolution" holds out the only real hope for a troubled, problem - ridden American society.

But they are making extravagant promises which they cannot support with substance. They do not make clear and cannot make clear what a black nation or any other kind of new system would be like.

It may not be unfair to say that in their clamor for a perfection that cannot be realized, these promoters have made themselves specialists in false hope. As such, they are far crueler men than those moderates who fight for change with hard realism and make more limited promises which can in fact be kept.

Drew Pearson Says

Alleged Code of Ethics Was Phoniest Move by Congress

WASHINGTON — The phoniest move by Congress this year was to pass an alleged code of ethics. The code didn't even begin to deal with the finagling and backstairs lobbying that takes place on Capitol Hill.

One illustration of its failure is what is happening with television, where crime and violence programming is influencing the crime rate in this country. In England and France, where the crime rate is almost zero compared with the United States, television is strictly regulated. In the United States it is supposed to be regulated by the Federal Communications Commission. But in real fact it is not

Basic reason: the influence of Congressmen who own TV stations or have law firms which represent TV clients or who want favors from the networks. In addition, the President's family, for the first time in history, is a TV owner. Congressmen with pocketbook interests have cracked down on the Federal Communications Commission brazenly.

When the FCC tried to limit the number of commercials on TV, for example, the House wrathfully voted 317 to 43 to strip the agency of this power. Few other issues have received such overwhelming House support.

Secret No. 1—Congressmen like to see themselves on TV, and TV stations offer a lot of free time. A broadcasting magazine survey indicated that 70 per cent of the Senators and 60 per cent of the Representatives film TV reports to constituents which are shown "as a public service" by local stations.

The taxpayers, incidentally, provide both the Senate and House with free radio and television studios. The members pay for little more than the cost of the film, scarcely a fraction of what commercial studios would charge. Sen. Everett Dirksen, R - Ill., for example, gained an advantage over other recording stars by cutting his profitable, patriotic recording of "Gallant Men" in the tax - subsidized Senate studio.

Secret No. 2 — The radio-TV industry has more influence on Capitol Hill than any other lobby, except possibly the highway lobby. The National Association of Broadcasters has lined up station owners in every state who can be called upon to apply pressure upon their Congressmen. When the occasion demands, the NAB can back this up with letters from its 3,600 member stations. Each network also keeps a vice president in Washington, whose main function is to keep Congressmen happy.

Secret No. 3 — Many Congressmen have a pocketbook interest in broadcasting through personal or family holdings in radio - TV stations. Equally significant, Congressmen's law firms have radio - TV clients.

To illustrate, Rep. Clarence Brown Jr., R - Ohio, isn't the least abashed about feathering his nest via WCOM in Urbana, Ohio. As executor of his father's estate, he holds 75 per cent of the station's voting stock. Yet he has become the champion of radio-television interests inside the House Communications Subcommittee, which processes all broadcasting legislation.

Brazen Congressmen

Brazenly, he led the fight against forming a Public Broadcasting Corporation. Equally brazen, he sought to restrict educational radio and television. He was willing to permit the teaching of academic courses on educational stations, but he introduced legislation to prevent these stations from broadcasting dramatizations, classical music or cultural activities which might attract viewers away from the commercial channels.

Another brazen pocketbook Congressman is Paul Jones, D - Mo. When the FCC tried to regulate TV commercials, the loudest howl came from him. He did not reveal that his family then owned a substantial share in KBOA of Kennett, Mo.

"I have had a recent experience with the Federal Communications Commission," he wailed on the House floor, "and have been the victim of rulings made by incompetent employees who have been given too much authority with no supervision and no responsibility. When you try to talk to some of the commissioners, you are usually referred to some subordinate.

"I want to predict that unless we do pass this legislation (to prevent the FCC from limiting commercials) we are going to find the Federal Communications Commission, and particularly the employees of that commission, taking unto themselves authority which no one feels they should have."

Rep. John Dellenback, R - Ore., who owns a large block of stock in KMED - TV of Medford, Ore., called for a statute last April that would require the community - antenna TV companies to pay copyright fees for the programs they pick up from the networks.

Equally brazen, this legislation is being handled in the Senate by Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., who owns an interest in Midwest Video, a CATV complex. His son and son - in - law are also stockholders. He doesn't worry about this obvious conflict of interest.

In an interview with Television magazine, McClellan described the CATV business as "vital."

"I will oppose anything I think will destroy it," he snorted.

This is part of the case against Congress. The public has been fooled by the adoption of a code of ethics, but that code merely brushes a lot of unethical conduct under the rug. Indirectly, this is one reason there is so much crime and violence on television.

Humphrey Still Squeezed On the Vietnam War Issue

By PETER LISAGOR
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey is trying hard to avoid being whipsawed in the Vietnam war issue by friends and opponents alike.

He has said again that he has no intention of repudiating either President Johnson or his policies in Vietnam even if it costs him support in his campaign for the presidency.

The vice president's dilemma was heightened by the Honolulu conference last week in which President Johnson and Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam took a firm line and left him no opening for political maneuvering.

Humphrey's plight was simply ignored in Hawaii. Even on the point of a possible cease - fire, for which Humphrey has called as an early order of business, the two presidents gave him no satisfaction.

"If President Johnson had been a candidate," an official here noted, "he might have been a bit ambiguous on a cease - fire and the, promise it held out for an end to casualties while the talks go on. But he isn't in politics, so he didn't have to fuzz over one of the most intricate problems in a guerrilla war."

What the Johnson - Thieu communique said was that a cease - fire must be guaranteed through effectively policed arrangements, and that is admittedly a long way off in the negotiating process.

The vice president already has rejected the proposal of Vermont Gov. Philip Hoff that he resign his official post in order to prove his independence from the Johnson administration and its Vietnam policy.

Hoff now says that Humphrey will issue a detailed statement on his own Vietnam position sometime before Aug. 10.

The Vermont governor strongly implies it will contain differences with the administration.

However, in an interview with United Press International, Humphrey emphasized, as he has in the past, that he has no conflict with the President.

"To those who say that I must repudiate my President and repudiate my government and its policy or they won't support me," Humphrey was quoted as saying, "then I say to them that they will have to find somebody else to support."

Denying a report of differences with LBJ over a party platform plank on Vietnam, Humphrey said he hoped the Democratic platform will contain proposals that will influence the peace negotiations in Paris.

The necessity for Humphrey to continue denying private differences with the administration on Vietnam reflects his problem in attracting anti - war supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Those urging him to stake out a position of compromise and conciliation come mainly from the Kennedy camp and from liberal sympathizers who fear his identification with the war will result in widespread defections in their ranks.

The point, of course, is that Humphrey has been a loyal supporter of the war policies, often being called "more royal than the king" in his defense of them. Moreover, Mr. Johnson has told visitors to the White House that the vice president has not differed "one iota" on Vietnam, and if Humprhey sought to suggest otherwise, he would risk offending the President.

Humphrey may later decide to take that risk, but even his friends say that would be out of character for a man who rates loyalty as a top political and personal priority.

The Vietnam issue, some experts contend, may be largely neutralized if Richard M. Nixon is the GOP nominee against Humphrey. Nixon's own firm and unyielding position on the war might give Humphrey the opening he has not yet found to develop a posture of moderation and reasonableness he can legitimately call his own.

Conant Proposes State Takeover Of Public School Financing

By GERRY MCLAUGHLIN

ALBANY, N.Y. AP — State and local government officials are being asked to weigh the possibility of a drastic change in public school financing.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. recently urged responsible officials in New York and elsewhere to consider the feasibility of state takeover of the localities' share of school financing.

At the same time he called for consideration of an accompanying move to eliminate local authority to levy school taxes.

The ideas were advanced last month by Dr. James B. Conant, expert whose opinions on public school matters are widely known to education professionals in this country and abroad. Allen told a school superintendents' meeting two weeks ago that he felt the Conant suggestion merited a "thorough study."

Reaction to his call has been slow in developing, but the legislature, at least, seems willing to take a look at the Conant plan.

The proposal is bound to arouse strong feelings in education and government circles since it involves a potentially drastic change in the pattern of school financing and affects the principle of local control.

Such key officials as State Senate Education Chairman D. Clinton Dominick of Newburgh, Senate Finance Chairman Warren M. Anderson of Binghamton and State Budget Director T. Norman Hurd agree that the state should take a look at the idea.

At this point, however, neither Dominick nor Hurd are saying much more than that. Anderson says he has an open mind on the subject but showed himself wary of any undermining of local control over public schools.

The three were among a scattering of state officials asked for comment on Allen's call for a study.

The commissioner made it clear that he is not endorsing the Conant proposals but, rather, pressing for a sound evaluation of their worth.

Dominick says he believes the plan possibly could be explored in connection with proposed state takeover of other items such as welfare costs.

One big question involved is how the state would raise the money to assume the local share — now about $2 billion —of the burden.

New York does not have a statewide real propery tax. Since local real - property taxes furnish the money for localities' shares of the cost of running the schools, legillation to transfer the jurisdiction would be necessary.

Anderson expressed concern about this aspect of the picture.

"I have a feeling, he said, "that local sharing has been one of our great strengths in education in New York. And we have to wonder what effect such a change would have on efforts to decentralize New York City schools."

Allen's stature in the state virtually guarantees that the Conant proposals will receive more consideration in the months ahead.

16 The Negro Doers

Writers and casting directors who have studied the old West . . . fear the incredulity of readers and viewers . . . They fear that the accurate representation of the Negro's role in the opening of the West would paradoxically seem to be a falsification of history.

—From "The Negro Cowboys"

There had always been a few outstanding Negroes, a few who somehow obtained education or found an opportunity to excel.

Now, in the flush of freedom after the Civil War, Negroes moved ahead in all fields. Negro churches and fraternal orders expanded. Banks, stores, businesses were founded. At the time of Emancipation, one in 20 Negroes could read; by 1900 the figure was one out of two. There were tens of thousands of teachers, writers, ministers, professional men, performers. In the cities, an elite, well-to-do, snobbish Negro middle class was emerging.

There had always been a few inventive Negroes. In the 18th century, for example, shipowner James Forten invented a sail-handling device. Before the Civil War, Norbert Tillieux devised a new method of refining sugar—ironically contributing to the profitability of slavery.

In the second half of the 19th century, Jan Matzelinger from Dutch Guiana (one of 60,000 Negroes who voluntarily migrated to the United States after the Civil War) perfected a device that revolutionized the shoe-making industry. Granville T. Woods invented induction telegraphy, the third rail on electric railways and 23 other inventions. By 1900, Negroes had been granted patents on some 400 useful inventions.

There had always been Negro explorers. James P. Beckwith was a famous contemporary of Kit Carson and Jim Bridger.

Now the West was to be tamed and settled and Negroes took a prominent part. Philip Durham and Everett L. Jones, authors of "The Negro Cowboys," estimate that 5,000 Negroes rode the cattle trails along with whites. Two Negro infantry and two cavalry regiments saw service in the West for three decades after the Civil War. (The latter were to save the day for Teddy Roosevelt at Las Guasimas, Cuba, in 1898.)

But after the West was fenced in, write Durham and Jones, the Negro was fenced out. By 1900, when history became myth and legend, the Negro cowboy and trooper, like the wild prairies and wild Indians he had helped subdue, had vanished utterly.

The Air Congestion, And the Possible Rx

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — On one recent, clear day, with beautiful flying weather, more than 20,000 passengers aboard 200 flights were delayed landing at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, most of them for an hour or more.

An early afternoon flight sat on the ground at Newark, N.J., waiting for takeoff clearance for three hours.

This kind of situation, once a rare exception, is now the rule.

The airlines estimate that delays due to traffic congestion are costing them $50 million a year in extra fuel, added crew time, and inefficient use of equipment.

In addition, annoyed and inconvenienced passengers are losing millions of dollars a year in productive time.

Alan S. Boyd, secretary of transportation, has estimated that needed airport improvements and expansion will cost $6 billion, through 1975, and that the cost of bringing the airways navigation system up to date will be about $150 million a year for the next four or five years, in addition to current airways appropriations of about $500 million a year.

Summary of Problem

The Air Transport Association, representing the airline industry, has produced a summary of the air traffic congestion problem which answers some of the questions about long-range solutions to air congestion.

The industry answers do not touch upon demands by federal air traffic controllers for more manpower. The controllers launched a by-the-book safety campaign July 3 which has contributed to the current crisis of delays.

A bill before Congress would provide immediate relief for the manpower shortage. The government, the controllers and several industry groups also are trying to work out other short-range solutions.

Question: What's the basic problem?

Answer: The great increase in air traffic. Airline passenger traffic has increased an average of 15 per cent a year for the past five years. While the U.S. population is increasing by about 7,000 a day, the airlines are adding more than 40,000 passengers a day.

This is more than matched by the growth of private aviation which now accounts for almost 75 per cent of the landings and takeoffs at airports equipped with Federal Aviation Administration control towers. Private planes operated almost 23 million hours last year compared to five million for the airlines.

Q. What about the future traffic?

A. Airline traffic will triple by 1975, and the private aviation fleet will increase by about a third.

Q. What long-range solutions do the airlines propose?

A. Establishment of an Airport Development Trust Fund, financed by a 2 per cent increase in the passenger ticket tax. Resulting revenues would provide funds for airport expansion. Also, increased funding for airways, followed by consideration by Congress of the whole user-charge question. If a need should be found for user charges beyond the current 5 per cent ticket tax, the airlines will accept them under an arrangement to insure that all who use the system pay their fair share. At present, through the 5 per cent ticket tax recognized by Congress as a user charge, airline traffic generates $250 million in annual revenues. This is about equal to the 45 per cent share of the airways cost that the FAA says the airlines should bear.

Q. What of other users?

A. Through an aviation gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, private users paid about $7 million last year, or only 4.3 per cent of the $163 million the FAA considered their fair share in 1967. Many private plane users actually contribute no taxes whatsoever toward the cost of maintaining the airways system.

The 133 million passengers of the scheduled airlines are becoming increasingly aware of this disparity and are beginning to question why they must wait for landing clearance on equal footing with the man rich enough to buy his own plane but who is not paying an equal share of the airways' cost.

Q. What alternative is there to requiring all users to pay fair shares of the cost of modernizing airways and airports?

A. Perhaps serious thought should be given to establishing priorities for the use of these scarce resources, on the basis of public need and financial participation. Secretary Boyd said in Senate testimony last month, "The federal government has a greater interest in promoting the efficiency of the common-carrier system of air transportation than it does in promoting private air transportation and, where a choice must be made, the common-carrier system will receive preference."

Q. How can all users of the airways system be required to pay their fair share of the costs?

A. A first step might be a registration fee for private aircraft.

Q. How would the Airport Development Trust Fund work?

A. It would be set up within the U.S. Treasury and administered by the secretary of transportation. Besides proceeds of a 2 per cent tax on airline passengers within the U.S., there would be revenue from a flat fee of $2 a trip for passengers going abroad.

Q. What airports would be eligible for financial help?

A. Both the major hub airports and the smaller ones. Funds also would be available for "reliever" airports—small fields near major airports used to relieve the big fields of private traffic which does not need to land there.

Q. In what form would the fund provide assistance?

A. It would pay up to 75 per cent of the debt service of airport bond issues, and also would provide short-term loans for planning, land acquisition and the start of construction of urgently needed projects, pending approval of long-term financial aid.

Barrientos Government Falls Apart in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The government of President Rene Barrientos fell apart Thursday night after the revelation that his interior minister was an ally of Fidel Castro and had smuggled a copy of Che Guevara's captured diary to Cuba.

The Social Democratic party quit the four-party government coalition earlier in the day, withdrawing its four members of the Cabinet. The other 12 Cabinet members submitted their resignations.

Military leaders met in an atmosphere of crisis as unrest mounted around Barrientos, the former commander of the air force. A senator was arrested.

The pesident told newsmen rumors of a coup were unfounded.

He said he expected the armed forces to remain loyal to him "except if special circumstances intervene." He did not explain this cryptic remark.

The president's troubles started when the Castro government published the diary which Ernesto "Che" Guevara kept during his abortive guerrilla campaign in Boivia last year. The Bolivian government seized the dairy after its troops killed the Cuban guerrilla leader and planned to sell it to foreign publishers, but Castro gave it to selected foreign publishers free, killing the sale for the Bolivians.

An army investigation revealed that Interior Minister Antonio Arguedas had slipped the diary out to Castro, and Arguedas and his brother fled to Chile. Granted asylum there Wednesday night, the former minister told a news conference he was a Marxist humanist and an admirer of Castro.

Algeria May 'Soon' Free Women, Kids

ALGIERS (UPI) — Algeria may "soon" release the women and children among 24 Israelis taken prisoner Tuesday off a hijacked El Al jetliner, well informed Algerian sources said Thursday.

The release would be the first break in a growing crisis between the two nations technically at war. There were reportedly four or five women, two children and two teenagers among the 10 crew members and 14 passengers in custody.

Faces Hearing Tonight on Abuse Charge

A 36-year-old Ellenville man was arrested by State Police last night on cnarges of sexually abusing an eight-year-old girl.

Harry Hill, of Oak Ridge Road, Ellenville, was arrested at his home by Troopers from the Ellenville barracks after they had received a complaint that the man had allegedly abused the young girl.

Hill issued a statement at the time of his arrest and then was arraigned before Town of Wawarsing Justice Frank Spada. He was remanded to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bail pending his preliminary hearing before Spada tonight at 8:30 p. m. in Ellenville.

State Police did not reveal the identity of the girl, or the time and place that the alleged crime took place.

Kingston Man Remains Serious

Francis Peterson, 61, of 78 Downs Street remains in serious condition at Benedictine Hospital today as a result of injuries he sustained Wednesday night when the Texaco Service truck he was operating was sideswiped by a tractor-trailer truck on the Thruway, 14 miles north of the Kingston interchange.

Peterson has been placed in the intensive care ward at the hospital and is being treated for compound fractures of both legs. Surgeons performed a 6½ hour operation on the patient yesterday but expressed concern that one of the legs may have to be amputated.

Peterson had pulled off the side of the highway to aid a disabled car when the incident occurred. He was pinned between the tractor-trailer truck and the service truck as he was getting out of his vehicle. The driver of the tractor-trailer was issued a summons by State Police for changing lanes unsafely.

Peterson's wife was vacationing in Florida at the time of the incident. He had returned to work at the Malden Thruway station several days ago.

Killed by Train

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A suburban town of Tonawanda woman has been killed, apparently by a freight train, as she walked near her home before dawn.

Police said the body of Mrs. Lotti G. Krafzick, 59, was found next to the Erie-Lackawanna tracks early Thursday.

She lived at 291 Cleveland Drive.

Gannett Dividend

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Directors of Gannett Co. Inc. have declared a quarterly dividend of 16¼ cents a share of common stock, payable Oct. 1 to shareholders of record Sept. 16.

The company announced the divident Thursday.

Clean Air Group Watches Film

About 16 persons attended last night's meeting of the Ulster County Citizens for Clean Air meeting at the County Office Building.

A film was shown concerning polluted air and a planning committee met to determine new programs of action in the future.

The group, which was organized last year, has been responsible for obtaining public hearings at Albany where this area's alleged polluters have been called to testify. In several instances the action resulted in the institution of abatement procedure orders.

Meeting, Tour

The regular monthly meeting of the Rhinebeck Historical Society will be combined with a tour of "Clermont" the historic site and home, located north of Tivoli, on Saturday, at 2 p. m.

Information concerning the project of the society for the Dutchess County Fair will be presented at this meeting. All members are urged to attend.

Miss Rhinebeck Title Goes to Ellen Graffam

A petite blue-eyed brunette won the Miss Rhinebeck title last night in a beauty, personality and poise competition held at Foster's Coach House Tavern.

Miss Ellen Graffam, 17, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Graffam, 22 Livingston Street, Rhinebeck, won out of a field of 15 originally entered in the contest.

The two runners-up were Joanne Keirnan and Betty Kane, according to Robert Kirwood, contest chairman for the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored annual event.

Miss Graffam, next to the oldest in a family of nine children, will enter her senior year at Rhinebeck High School next year. Her hobby is painting.

Her entry into the contest was a first for the young girl who will now seek the Miss Dutchess County title at the Dutchess County Fair in August. Last year's Miss Dutchess County was also a resident of Rhinebeck.

Contest judges included Robert Marvin, Mandeville Frost, Vicki Forbes and John Brady.

New Paltz Dems Support Slate For Humphrey

The 14 active New Paltz Democratic committeemen have issued a statement this week in support of the slate of delegates committed to Vice President Hubert Humphrey for president.

In defining their position, the committeemen said they support Joseph Y. Resnick, Thomas Quinn and Roy Guarino as delegates to the national convention.

"We do so because Vice President Humphrey has a long and impressive list of accomplishments. The vice president has been a creative liberal who has fought for civil rights, Medicare, education, urban improvements, young people and the elimination of poverty."

The statement reads further that the committeemen support Humphrey as individuals, but as committeemen they will support campaign and work for the candidate nominated at the national convention.

Mention is also made of another Democratic contender, Sen. Eugen McCarthy, of whom they say, "Sen. McCarthy does show a good voting record, and he has attracted some intelligent, aggressive political novices whose participation in politics is encouraging."

The 14 whose names appear on the statement are: Eric Winkky, Lillian Schreiber, Harriet Allen Kerr, Frederick L. Brough, W. R. Jansen, John Shand, James E. McLaughlin, Edna L. Branigan, Jedd S. Reisner, John M. Logan, Frank J. Donahue, Sylvester Bruno, Hal King and Mildred Haig. There are two committee vacancies.

Annual Bazaar

Glenford Engine Company No. 4 is holding its annual Bazaar Aug. 2 starting at 6 p. m. and Aug. 3 starting at noon. The bazaar will be at the firehouse, Ohayo Mountain Road, Glenford. There will be games, food, hot and cold drinks, pony rides for children on Saturday, and displays. Chairman of the event this year is Joseph Le Clerc. Those serving on the committee are: Bill May, Robert Scully, Mrs. William Grey, Mrs. Robert Boice, Mrs. Lewis DeGraff and Mrs. Keith Ogden.

He was born in Walden, Jan. 27, 1887, son of the late Cyrus A. and Corrine Hawkins Miller Bowne. He lived in New Paltz for one and a half years. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Newburgh, and the Hudson River Lodge, Masons for 55 years and a veteran of World War I. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Irving D. (Betty) Kortright, New Paltz and Mrs. Summer C. (Ruth) Willis, East Haven, Conn.; a brother, Raymond Bowne, Walden and three grandsons. Funeral services will be held at the Perrott's Funeral Home, 1 Grand Avenue, Newburgh, Monday at 11 a. m. Burial will be in Wodlawn Cemetary, Newburgh. Frineds may call at the funeral home Sunday between 2-4 and 7-9 p. m.

Miss Frances Eaton Preston

Miss Frances Eaton Preston, 82, died in this city Thursday. Graveside services will be held in Wiltwyck Cemetery Monday 2 p. m. There will be no calling hours. Miss Preston's life work was in recreational and library work with boys in New York City. She served eight years on the staff of Grace Episcopal Church, Broadway and Front Street where she was introduced to settlement work in Grace Chapel on the Lower East Side working with Italian boys. In 1926 she joined the staff of E. H. Harriman's Boys Club of New York City where she served for 30 years retiring in 1956 coming in contact with thousands of boys of all ages and nationalities. She was a member of the Library committee of the Boys Clubs of America. She substituted during summer months as children's librarian in the New York Public Library, alternating with playground work and summer camp counseling for other organizations in the city. Before going to New York she was associated with the Choristers' School of the church of the Messiah at Rhinebeck. Surviving are two cousins, Mrs. Eloise Preston Lovatt and Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck, both of Kingston.

Ellenville UR Demolition Meets Snarl

The last big demolition job under the Village of Ellenville urban renewal project has met a snarl. Only one bid was received for the razing of the Masonic Hall on Canal Street. At least two bids had to be received to meet minimum requirements.

The Stachnik Lumber and Wrecking Co. Inc. of Phillipsburg, N. J. bid $43,000 for the project but, because of the requirements set by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the bid could not be presently accepted.

Ellenville Urban Renewal Director John O'Conner contacted HUD in New York City and learned that it was possible for the department to change its rules, a process that could take from six to eight weeks "or longer," according to O'Conner.

The Ellenville agency will, in the meantime, advertise for further bidding.

Demolition on the project is, apparently, a difficult assignment because the Masonic Hall rests between two other buildings, a pharmacy and a bakery.

Because of this, much of the work has to be done "by hand," said O'Conner.

Advertisements for bids had gone out two weeks prior to the July 22 opening. Also, 30 invitations had been sent to firms already known to the local agency.

Only four inquires had been received by the Ellenville department, along with the single bid.

The large structure is 56 feet high.

DIED

CRISPELL — At St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, on Thursday, July 25, 1968 William S. Crispell Sr., husband of the late Lydia Louise Heppner of 3 Underhill Place and formerly of 154 Lander Street, Newburgh, brother of Lewis Crispell and Mrs. Edith Krom.

Funeral services will be held at the John Sloane White Funeral Home, 264 Grand Street, Newburgh on Sunday July 28, 1968 at 2 p. m. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery. The family will receive friends at the John Sloane White Funeral Home Friday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. and Saturday afternoon 2 to 4 p. m. and evening 7 to 9 p. m.

PARISE—Dominick P., of Rte 1, Box 204, East Kingston, on July 24, 1968. Twenty-seven grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews also survive.

Reposing at the Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue. Funeral will be held on Saturday, July 27, 1968 at 9 a. m., thence to St. Colman's Church where at 10 a. m. a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be may call at any time.

PRESTON — In this city, July 25, 1968, Miss Frances Eaton Preston of 279 Clinton Avenue, cousin of Mrs. Eloise Preston Lovatt and Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck.

Graveside services will be held at Wiltwyck Cemetery on Monday at 2 p. m. There will be no calling hours. Arrangements by the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. John (Josephine) Liccardo, who departed this life 28 years ago today, July 26, 1940.
It is only a grave, but still needs care,
For the one we love, is sleeping there.
Some may forget her, now that she is gone,
But we will remember no matter how long.
We miss her, when we need a friend,
On her we always could depend.
She cheered us in sickness and soothed our pain,
God grant some day we'll meet her again.

Press Workers Back

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Employes o fthe Williams Press in nearby Menands have returned to their jobs, and the company has withdrawn court action against their union.

An attorney for the printing company said Thursday all differences have been resolved in the month-long dispute with 400 pressmen represented by Local 28 of the Printers and Pressmen's Union.

Williams prints several magazines, including the Eastern edition of Time.

The dispute arose over the firing of two employes.

Utility Preferreds Produce High Yields

Q — I have considerable stock, but because I am to retire shortly I have been switching to income issues. One company I would like to know about is Allegheny & Western. Is this good for income? — H.S.

A — Yes, the $6 annual dividend is guaranteed under a contract in perpetuity, originally drawn up in 1899. Allegheny leases 68.5 miles of connecting track to Baltimore & Ohio, which is in turn 90 per cent owned by Chesapeake & Ohio. A merger is pending between the latter rail and Norfolk & Western.

Because Allegheny's capitalization is limited, transactions with shares are infrequent, and the spread between bid and ask prices is wide. Unless shares can be bought at a price yielding over 6 per cent. I would not recommend purchase.

Recently there have been signs that market interest may be swinging back to the utilities. For that reason I feel that you would be well advised to consider any of the preferred issues of Phila. Elec. Each of the four classes yields 6 per cent or slightly better and is a high - grade holding.

Q — Enclosed is a list of our 9 - year - old daughter's holdings. With the $300 we have now, should we continue to diversify or concentrate on a single issue? — S.H.

A — Although your daughter has 10 separate holdings, four are in health care and four are in utilities and related fields. Thus, although you have a large number of companies to follow, you have not achieved the diversity she needs. In order to minimize her risk in these two principal areas, I would suggest sale of Amer. Cyanamid and Cons. Edison.

With available funds you could add to any one of her other holdings and or spread out into another industry. At this time, I feel that the defensive characteristics of the food packagers make them attractive. In particular, I like Kellogg Co. with an annual record of earnings improvement stretching back 16 years.

'Misnomer' Says Legion On Viet Talks

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The United States should cease "further accomodations of North Vietnam in current and future negotiations," the State American Legion said in labeling the Paris peace discussions "a misnomer."

A resolution adopted Thursday by more than 2,000 delegates to the organization's 50th annual state convention charged that no gains have been made in Paris but that the loss in human lives in Vietnam "remained appalling."

The three-day convention ends Saturday.

Another resolution called on this country "to take whatever action is necessary, including military force, to free the U.S.S. Pueblo and her crew."

The intelligence ship was seized by North Korea in January.

The resolution concerning the Pueblo said reliance upon diplomatic means alone represents "a sign of weakness and admission of guilt."

The organization also urged "vigorous enforcement in prosecution of our laws and the qual punishment of those who violate them so that law and order can once again flourish throughout our cities, state and nation."

Saugerties Board Plans 6-Month Report

Arrangements for submitting a complete six months report embracing all departments of town government was discussed Thursday night at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board.

Supervisor A. Michael Schovel said it was agreed that all departments submit a six months report and these would be studied by the Town Board and prepared in one complete report of town operation.

The Saugerties supervisor said the Town Board is preparing to set a public hearing date for the proposed adoption of the State Building Code. The public hearing date will be set at the Thursday meeting of the Town Board.

A public hearing date will also be set on the modification and amendments of the town's trailer ordinance.

Deadlock Voting For Demo. Candidate

The Committee, including representatives from Ulster, Dutchess, Greene, Columbia and Schoharie Counties, met Thursday night in the Community Room of the New Paltz Savings Bank to hear Peter Kane Dufault, Liberal candidate for Congress give his views in the current campaign and solicit endorsement of his candidacy. Following Dufault's speech, a motion from the floor that the committee vote immediately on officially endorsing one of the four area candidates (instead of waiting until after the Democratic National Convention to do so) ended in a tie.

There was some feeling among members that John Dyson, Democratic Congressional candidate, should be given the opportunity of presenting his views before the group before an official endorsement is made by the McCarthy-O'Dwyer organization. Dyson will be invited to speak at the next meeting of the committee in Saugerties on Aug. 8. No plans were made to hear Republican Hamilton Fish or Conservative Gordon Liddy.

The Concerned Citizens group is a newly formed organization which had its nucleus in the five-county organization in the 28th District that supported the election of McCarthy pledged delegates to the Democratic National Convention in the N. Y. State Primary in June.

The fact that McCarthy delegates polled almost 5,000 votes at that time, and that the combined anti-administration vote in his district in the two counties of Ulster and Dutchess alone exceeded the votes given to the elected delegates pledged to Hubert Humphrey in all five counties, led to the formation of the group. In the months ahead, the committee will work "to support the ideals of a representative democracy as typified by the stands on issues shown by Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Paul O'Dwyer."

In his speech last night, Liberal candidate Dufault said he seeks election "because Democrat Dyson vs. Republican Hamilton Fish looks just like Johnson (or Humphrey) vs. Nixon in miniature."

Dufault contended that the two top runners would "rather be congressmen than candid; that nobody knows what Fish thinks, if he thinks anything; and that Dyson won't tell us if he prefers McCarthy or Humphrey or take a stand on the war." He also suggested that Dyson has been to Congressman Joseph Resnick what Hubert Humphrey has been to Lyndon Johnson, a fact that "makes him guilty of a kind of party loyalty that has become a symbol of international moral cretinism."

"Editorial of the Air"

February 27, 1968

How many remember that ten cent hamburger? Wasn't it a taste delight? And that nickel glass of milk? They were real American gems. Now a hamburger in many diners in our area costs forty cents. A glass of milk no bigger and no tastier than that nickel glass now costs either fifteen or twenty cents. How many recall that nickel coke we used to buy? Now the stores don't even have that nickel glass anymore. What's happening to us—when the very basic bits of Americana take more to buy than our weekly allowance was as a youngster? It's sad. Look at the cost of a quart of milk or a loaf of bread. We truly believe labor costs have done it for these two items.

We think the pay-off is in the U. S. mail costs today. Who remembers a penny post card — stamp and card all in one? Who remembers that three cent first class postage? Now — think of it — a letter has doubled — totally doubled — to six cents. These outrageous charges are not because of the load put on the Post Office Department by the public or businesses in sending out first class mail. These armed bandit rates are because of the practically free ride given to junk mail. Last week we received six pieces in our mail box of the same identical junk mail. The duplications caused by misspelling of the name. wrong initials, one piece had the last name with no initials and no first name a bad is that there are mail list companies who are paid for the use of their lists. When people move to another address or out of town that list is seldom brought up to date correctly and so tons of it are totally wasted.

So it went.

Take a look in the wastebaskets of the Post Office next time there — see how much junk mail gets piled up there. Ask the postmen how big their load would be if half the junk mail was cut out, and how big it would be if those sending it didn't have a 50% cut, or thereabouts in mailing rates.

What makes it so

Typical Suburban Living

Today's feature is a suburban type ranch home providing all the facilities essential to formal living without traffic confusion, as each member pursues his or her activities. The designer exceeded the bounds of common interest in the proper placement of rooms in a sequence that creates a blending while still providing the proper amount of separation. A good example of this happy medium is provided in this week's home design feature of "The Toddy."

The designers not only accomplished their purpose, but added many delightful touches to enhance the natural charm. Any room is easily accessible from any given point without awkward detours. The thru passage hall, while essentially a part of the sleeping area, is the main traffic artery of the house, particularly taking the burden off the living room. Any homemaker will call this a blessing, for the living room is where she lavishes her tender care, and in "The Toddy" her efforts will not go unrewarded.

The dining room is an extension of the living room, for formal or informal use. The kitchen is of good proportions with equipment arranged to save steps, and shows a blank wall for the kitchen table if desired. The master bedroom, situated at the front, is serviced by a private lavatory with shower.

The exterior of this pretty house makes use of wood shingles, stone and vertical siding. All the doors and windows are lumber yard stock items. There are 1,300 square feet of living area, plus 320 square feet for the two porches and one-car garage. Plans show sections for construction of wood, stone, brick or block. Complete working blueprints are available at moderate cost by using the accompanying coupon.

Getting Tough Seeds to Sprout

Readers have asked me why it is that their radish, carrot, beet and other seed "never did a thing" after it was sowed in the ground. Don't blame it on the seedsman because chances are he sold you good seed. He wouldn't stay in business long if he sold bad seed. Then why didn't the seed sprout?

I'll list several reasons:

(1) Deep sowing. Some seed has small pushing up power, and it rots before it can germinate.

(2) Drying out. If seed starts to sprout, then dries out, it may die before it can push up through the soil.

(3) Hard, clay soil on top of the seed. Rains or irrigation water may cause soil to pack on, cake, making it difficult for seed to penetrate. Covering with peatmoss, rotted compost or other organic material will prevent this. Covering "difficult" seed with a board after sowing is a good trick. It prevents drying out, prevents soil from caking and hastens germination.

(4) Over-treated seed. Some home gardeners treat seed in hot water, kerosene, and various chemicals. These may reduce the viability of the seed and cause poor germination.

Italian Eggplant Recipe

Here's a good one to keep in mind, if you like eggplant. Peel and slice one large eggplant. Cover with water, bring to a boil and drain. Dip slices in bread crumbs, arrange alternately with spaghetti sauce, in casserole. Cover with Mozzarella cheese slice and bake in moderate oven until eggplant is tender, and cheese is melted.

More people must "discover" eggplant! Properly cooked, it's one of the best vegetables you can put on your table. FREE: Send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my bulletin, How to Grow and Cook Eggplant. My guide is packed full of recipes sent me by French, Lebanese, Italian and American cooks. You should have a copy!

Petunias Again

If petunias have turned yellow, it may be due to too much water, poor drainage or fertilizer burn. A pale color could mean a lack of nitrogen, but do not apply it if you've already fed the plants heavily. Holes in leaves means snail injury. Scatter some metaldehyde baits near the base of the plants. Or dust some coal and wood ashes in the area.

Verdi based his opera, "La Traviata," on "Camille" by Alexander Dumas the Younger.

New Paltz Doctor On Planning Board

The New Paltz representative to the Ulster County Planning Board is Dr. David Menches, according to New Paltz Supervisor Anthony Moriello.

The planning board is responsible for the overall supervision of planning and development of projects which involve the entire county or whenever local town planning efforts affect adjacent townships.

Dr. Menches arrived in New Paltz five years ago after serving as an officer in the U.S. Air Force.

Prior to his military service, he attended undergraduate schools at Cornell University and the University of Buffalo, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree.

After graduating from the University of Buffalo School of Medicine, Dr. Menches completed his training in Detroit, Mich.

The medical doctor has been in private practice as a partner of Medical Associates of New Paltz and during this time has been actively engaged in the planning and growth of the New Paltz Medical Center.

He is a member of the American Academy of General Practice, the Ulster County Medical Society, the New York State Medical Society, the American Medical Association, and has served on the staffs of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospital.

Dr. Menches resides in New Paltz with his wife, Elizabeth and their three sons.

Michigan Senator a Backbencher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Robert Griffin is once again challenging the Republican establishment in Congress and win or lose, he will likely emerge with new lustre.

The effort also may increase the Michigan Republican chances of securing a rung on the GOP leadership ladder.

Griffin at present is a backbencher in Republican Senate ranks (literally, as well as figuratively; he occupies a back row seat).

But after serving less than two years in the Senate, he is doing battle on a historic issue with Republican Leader Everett Mckinley Dirksen of Illinois.

The issue: The confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice and of Homer Thornberry as Fortas' replacement as an associate justice.

Dirksen is the GOP patriarch whose close friendship with President Johnson has irked many Republicans in the past.

He immediately supported Johnson's court nominees, even though Griffin had gotten the signatures of 19 Republican senators on a statement in opposition.

Half Back Griffin

With only 36 Republicans in the Senate, more than half had sided with Griffin against their chosen leader.

Probably even more irksome to Dirksen was one of their chief objections—that the nominations were made on the basis of friendship and "cronyism." Dirksen and the President are also cronies.

Griffin took his case against Fortas and Thornberry to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Dirksen performance delighted the audience; but it was received with somewhat less enjoyment by Griffin and his 18 cosigners.

"Dirksen hurt himself, trying to make Griffin look foolish,' said one GOP lawmaker. "I think he's sorry he did it."

The Mood In Dixie Country

ATLANTA (UPI)—Southern delegates to the Republican National Convention sit staunchly around the campfire of Richard M. Nixon. But looking ahead to November, they can't escape the shadow of George Wallace.

The deep South belongs to Nixon at the Miami Beach convention. As things now stand, he is expected to get all but 40 to 45 of the 236 votes from nine states—Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Even more may have swung over to the former vice president by convention time.

Look Beyond

But many southern GOP leaders are looking beyond the convention—at the swath they fear Wallace will cut through their area in November.

Nixon has won the hearts of southern Republican stalwarts chiefly for two reasons: He was off and running for the nomination long ago; he never has hesitated to work hard and long for local candidates in Dixie.

On purely ideological grounds, many probably would have preferred Ronald Reagan. But his coy attitude about the race cost him heavily in the South. Nelson A. Rockefeller can muster roughly two delegates votes from the entire South.

Republicans are generally convinced they could carry Dixie in November if it were not for Wallace. But they expect Wallace to carry several states and make deep inroads into the Republican turnout in others.

The only southerner with any avowed hope of getting on the GOP ticket is Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida, who has made frantic gestures in virtually every direction in hopes of a vice presidential bid. But Kirk goes into the convention lacking even a favorite son designation by his delegation.

Nixon appeared to have cornered 25 of Florida's 34 delegates when Kirk announced that although Nixon was a "great pal" and Reagan had him "all excited," he was Rockefeller. Rockefeller has one delegate in Florida.

Nixon appears to be weaker in Alabama than any other southern state. GOP chairman Alfred Goldthwaite says the delegation is about evenly divided between Nixon and Reagan.

But come November, if there is anything sure, it is that Wallace will carry Alabama.

Nixon appears to have Mississippi and Tennessee locked up. Tennessee went Democratic in 1964, despite the South's trend toward Barry M. Goldwater. But political leaders in the state seem to agree that had the election been held immediately after Wallace's recent swing through Tennessee, he would have carried the state.

Not Too Popular

Now, they feel, he will not be particiularly popular by November. And most political sources seem to agree that Wallace will not be taking any more votes from the GOP then he will from the Democrats.

Georgia delegates are overwhelmingly committed to Nixon. Reagan's few supporters are squabbling among themselves over who the California governor likes the most.

Nixon also apparently has South Carolina locked up.

South Carolina Republicans, like others in the South, are considerably more worried about George Wallace than Hubert Humphrey.

North Carolina Republicans currently are solidly behind Nixon. The party leader is Rep. Jim Gardner, a young phenomenon running for governor at the age of 34. Gardner was reported committed to Nixon.

Nixon had all but three of Virginia's 24 delegates—and observers felt he has a good chance of carrying the state in November.

Louisiana's 26 delegates are officially uncommitted, but Nixon is expected to get 19 convention votes on the first ballot. David Treen, chairman of the delegation, is expected to swing the state's other 7 votes to Reagan.

Sheriff Martin's Marine Patrol in Action

EQUIPMENT CHECK — Ulster County Sheriff's Department marine patrol (upper right) inspects the equipment and registration in a routine check on Rondout Creek. Jack Landi of Eddyville, shows gear to Albert Hobush of the marine partol as Sid North steadies the Sheriff's Department vessel.

★ ★

ISSUE WARNING — Members of the County Sheriff's Office marine patrol Albert Hobush (L) and Sid North, caution a passing yachtsman (upper left) about raising too high swells which could be hazardous to other craft on Rondout Creek. The Sheriff's Department vessel is used in rescue operations, aiding swimmers and water ski enthusiasts and also locates missing or stolen boats. The patrol operates during the summer months.

CLEARING DEBRIS — A little known service of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department is the marine patrol which cruises along Rondout Creek during the boating season in the summer. Sid North of the Sheriff's Office retrieves a piece of debris (lower right) which could be a hazard to marine navigation. Albert Hobush is at the helm.

READY TO CAST OFF — The County Sheriff's marine patrol (lower left) with Albert Hobush (L) and Sid North, prepare to cast off at Dwyer's Boat Basin to patrol the Rondout Creek. The patrol checks equipment and registrations of cruising pleasure craft, removes or reports dangerous debris floating in the water and is ready for any marine emergency. (Freeman photos by Haines).

Report on Hunger In U.S. Critical Of Early Inquiry Board Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunger in the United States is mainly a health problem that cannot be solved by simply putting more food in undernourished or empty bellies, says a new report.

The report, circulating among influential medical people, public officials and researchers, is highly critical of a study by the Citizens Board of Inquiry earlier this year.

The citizens board's findings that thousands of people are starving in the United States were based on factual error, lack of knowledge and too much emotion, says the new report.

The report is entitled "Hunger USA—A Critical Review."

The author is Dr. Herbert Pollack, a staff member of the Institute for Defense Analyses, a private corporation which handles a variety of research projects for the Pentagon.

Not Endorsed

The IDA said the Pollack report was his own and is not endorsed by the organization. It was published by IDA, a spokesman said, "as a courtesy" to Pollack, who was described as "a widely recognized authority in the medical profession."

The published findings of the Citizens Board of Inquiry have weighed heavily in efforts for expanded food programs.

"It is unfortunate that a report of this importance should contain so many factual errors and manifest a lack of basic knowledge of nutrition," Pollack said.

"It must be considered more of a political polemic than a scientific treatise. It seems to stir up action based on an emotional appeal," he added. "As a scientific document it fails to supply the necessary information to direct the energies of the responsible people into the proper channels of corrective measures."

An example, Pollack said, is a hunger report statement that nutritional anemia stemming primarily from protein and iron deficiencies was commonly found in 30 to 70 per cent of the children from poverty backgrounds.

"The report does not, at this point, mention that over 50 per cent of these children were found to have intestinal parasites which may well be the cause of the anemias," he said.

"Another well-known cause of childhood anemia is over use of milk. The bulk of the evidence is that this is an iron deficiency anemia and not a protein deficiency. It was correctible by the addition of iron to the diet," he added.

Accounts of poor people existing on diets of blackeye peas, grits, flour, fatback, potatoes and beans also were cited by Pollack.

"Blackeye peas are excellent sources of protein as are beans," he said. "The potatoes are good sources of Vitamin C and calories, and the fatback is a good source of calories and protects the greens during the cooking process.

"The monotony of eating is frequently by choice," he said. "People do not like to eat strange foods."

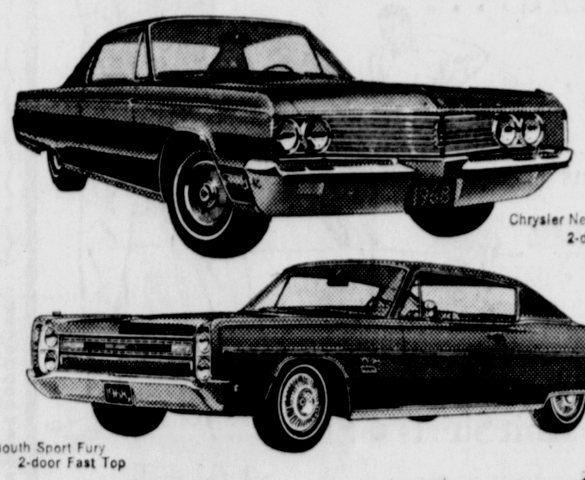

Variety of Causes

Anemia, Pollack said, is a symtom of "a variety of causes," including chronic bleeding, intestinal parasites, iron deficiency, protein deficiency, inherent bone-marrow diseases and many others.

MRS. PAUL KENIK

Miss Caryn Pollack Weds Paul Kenik

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Miss Caryn Martel Pollack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Pollack of Kingston, to Paul Kenik, son of Mrs. Sylvia Levy of Manhattan and the late Samuel Kenik.

The traditional double ring wedding ceremony took place at Pinegrove Hotel, Kerhonkson. Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport and Cantor H. Slomovitz officiated. Vocal selections were sung by Nelson Finkelman of East Meadow, L. I., uncle of the bride.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white imported silk-faced peau de soie gown. The empire A-line gown was appliqued with re-embroidered Alecon lace and seed pearls. The long lace sleeves had ruffled cuffs and the chapel length train was detachable. The matching headpiece was a camelot cap veiled in cathedral length English silk illusion. The bride carried her mother's white Bible. It was covered with orchids surrounded by cascades of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Susan Golden of New Rochelle and Miss Robin Ann Pollack of Kingston, sisters of the bride, served as matron and maid of honor, respectively. The bride's youngset sister, Miss Lisa Melanie Pollack, served as a junior attendant. All three were gowned in sky blue saki sleeveless cage dresses, accented at the necklines with tiny rows of lace. Their headpieces were French maline picture hats accented with large tulle bows and streamers. They carried colonial bouquets of tinted blue carnations with white roses.

Attendants were Miss Louise Sorgen, Miss Joan Murphy, Miss Beverly Sklon, Miss Alice Valentine, Mrs. Judy Robins, and Mrs. Susan Schor. Their gowns were fashioned identically to those worn by the honor attendants except in pistachio green. They carried colonial bouquets of tinted green carnations.

Robert Golden, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Jay Kenik, brother of the groom, escorted the latter down the aisle. Ushers were Saul Basch, Steve Holzman, Joseph Cohen, Lenny Robins, Richard Schor and Bill Presser.

Miss Amy Finkelman, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a short sky blue dress styled similarly to those worn by the attendants. She carried a white basket filled with blue and green rose petals.

Jonathon Marc Pollack, Brother of the bride, and Scott Alan Golden, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearers.

A reception for 165 guests was held after the wedding ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenik are graduates of Kingston High School. Both are now in their senior year of study at State University College at New Paltz.

Columnist Says Women Searching for Youth Should Take More Interest in the World

By JOAN SWEENEY

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (UPI)—A woman searching for the fountain of youth should stop looking for it in cosmetic jars and instead should take a greater interest in the world around her.

So says Betty Scripps, the beautiful and vivacious newspaper columnist.

"Nothing ages a woman faster than boredom," says Mrs. Scripps, herself a lovely blonde who appears, even though she was a teen - age bride, far too young to be a mother of two grown sons.

In addition to her syndicated newspaper column, Betty Scripps has just written a book entitled "Both Sexes Should Know," a collection of beauty tips and fashion news from various countries as well as a peek at the Beautiful People and some of their playgrounds.

Mrs. Scripps believes a woman will do more toward staying young by involving herself in stimulating or worthwhile activities and by exercising, eating and sleeping properly than she will be relying solely on expensive creams.

"Once a woman passes the age of 30, it's almost mandatory that she have some interest outside of the home if she wants to continue to look young," whether it's a job, church activities, club work or charities, she said at her home in this San Francisco suburb.

"In the United States, there is too much advertising about creams, makeups and beauty preparations," she added. "Basically a woman, if she just uses soap and water and maybe a moisturizer, plus correct diet and sleep, would probably achieve more in the way of beautiful skin.

"You have to exercise, to be outdoors, eat the right foods; fresh fruits and vegetables and proteins. You have to watch this side of your life. You can't just be completely lax. You can't say four jars of cream is going to do it for me. You can't sit in the house and eat gooey stuff and think you'll be beautiful."

Betty practices what she preaches as far as outside interests go. Listen to the schedule: There is the column, which runs six times a month. Her book took her five years altogether to write. And there are demands of her home and family. Also, she works out at a gym three times a week, takes French lessons, is on the executive committee of the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco and is a member of other volunteer organizations.

"My husband says I'm too organized," she smiled.

She credits the secret of her organization to a little red diary in which she carefully lists what is planned for each day.

She started writing her column "World Fashions," nearly four years ago, she said, out of self defense. She found that her husband, who is president of the Scripps League group of newspapers, and her sons, who started working on the newspapers while still in school, were engrossed in "newspaper talk." She decided that if she were going to enter into the conversation she would have to do something in the newspaper field. One son is now the publisher of a newspaper at Taft, Calif., and the second is a student at the University of Arizona.

She travels extensively and most of the ideas for her column come from her travels. She has come to the conclusion that American women are the most beautiful in the world.

"There's only one point we have to give to the foreign women," she said. "Because of the independence of the American woman she can tend to become overbearing and domineering. This we have to watch. We have to be a little more subtle about our attitude."

Mrs. Scripps said that one of the most charming women she ever met was an American—the Duchess of Windsor: "She has the knack of knowing how to dress beautifully, maintains her figure, is vivacious, interesting, and it is very easy to see how she was able to capture the heart of the Duke. She epitomizes femininity, charm and womanhood.

Betty defines charm as "a warmth, an outward sweetness, interest in other people, interest in listening to what they have to say, encouraging conservation in other persons . . . charm certainly is not being cold and distinterested."

Hints from Heloise

Dear Folks:

My family loves pineapple upside-down cake. It takes me a little longer to make them, but they sure look pretty with the pineapple rings and delicious goo on top.

It used to break my heart, however, to see the icing crumble and stick when it was cut after it cooled. So last week I held a knife under the hot water faucet a few seconds and then cut that beautiful cake.

By gum, that hot, wet knife cut through the sticky icing like hot butter. No crumbling, sticking or chunks.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

When my old vinyl-covered TV pillows tore out at the seams beyond repair, I cut them apart with pinking shears and made bookmarks and covers, ash tray and vase coasters to protect table tops.

The larger pieces I used for placemats or decorative table mats as well as for lining by silverware drawers.

Quite a savings and washable, too.

Mrs. James Hood

Dear Heloise:

I sew a strip of elastic to the overalls when I make or buy shoulder straps of my children's them.

Gives a couple of more inches for growth before I have to piece 'em or change the buttons.

Dear Heloise:

Outdoor playpens for the older baby can be fun if the wooden botton of the pen is removed and small wheels installed on the four corner posts.

He can push it around on the lawn when you are there to watch him. He may bump into some of Mama's pet flowers, but at least he will be occupied and happier!

Congress of Strings Concert Tonight

Two contemporary works for unusual combinations of instruments will be performed when the Congress of Strings presents its second chamber concert of the season in the Filene Recital Hall, New Skidmore Campus, this evening at 8:30.

David Popper's Requiem for Three Celli and Piano and Kenneth Cook's Introduction and Rondino for String Bass Quartet are scheduled on the program together with the first movement from Robert Schumann's Piano Quintet, the Sonata for Violin and Piano by Aaron Copland and the String Quartet by Smetana.

Performers will be student members of the Congress of Strings, who were selected for their outstanding talent by regional competitions in all states east of the Mississippi River. The competitions were held by units of the American Federation of Musicians, and the winners have been brought to Saratoga under the joint sponsorship of the Saratoga Performing Arts Center and the Rockefeller Foundation. Admission to the concert is free.

BLIND DATES

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Many people think of blind dates as a last resort and dread the very idea of them. Others look forward to them as a great way of meeting new people. Here is a quiz to answer some of the questions I am most often asked. If you score well, you shouldn't have any trouble the next time your best friend suggests a blind date.

1. A girl who goes on many blind dates is sure to give the impression she can't get any other kind. True.. False..

2. It is a mistake to accept blind dates unless you actually know the person who is making the arrangements. True.. False..

3. There is a universal tendency to expect too much from blind dates. True.. False..

4. If a blind date doesn't call you back, this probably means he didn't like you. True.. False..

5. If you don't think much of your date when you first meet him you don't need to make much effort the rest of the evening. True.. False..

6. You have every right to be furious if the date your friend represented as being tall, handsome and super, turns out to be considerably less. True.. False..

7. If a blind date starts to take advantage of you by making a pass, or drinking too much, you have no remedy other than to grin and bear it. True.. False..

Here are the correct answers:

1. False. She is more apt to give the impression of being a friendly type who enjoys meeting people.

2. True. The dangerous blind date is the one that is arranged through unknown friends of friends.

3. True. You should go into them with the firm idea that they will probably be a "one shot" affair.

4. False. Not necessarily. Undoubtedly he, too, just wanted a companion for one evening.

5. False. Apart from common courtesy, you don't want him telling people what a dope you are.

6. False. Make a mental reservation not to trust his or her advance billings on future occasions, but keep your sense of humor and try to discover what he or she did see in this clown.

7. False. You should treat him just like any other date. Just because he hasn't met you previously is no excuse for poor behavior on his part.

MRS. ALBERT WILSON

Elaine Schwartz Weds Albert Wilson Here

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Miss Elaine Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moe Schwartz, 171 Washington Avenue, Kingston, to Albert Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson of Bristol, N. H.

Mrs. Raphael Warshaw of Pottstown, Pa., was matron of honor for her sister and James E. Gregg of Catskill served as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at The Hedges in West Park.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and State University at Cortland where she received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. She is a member of the teaching staff of Kingston Consolidated School System at Port Ewen School and served as head teacher. She did graduate work at State University at New Paltz and, under the sponsorship of Temple University Philadelphia, Pa., she studied comparative education in Europe, involving travel and study abroad.

Her husband is a member of the teaching staff at Onteora Central School. He is department chairman of pilot program for culturally deprived children. Wilson completed graduate work at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., where he received his Masters in Education and Elementary Administration. He served in the U. S. Air Force Technical Institute at Montgomery, Ala., as an education specialist and was liaison between military and civilian educational institutions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are on a year's leave from their respective schools. During that time they will reside in California where they will further their graduate studies.

Will Bid 'Shalom' To Rabbi Rappaport

Final plans for a buffet dinner dance to bid 'Shalom' to Rabbi and Mrs. H. Z. Rappaport who will leave this area Sept. 1, were made Monday, July 15, at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Weiner, 69 Washington Avenue, this city. The Rabbi has served Congregation Agudas Achim for more than 20 years.

The dinner dance has been scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 24, at 9 p.m. at Rhinebeck Country School on Foxhollow Farm, three miles south of the Village of Rhinebeck. It is part of an estate which was formerly the home of John Jacob Astor.

Tickets and reservations may be made by contacting: Mrs. Herman Schneider, 9 Grandview Avenue; Mrs. Irving Rudolph, 740 Lincoln Park Place; Mrs. Joel Pollack, 43 Virginia Drive, all of Kingston; or Mrs. Robert Selinger, 8 Austin Avenue, Simmons Park, Saugerties.

Other members of the committee include: Manny Lipton, Raphael Klein and David Popick, program; Mrs. Mike Weiner, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Trast, Mrs. Ted Weiner and Sheldon Levy, refreshments; Mrs. Max Salomon, Mrs. Saul Schecter and Mrs. Jack Sheinvold, publicity.

The public is invited to join with Congregation to honor the couple. For further information contact Mrs. Robert Selinger.

Swedes Visits U.S.; Consumer Project

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)--Whether a nation is eight million or 200 million in population, these populations represent consumers. And consumers, being purchasers, provide the outlets for the fraudulent trade practices, for over-pricing of the products sold the poor, for misleading labelling and advertising.

Two women from that nation of eight million, Sweden, are in the United States to study what this country of 200 million is doing to protect the consumer in pricing and quality of merchandise.

"We have no ghettos, but we do have families with less than others," is the way Mrs. Birgitta Rembe puts it. "And we do want to see what we can learn from you in helping them . . . and all consumers."

"I'm impressed by the way the consumer really is getting to be known, to be heard, in the United States," said Mrs. Lillemor Erlander.

"We don't have legislation on truth in labelling like you have just had enacted," she continued. "But we have a government-aided information labelling institute that regulates labels on everything from canned pizza and stews to canoes and tents. And we have the strongest legislation I know of on performance and safety of anything electrical. Every electrical product goes through a thorough government testing . . . you hardly ever heard of any accident from an electrical appliance."

Mrs. Erlander, daughter-in-law of Tage Erlander, Sweden's prime minister, is an economist with the Swedish Confederation of Trade Unions.

The women are rounding out a month in the United States that began with an international consumers' conference at Sarah Lawrence College.

SHRIMP STROGANOFF makes a wise hot-dish choice when serving a buffet meal. It is one of many exciting Slavic dishes which uses sour cream. Placed in a chafing dish over low heat, it will stay warm for hours. (Photo by International Shrimp Council).

Stroganoff...an Exciting Slavic Dish

Stroganoff is a buffet bonus on either side of the Iron Curtain. Developed by the Russians, stroganoff is one of the many exciting Slavic dishes—such as soup (borscht), pancakes (blini), and a variety of meat dishes—which use sour cream. The International Shrimp Council has adapted popular beef stroganoff for America's favorite shellfish, shrimp. Served in a chafing dish, Shrimp Stroganoff will stay warm for a late dinner or buffet. Called a "Zakuski," the buffet method of serving was also originated by the Russians. If you are looking for a way to entertain easily, have a "zakuski" and serve Shrimp Stroganoff.

SHRIMP STROGANOFF

- 1 lb. Shrimp, fresh or frozen, or (10 or 12 oz.) package frozen, peeled and deveined shrimp
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ lb. bacon (5-6 strips), diced
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1½ cups tomato juice
- ½ cup commercial sour cream

Hot cooked rice, Holland rusks, or toast points.

Clean shrimp if necessary. If frozen, thaw on a paper towel to absorb moisture. Cut large shrimp to bite-size. Rinse and drain. Place flour, salt and pepper in a clean bag. Add shrimp, and shake well thoroughly. (If preferred, you may now arrange them one layer deep, cover and refrigerate until serving time.) About 15 minutes before mealtime, place bacon in cook-and-serve type skillet and cook, stirring constantly, until brown and crisp. Remove bacon and drain on paper toweling. To fat in pan, add onion and shrimp. Cook over moderate heat two minutes; turn to brown second side, about two minutes more. Mix mustard with tomato juice and add to pan, stirring to blend. Cook 3-5 minutes more. Just before serving, remove from heat and stir in sour cream. Keep warm over lowest heat. Serve, garnished with bacon, over rice, rusks or toast. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If desired, bacon may be omitted. Use ⅓ cup oil to brown the shrimp and proceed as recipe directs.

Briton Plans 'Super' Sale Of Antiques

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA European Staff

LONDON — (NEA) — The American housewife may soon shop for antiques at her local supermarket the way she now buys a package of frozen peas, if an ambitious young Briton has his way.

He is 32-year-old Bennie Gray, who owns two antique supermarkets here in London and who is planning to open a third soon in Manhattan. Gray, who has just returned from a business trip to New York, is convinced that America is ripe for his idea.

"Now all I've got to do is to persuade about a hundred Manhattan antique dealers to rent stalls under the same roof, and I will be in business," he says optimistically. Apparently this is not so simple, as antique dealers are prickly fellows, and inclined to eye each other suspiciously.

Still Gray has had spectacular success in corralling dealers together here, opening his first antique supermarket in an unused printing works in 1964. This first experiment specialized in inexpensive Victorian knick-knacks.

To cash in on the luxury antique boom, Gray took over an empty Woolworth store in central London last year, gave it a $25,000 face-lift, and christened it "The Antique Hypermarket." ("Hyper" is Greek meaning "over" or "above.")

The building itself is supported by a row of toga-clad maidens molded in fiberglass from the originals on the Parthnon in Athens. Inside, items range in price from $2,000 for a gold Tibetan god to $21,000 for a set of eight Chippendale chairs, and there are no green trading stamps thrown in.

There is seldom less than $3 million worth of stock on the premises at any time, which calls for elaborate security precautions, including the use of radar.

Chippendale chairs that cost $2,622 apiece are not everyone's idea of a basement bargain, but apparently there is no scarcity of takers for anything the antique trade can dish out here.

The value of paintings and antiques exported from Britain has zoomed from $10 million in 1953 to over $90 million today. Devaluation of the pound sterling accounts for part of the antique boom here. So does the American craze for Victoriana, meaning everything from mustache curlers to hand-painted chamberpots, which are just the thing for serving salad.

The boom has hit the silver market in particular. "British dealers now find it cheaper to buy back Georgian silver which they sold to Americans as recently as two years ago," says Bennie Gray. "The original American customer makes a profit, so does the dealer, so everyone is happy."

As an example of inflated prices, Gray cites a James II silver tankard, which fetched $120 in 1920, but which recently sold for $9,600. "Of course, there are only six of them in existence," he explains.

Although both his parents were in the antique business, tall, curly-haired Bennie Gray became a property dealer when he left school, and by the time he was 28 had cleaned up enough money to last a lifetime.

"After I retired, I bought a Bechstein piano," he recalls, "but after six months of hard practicing I decided I was no Chopin. So that's how I landed in antiques."

After spending eight weeks touring the States, Gray has harsh things to say about American interior decorators, who have a stranglehold on American taste, he claims.

"Americans, for some strange reason, do not trust their own judgment when it comes to buying antiques, particularly antique furniture," he claims. "Instead, they go running to the so-called experts for advice, which makes it easy for the interior decorator to rock them.

"The interior decorator demands and gets a 15 to 20 per cent discount from the antique dealer, but none of this saving is passed on to the client, who usually gets soaked."

If the antique supermarket catches on in America as it has here there will be no middleman coming between dealer and customer. Only the check-out counter, where the Chippendale will be toted up with the chipped beef.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

BENNIE GRAY'S IDEAS about selling antiques prove as profuse as the curls on his head. His two London "antique supermarkets" seldom have less than $3 million in stock on the premises at a time. Cashing in on the antique boom, Gray plans to move to Manhattan, where residents are not strangers to antiques or new merchandising schemes.

A winner—blueberry cream pie.

Blueberry Cream Pie

Whatever its history, Publick House Blueberry Cream Pie is a winner. At the famous white Sturbridge, Mass., inn, Dick Stone has been baker for 15 years. From the Stone family in Maine he was given the general idea for the pie and then he and Tom Fay, the Publick House supervisor, together worked out this luscious recipe.

For three years it has been delighting guests. Fay gave us a few reminders: please note only one-quarter of the berries are cooked, and these just barely. The other three-quarters of the berries are used raw. For crust, use your favorite prebaked pie shells. Just before serving, garnish liberally with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

Publick House Blueberry Cream Pie

Pick over and wash 1 quart blueberries; drain. Make a smooth paste of the following ingredients:

- ¼ cup cold water
- 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- Pinch of salt

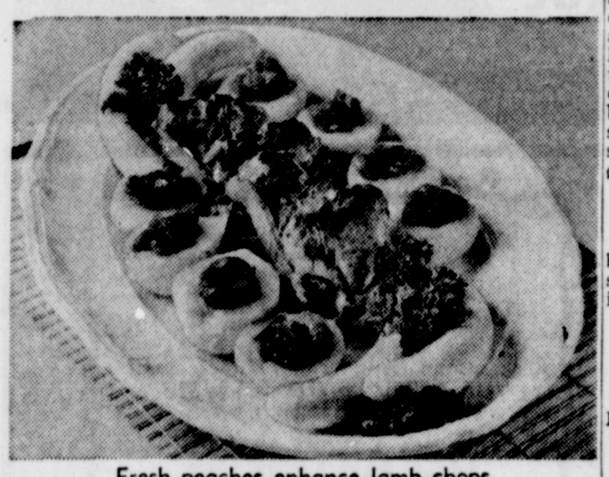

Bring to a boil:

- 1 cup blueberries
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup water

When boiling, add the flour paste and stir until it thickens. Remove from stove and cool. When cool, add the remaining 3 cups of raw blueberries and put into 10-inch baked pie shell. Refrigerate. When cold, garnish with sweetened whipped cream.

'Peachy' Lamb Meal

Fresh peaches enhance lamb chops.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Lamb chops, fresh peaches filled with chutney, and slightly green bananas broiled together produce a different and very delicious main dish.

Peaches are in full season now. Incidentally, most of them come from Georgia and South Carolina, known as "Peachland, U.S.A."

PEACHY BROILER MEAL

- 4 lamb chops, about 1-inch thick
- 4 medium-sized firm or slightly green-tipped bananas
- 4 firm peaches, peeled, halved and pitted
- ⅓ cup chutney
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1½ teaspoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cut fat edges of chops at 1-inch intervals. Arrange lamb chops, bananas and peaches (cut side up) on broiler rack. Spoon chutney into peach centers. Mix together butter or margarine, sugar and lemon juice. Brush fruit with butter mixture. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat about 8 minutes. Turn chops and bananas. Brush bananas with butter mixture. Remove peach halves (keep warm). Continue broiling chops and bananas until bananas are fork-tender and chops are desired degree of doneness, about 6 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Four servings.

Japanese Students At Paltz Seminar

A special four-week seminar for 38 visiting Japanese students is being held at State University College, New Paltz, this month to teach the English language and American culture.

This is the second group of foreign visitors reported on the New Paltz campus this summer. The College earlier announced that 15 African women leaders from the Ivory Coast are attending a five-week training course at the College under the sponsorship of the African-American Institute.

The seminar for the Japanese is sponsored by the Committee on International Education Exchange of New York City and is financed by the students and interested foundations. Those attending the seminar are undergraduate or graduate students in Universities throughout Japan.

After they leave New Paltz, the students will live with American families for a month before returning to their homes.

While at New Paltz they will take field trips to places of interest including IBM plants in Poughkeepsie and Fishkill, the resorts at Mohonk and Minnewaska, the Roosevelt and Vanderbilt estates and New York City art galleries.

Among those hosting the students were New Paltz residents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Guttman, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Silverman, and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Polatsek.

Raw Mushrooms in Summer Salads

Considering the fact that Americans are eating more than twice as many tossed salads as they did a quarter century ago, it is obvious we love well-made flavorful salads, every day in the year, but especially during summer.

All kinds of crunchy and flavorful ingredients can join forces in the salad bowl. Leaves in varying shades of green, golden carrots, red tomatoes mix happily. More and more salad chefs are discovering sliced raw mushrooms which can be added freely to any vegetable or luncheon salad. In spite of the "meaty" texture of mushrooms, they compare in calorie content with leafy greens, celery and cucumbers.

Mushrooms should be washed very briefly in clear water. Jiggle them around a bit, but don't let them soak; remove from water promptly.

Modern cultivated mushrooms have delicate skins. Do not peel. Not only is this a lot of extra work, but considerable mushroom goodness is lost with the peelings.

These salad recipes will show the versatility of mushrooms. They're delicious not only with salad greens, but with tomato wedges, raw zucchini slices, green pepper rings, avocado chunks, onions, herbs and even such hearty ingredients as cooked rice or macaroni.

Mushroom Zucchini Salad

- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 avocado, peeled and diced
- 1 zucchini, thinly sliced
- 1 tomato, diced
- ¼ cup sliced scallions
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
- ½ teaspoon marjoram leaves, crumbled
- 4 tablespoons olive or salad oil
- 2 tablespoons white vinegar
- Lettuce leaves

In a salad bowl combine mushrooms, avcado, zucchini, tomato and scallions. Sprinkle with sugar, salt, black pepper and marjoram. Toss gently. Add oil and vinegar. Toss gently until well coated. Serve on lettuce-lined salad plates.

Yield: 6 portions.

Louisiana Mushroom Rice Salad

- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 2 cups cooked rice, chilled
- 1 cup diced tomato
- ½ cup chopped red onion
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon red pepper sauce
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
- Lettuce leaves

Yield: 6 portions.

In a salad bowl combine mushrooms, rice, tomato, onion and green pepper; set aside. In a small bowl blend mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and red pepper sauce. Pour over mushroom mixture. Toss gently, coating all ingredients. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Helpful Hints

To keep lettuce and celery fresh longer, keep in paper bags instead of cellophane. Do not remove the outside leaves until you are ready to use.

Some women who use garlic in cooking don't like to leave the actual bud in their food. Stick a toothpick through the bud before placing it in the food or sauce. That way it will be easy to find if you want to remove it.

Mathis TKO's Big Jim Beattie

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Buster Mathis, the onetime fat man of the heavyweight boxers, plans to lose more weight and enjoy a vacation after cutting down giant Jim Beattie in their scheduled 10-round match Thursday night.

Fighting at 226½ pounds, the lightest in his pro career, Mathis stalked Beattie for six rounds, then floored his heavier, more experienced opponent twice in the seventh to score a technical knockout.

"I felt even stronger and I was even faster," said Mathis, who weighed about 285 when he turned pro three years ago. "I want to go down to 210."

Mathis, 24, of Grand Rapids, Mich., notched his 19th knockout in 26 pro fights. His only loss was an 11th round technical knockout to Joe Frazier a few months ago, in which Mathis maintains he was beaten by exhaustion. He weighed 243½ then and decided to peel off more pounds to gain speed and stamina.

Ferraro Blasts 919 in Classic

The three-man Summer Classic was once again led by Jack Ferraro who combined games of 244 211, 227 and 251 for a 919 high. Vern Van Dusen was second with 207, 226, 201—833; followed by Sonny Barnes 202, 222, 204—820; Lou Kolano, 200, 255—826; Don Smith 202- 231, 206—814; Gary Barnes with a game of 257 and Ed Riozzi 235.

Team results: Ferraro Jr.'s 9, Dusharm 3; G. Barnes 9½, Kgn. Orn. Iron Co. 2½; T. Smith 9, Kingston Coal and Oil Co. 3; Lincoln Park Inn 6, Bagatta's 6; Overfields 6½, Childs 5½; S. Barnes' 11, Linnartz 1; Riozzi Masons 7, George's Auto Sales 5; Hinkley's 5, Sanfords 7; Wayslderkest 7, Unnamed 5.

Twelve Swimming Teams at Wiltwyck

Twelve teams, including the All-America Camp at New York Military Academy, have filed entries for Wiltwyck Country Club's first Invitational Swim Meet Saturday.

In addition to the All-America and Wiltwyck, entries have been filed by Callabar Club, Poughkeepsie YMCA, Pawling YMCA, Williams Lake Hotel, Camp Ben-Ann, Moriello Park, Ridgelawn Swim Club and Jewish Community Center.

Time trials will start at 9:30 a.m., with the finals scheduled at 4 p.m. The host club, which has compiled an impressive showing in AAU and local meets, anticipates a record-breaking entry of 261 juniors from the Mid-Hudson Valley area clubs.

Thirty-six events are scheduled in the 50-100 meter freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly, and eight in the 100-200 meter medley relays.

Medals will be awarded for first, second and third place in the individual events. Medals also will be awarded for first place in the relays.

High point trophies will be awarded for boys and girls in each group, in addition to a team trophy for the team accumulating the most points.

The meet director is Miss Mary Elizabeth Boyd, who will be assisted by Debbie Rifenbary. Both are staff members of the Wiltwyck Country Club pool.

Hoffman Tosses One-Hitter for Yallum's

Richie Hoffman, the only Kingston City Softball pitcher to hold a win over the Poughkeepsie Red Whites in loop play this year, last night tossed a one-hitter, leading Yallum's to a 2-0 semi-final playoff victory over Royal Grill.

The contest, the first of the best-of-three to decide who meets the 12-1 league champion Red Whites in the finals, was over early as Yallum's got their runs in the first frame and Hoffman checked Royal Grill throughout.

Hoffman set down the first 11 men he faced, giving up a fourth inning single to Billy Costello as the no-hitter went down the drain.

The burly Hoffman put away the next six he faced before walking Joe Tremper, who was later thrown out at second on an attempted steal.

For the winners, George Fisher opened things with a one out single. Hoffman beat out an infield single to put men on first and second and Paul Buytkins drove Fisher in with a single to center. Hoffman, rounding third, scored when the throw from the outfield went astray and into the losers' dugout.

Hoffman faced 22 Royal's in all, striking out 13 and giving up that lone walk. Billy Costello started for the losers, whiffed six and allowing a walk before giving way to Billy Stokes, who had a strikeout.

The series resumes Monday when the same teams clash at Block Park. If Yallum's wins, it is all over, and they will go on to the finals. Should Royal take it, the deciding contest is slated for Tuesday at Block.

Gibson Keeps Winning Despite 'Koufax Arm'

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Bob Gibson's aching arm may yet be enshrined with Sandy Koufax' arthritic elbow in baseball's medical hall of fame.

Koufax established some of the most remarkable pitching feats in baseball annals despite the painful disease in his left elbow and Gibson, the whiplash right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, is zeroing in on at least one outstanding achievement, sore arm and all.

Gibson breezed to his 11th straight victory and eighth shutout of the season Thursday night by beating the Philadelphia Phillies 5-0 on five hits and in the process lowered his earned run average to a miniscule 0.957.

"My arm ached before the game tonight," conceded Gibson, who has allowed only two runs in a phenomenal stretch of 92 innings. "Usually, I get that kind of ache in the sixth or seventh inning. Tonight, it came while I was still warming up in the bullpen."

Gibson, who hasn't lost since May 28, pitched his 12th straight complete game, struck out six to raise his season total to 145 and tied Luis Tiant of the Cleveland Indians for the major league lead in shutouts.

"I'm tired again," said the 32-year-old Gibson who had two doubles, drove in a run and reached base in each of his four at bats. "It was kind of close out there tonight. Being on base didn't make that much difference. I get tired from pitching, not from running the bases."

The victory enabled the Cards to maintain their 12 1-2 game lead over the Atlanta Braves, who beat the New York Mets 4-2. The Cincinnati Reds ed the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-0 in only other National League game and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Washington Senators 4-1 in an American League game curtailed by rain after 6 1-2 innings.

Joe Sparma allowed only one hit, a line single by Paul Casanova in the fourth inning, and an unearned run in the first and Jim Northrup blasted his 14th and 15th homers as the Tigers' hiked their Al lead to 5 1-2 games over the idle Baltimore Orioles.

Joe Torre's first home run in 31 games, a three-run blast which climaxed a four-run sixth, lifted the Braves over the Mets. All of Atlanta's runs were unearned as the resuls of Ed Charles' two-out error on Felix Millan's grounder. Phil Niekro allowed six hits in posting his 10th victory while Dick Selma was charged with the defeat.

"My roomie, Dick Kelley, shook my hand last week when I hit one out in batting practice," quipped the powerful Torre, whose last home run came on June 20 against Cincinnati.

Don Pavletich, who failed to hit safely against Pittsburgh all last season, stroked a run-scoring single during a two-run fourth inning as the Reds recorded their sixth successive triumph. Leo Cardenas knocked in the second run of the inning with a double. The Pirates stranded 13 runners as they collected 13 hits and three walks off winner George Culver and reliever Clay Carroll.

Boo's, Southside In Saugerties Wins

John Freligh's timely single, plus his tight pitching for South Side Men's Club who used a two-run rally in the seventh enabled them to post a 4-3, comefrom behind victory over Statewide in the Yankee Division, and Boo's Tavern stopped last place McConekey's, 12-2 in a 10-run rule, five-inning contest in the Met Division of the Saugerties Softball League.

South Side, fighting for the pennant, trailed 3-1 in the bottom of the sixth. A run in the sixth helped, but it took a couple of errors, a sacrifice and two walks and Freligh's single to left to win it.

Roger Mickle belted a basesfull triple to send second place Boo's off and running while McConekey's two tallies came on back-to-back three-baggers. Barney Hoyt had a pair of singles for the winners.

Pinehaven Doll Posts Easy Wire-to-Wire MR Victory

MONTICELLO — Pinehaven Doll, owned by and driven by Harold I. Stayton of Felton, Del., scored her third victory of 1968, posting a gate-to-wire victory at Monticello Raceway last night, winning by a length and a half in 2:08.3.

Leaving from post position two, Pinehaven Doll led Nevele Duke (1) to the first quarter in 0:31.3 and went on from there to take the $1,200 featured trot with relative ease. She has 21 starts.

Going down to the half, Pinehaven Doll was on top, Sam Darlington (6), outside the entire race to this point, was second, Nevele Duke was third inside and Avon Mary (8), fourth, outside. The half went in 1:04.1.

In the backstretch the second time around, Sam Darlington and the winner were head and head, but Pinehaven Doll, a bay mare, five-year-old by Scottish Lord out of Pinehaven Lady by Lawde Me, was still in front. She had a head advantage at the three-fourths pole, reaching that mark in 1:37 flat. But, Sam Darlington was pressing hard.

Stayton called on the mare for a strong close and she responded, pulling away from Sam, who was parked the entire mile, extending the lead to one and a half markers under a hard drive.

Joe Schlichting, in Sam's seat, held off a strong close by Avon Mary, who tried to go between the rail horse, Pinehaven Doll, and Sam, who was halfway out on the track.

The winner, sent off the favorite at 5-2, returned $7.00, 3.80 and 3.00. Sam's place payoffs read $6.80 and 4.60 while Mary had a $4.60 show price.

Wright's Blanks Eddie's

Four very costly errors resulted in six unearned runs for Wright's Service Station and enabled them to move into a tie for second place with a 6-0, two-hit shutout over Eddie's Country Fair in the Ellenville Softball League.

Ron Joray, Wright's moundsman, gave up singles to Jerry Schoonmaker and Percy Greene for the lone safeties by Eddie's, but his teammates caught on to the miscues and parlayed them into two runs in the third, a trio more in the fifth and a loner in the sixth.

The victory, Joray's seventh against four setbacks, all the team's decisions, tied Wright's loop with an 8-3 mark.

Chidsey, K of C BRL Victors

Dave Kwasnowski and Bill Stevenson carried the big sticks yesterday in Babe Ruth League interdivisional play, each belting a triple and two singles as Kwasnowski led Chidsey-DeForest to a 10-1 triumph over the Kiwanis and Stevenson's hits powered the Knights of Columbus to a 17-6 romp over the American Legion. Both winners are National Division teams.

Kwasnowski also garnered a first-inning walk that triggered a three-run rally, featuring a pair of passed balls with the bases loaded.

The Chidsey catcher drove in two in the fourth with a single and added his final RBI in the sixth with a booming triple.

His batting prowess helped hurler Ralph Perry coast to the win, and upsetting loser Chris Schick's performance despite Schick's 13 strikeouts. Perry had nine Ks.

Led by Stevensons perfect three-for-three evening, the K of C unleashed a 13-hit attack against Legionnaires Jerry Smart and Vince Rua. Jim Ferraro had a double and two singles in five at bats and Paul Saehloff had a one bagger and a triple for the winners. Bill Weishaupt also had a three-base hit for the K of C.

The Legion cause wasn't helped any by the fact that they made 10 fielding errors.

'Apple Tree' Opens in Woodstock

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

A scoundrel of a snake gets Eve to bite into the forbidden fruit, the gal and her man Adam are served with an eviction notice, a Bassett hound saunters out on stage nearly convulsing the cast and audience, a rapacious stuffed lion falls out of its cage and the lead forgets her line. This, added to an off-key balladeer, overstraining, overreaching, some ungraceful prancing on stage, was part and parcel of "The Apple Tree" which opened Wednesday night at the Woodstock Playhouse. The production was like a half-baked pie—it wasn't perfect but there were enough ingredients in it to make it tasty and amusing nonetheless.

Actually, "The Apple Tree" is a collection of three one act plays. The first is, by far, the best of the trio.

Listed as "The Diary of Adam and Eve," it is based on a short story by Mark Twain. Gene Nye portrays the perplexed and confused Adam while Tanny McDonald is Eve. The "snake" is Gary Miller. Twain's version of Paradise is a farcical one. He exploits the typical man-woman relationship right down to the decor of their hut, milady's hat, wifely nagging, and the inevitable enslavement to the upkeep of the grounds — cutting the grass, for instance. The lines are witty and very contemporary.

Both Nye and McDonald show ample musical ability and get their rather unusual songs across very well. Nye has been in several of this summer's productions at the Woodstock Playhouse as well as in the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre group. He appeared on Broadway as the Fool in Judith Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen" and as an understudy in "Song of the Grasshopper." His extensive regional theatre credits include the Hartford Stage Company, American Shakespeare Festival and the Ypsilanti Greek Theatre as well as the Phoenix Theatre in New York.

Miss McDonald's training as a singer and concert pianist are evidenced by her handling of the musical portions in the play. An extremely attractive actress, her talents are multifaceted and she makes a charming Eve.

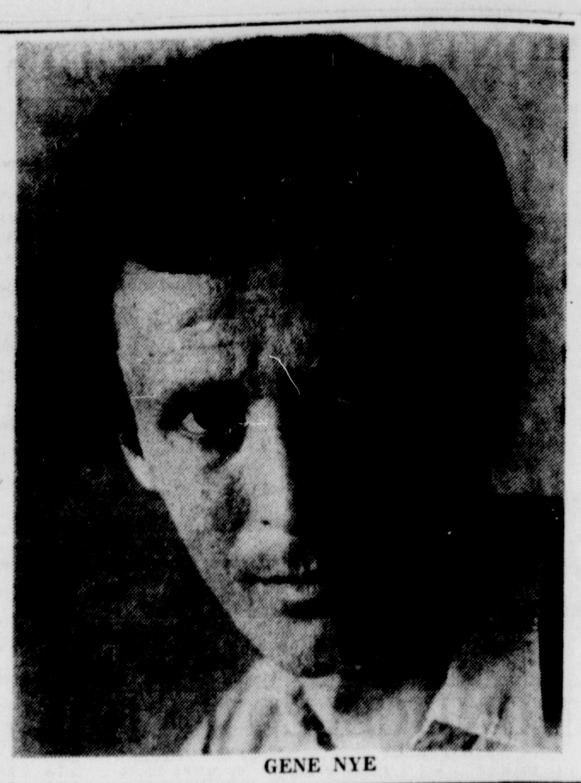

The second one-act play is a take-off on a short story by Frank R. Stockton, "The Lady or the Tiger?" The near slapstick staging is entertaining and features Miss McDonald again in the role of a much bedecked princess who can't decide whether to lose her lover to another woman or to the bad, bad, lion. Cast with Miss McDonald in this vehicle are R. Mack Miller as a balladeer; George Pollack, Trent S. Knepper as guards; Nico Boccio as King Arik; and Gene Nye as the prisoner. Captain Sanchar, the poor bloke who is to be tossed to his doom, is portrayed by Gary Miller. Jennifer Higgin is Nadjira, femme fatale, and Anne Sward is the prisoner's bride. In the King's retinue are Michael Bradshaw, Eugene Blythe and Clint Allmon. Handmaidens are Tressa Gilliland, Judi Moncure and Amy Lieberman. Action in this one-act farce takes place in a faraway kingdom ruled by an absolute monarch.

"Passionella," a one-act comedy based on a cartoon story by Jules Feiffer, winds up the evening. Miss McDonald, cast as the lowly chimney sweep who aspires to be an actress, does a creditable job with this role but it's her costuming that really delivers the gaffaws.

Complete with spangles, sequins, and psychedelic lights, the production moves fast enough to keep up interest and Miss McDonald comes through as a quick change artist.

Cast in "Passionella," are Michael Bradshaw, narrator; George Pollack, Mr. Fallible; Nico Boccio, producer; Trent S. Knepper, doorman; Gene Nye, Flip, the Prince Charming; Clint Allmon, newsboy; R. Mack Miller, director; and Gary Miller, reporter. The chorus consists of Clint Allmon, Gary Miller, Trent S. Knepper, Eugene Blythe, R. Mack Miller, George Pollack, Tressa Gilliland, Jennifer Higgin, Judi Moncure, Amy Lieberman and Anne Sward.

"The Apple Tree" will run through August 4. On August 7, Edgar Rosenblum will present one of the most entertaining musicals to come from the Broadway scene, "Guys and Dolls." It will play through August 18.

The Association to Rock The Colonie Tent on Monday

The nationally famous recording group, The Association, will rock Eddie Rich's Colonie Summer Theatre for one night only on Monday, July 29. The single performance will be at 8:40 p.m.

According to the Random House Dictionary of the English Language, association means "1. an organization of people with a common purpose and having a formal structure . . . 3. friendship, companionship." This definition most certainly applies to The Association.

It is a group of extremely talented young men named Terry Kirkman, Jim Yester, Russ Giguere, Ted Bluechel, Larry Ramos and Brian Cole. The group was formed in the spring of 1965 with the intent purpose of becoming the top group of musical performers in the country.

A brief look at the accomplishments over the past three years fully establishes that intent. The group has had three hit records, "Cherish," "Windy" and "Never My Love," each selling a million copies. They have won three Grammy awards for these records and an additional Grammy for their best contemporary album, "Insight Out."

Two of their singles have been in the Top 10 on the recording charts, "Along Comes Mary" and "Everything That Touches You."

To apply descriptive measures to The Association's music would be nonsensical. Let it suffice to say that they are vocal virtuosos, harmonically tight and instrumentally instinctive.

On stage, The Association presents a musical review, their endless string of hit records interspersed with bits and pieces of satirical humor.

Dedicated disciples of peace, they speak of love; not as a replacement for war, but as a way of life. Unafraid, they speak of God and of the inner satisfaction one must find before he begins to live. Intellectually curious and concerned, The Association are students of life, and yet, although their warehouse of knowledge is expansive, they cannot produce that piece of paper reading "Degree." They have become lyrical liberators, speaking on subjects within their melodic structures as a means of getting their message across.

They are performers and the audience comes first with them. "They shell out their hard-earned dollars to attend our concerts and the least we can do is give them the best show possible," says Terry.

Following The Association on Tuesday evening, July 30 will be The Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca Show. It will play the tent through Aug. 4.

Tickets are available at the box office from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, or by writing to Box 136, Latham. It is strongly suggested that tickets be purchased in advance for The Association

Library Fair In Rosendale Set Aug. 10

Plans are underway for the annual Rosendale Library Fair which will be held on the lawn of the library on Main Street on Aug. 10 starting at 10 a.m. and closing at 5 p.m. Chairman of the fair will be George Mollenhauer assisted by Mrs. Elsie Ingram and Mrs. Catherine O'Leary.

Chairman of the various booths are as follows: fancy articles—Mrs. Stephen Reposky; books — Mrs. Vernon Freese; baked goods—Mrs. Paul Purcell; refreshments—Mrs. Louis Mastro; plants — Mrs. Adolph Wirth; white elephant — Mrs. John Lentz; candy—Mrs. Francis VanLoan; and membership and articles for children—Mrs. Elsie Ingram. Merry-go-round rides will be managed by Carl Mihm and the Girl Scouts of Cadet Troop 3, under the supervision of Mrs. Rose McClusky. Mrs. Catherine O'Leary will be in charge of sponsor ads and ground work will be under the supervision of Bob Hicks.

More workers and booth donations are needed and anyone wishing to help in this community project for the benefit of the library may contact the chairmen or librarians for information. Paintings by local artists will be on display.

Chicago and Suburban Town Hit by New Disturbances

By EDWARD W. RUNDEN

CHICAGO (AP) — More than a dozen persons were injured Thursday night when Negro youths vandalized a food store on Chicago's North Side. In suburban Maywood another crowd smashed store windows after police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the village hall.

Twenty-five persons were arrested in Maywood. Three were held on disorderly conduct charges after the Chicago disturbances.

Follows NAACP Meeting

In Maywood, an integrated city of 30,000 15 miles west of Chicago's downtown section, trouble started after a meeting of a local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Discussions at the meeting centered on the lack of a swimming pool in Maywood—a long-standing complaint of the community's 10,000 Negroes.

A police spokesman said after the NAACP meeting about 300 Negro youths marched a mile to the Maywood Village Hall where the village board was meeting on the second floor.

Officials refused to permit the entire group to enter the meeting. Police, whose headquarters is on the first floor, asked the youths to disperse. After they refused and became boisterous police hurled tear-gas canisters at them.

One of the youths picked up a canister and hurled it back into the village hall, Police Sgt. Grady Rivers said. Policemen in the hall donned gas masks.

Most of the youths headed for the nearby downtown section and smashed store windows, overturned park benches and hurled objects at passing vehicles, injuring 10 persons, none seriously.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was quickly imposed. Reinforcements from surrounding communities, some wielding submachine guns, moved in.

Maywood Police Chief Berner Kellough said those arrested, all Negroes, would be prosecuted for mob action and violation of curfew.

The disturbance on Chicago's North Side started after a large group of young Negroes listened to talk described as inflammatory, according to Sid Bennett, 35, a Negro who lives in the area.

"About 8 to 10 men, some dressed in African-style garb were inciting the crowd," said Bennett. "They were outside agitators."

Bennett, a karate expert, rescued Mel Larson, 54, a Sun-Times photographer who was beaten around the face and suffered chest injuries, including possible broken ribs by a Negro gang. He was reported in fair condition.

100 Youths Invade Store

Some 100 youths invaded the supermarket, a colonial-styled structure that was involved in disturbances after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The front of the store has been boarded up since the April disturbances. The supermarket has been the scene in recent weeks of picketing and boycotting by members of Operation Breadbasket protesting against alleged exorbitant prices of the A&P food store chain.

Several youths carried a cash register from the food store, but dropped it and ran when shotgun-wielding policemen arrived. The cash register was locked and the $150 in the drawer wasn't taken, police said. The youths were not arrested.

The store manager, Martin Stratton, said the youths also carried some food and liquor out of the store.

Besides invading the food store in Chicago, youths harassed a Fire Department station and pelted passing vehicles, including a Chicago Transit Authority bus, with rocks and bottles.

'MISS SHOWGIRL' — Pert Jackie Hewitt, a pretty brown-eyed blonde showgirl in Desert Inn Hotel's "Pzazz '68" show, captured the "Miss Showgirl International of 1969" title Thursday during the second competition at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Nev. Miss Hewitt stands five feet, 11 inches, and measures 35-23-36. She is from Barnet, England. The lively blonde beauty, 23, won a $1,000 mink stole and a guest appearance on television's "Big Valley" series. She captured the title from 18 other contestants. The show was video taped in color for later national viewing. Television star Clint Walker was the emcee. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Thieu Opponent Sentenced in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — A military court sentenced the runner-up in last fall's presidential election to five years at hard labor today for advocating peace talks between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The five-man court found Truong Dinh Dzu, the 51-year-old peace candidate in the October election, guilty of "actions harmful to the anti-Communist fighting spirit of the South Vietnamese people and armed forces."

The trial lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

Since Dzu, a lawyer, ran second to Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu last fall and then led opposition candidates in accusing the military junta of stealing the election, he has spent much of the time under detention on various charges and pretexts.

In the trial today, the government charged that Dzu in interviews with British and American newsmen urged talks with the Liberation Front and a coalition government including the Communists. Dzu contended that he had advocated talks and coalition only with non-Communist members of the NLF.

Communism and neutralism are outlawed by South Vietnam's constitution, and the government refuses to consider talks with the Viet Cong. The verdict and the sentence were not unexpected since the same court on Thursday gave a five-year sentence to the 23-year-old publisher of South Vietnam's leading student newspaper for publishing articles the government said were pro-Communist.

Last week the same court gave death sentences in absentia to 10 leaders of the new Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces, which Hanoi is boosting to attract non-Communist support in South Vietnam.

"They are putting me in jail for hard labor because they say I acted against the government and the army," Dzu said after the verdict. "But I have not acted. I only expressed my opinion as a politician and as a peace candidate. I have never acted illegally against the government."

Grove Press Office Is Damaged By Bomb

NEW YORK (UPI)—A bomb was hurled early today through a window of Grove Press, publisher of off-beat and controversial magazines and erotic literature. It damaged the office, but there were no injuries.

Grove Press publishes "Evergreen Review," a monthly magazine which carries in its August edition a lengthy reprint of the diary of Ernesto Che Guevara, the slain Cuban revolutionary.

Today's blast came at about the same time a bomb exploded at the Mexican tourist office in Chicago, second time in two weeks that building was bombed. There were no injuries in the latest explosion.

A police spokesman said that judging from a hole in a curtain on the second floor offices of Grove Press, a "handgrenade type" missile may have been fired from grenade launcher.

The office of Grove in the five story brick building in Greenwich Village was lined with erotic novels the firm specialized in publishing. Three windows were blasted out and damage was widespread, but not serious.

IBM Mulling Site Additions

KINGSTON — International Business Machines Corporation has announced that it is studying the feasibility of additions to its sites in East Fishkill, Kingston and Poughkeepsie.

If approved, these additions would consolidate existing groups now in other buildings, and also, provide for expansion in East Fishkill.

The studies involve an addition to the Components Division site in East Fishkill, and to Systems Development Division facilities located at the Kingston site and at the South Road complex in Poughkeepsie.

Northeast Dairy Farmers See Fluid Milk Price Increased

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the 25,000 dairy farmers in the Northeast says that an incease in the minimum pice of fluid milk is "imperative for price alignment and orderly marketing."

Dr. Stewart Johnson, an agriculture economist at the University of Connecticut, representing the New York-New England Dairy Cooperative Coordinating Committee, presented his statement Thursday at a hearing in the offices of the New York-New Jersey Milk Market Administration.

The committee is seeking an increase of 26 cents a hundredweight-slightly more than ½ cent a quart—in the price of class I fluid milk.

Johnson said that statistics showed that for some 14 years, the New York-New Jersey Class I price averaged $1.49 above the Chicago price, but that this was disrupted by a July 1 increase granted to the milk-marketing regions around Chicago.

"If the 14-year average difference of $1.49 were added to the current Chicago Class I price of $5.53, a Class I price for New York of $7.02 would result—53 cents higher than the present price," he said.

Johnson also mentioned that the price farmers actually get for all the milk they sell under federal marketing orders, a price which is normally higher in the Northeast than in the Midwest, has reversed so that the Midwest price is now higher.

He also cited figures indicating a decline in per capital milk production in the Northeast as compared with the rest of the nation and that there had been a drop of 6 per cent in the number of dairy farmers in the Northeast.

An alternate proposal to the staight 26-cent increase was presented by the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc.

This group suggested compromise 8 per cent increase in Class I milk prices in the New York-New Jersey maketing region and a 5 per cent increase in the rest of the Northeast regions.

Vermont Agriculture Commissioner Robert J. Branon said "devastating weather conditions and insect damage" had increased milk production costs.

David Derr, marketing specialist for the Dairy Division, Consumer and Marketing Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture said the earliest possible ruling on the price increases would probably not be before Sept. 1.

Derr said that once the hearings are completed, interested parties will file briefs arguing their positions. After this the secretary of agriculture will make a temporary recommendation. After exceptions are filed, the secretary will make a final recommendation.

Negroes Break Store Windows In Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — A group of about five Negro men and youths broke the windows of five stores and stole items from at least three of them in the downtown section of this Hudson River city between 9:30 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 a.m. today, police said.

Two men were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

Police said about $500 worth of record players and other items and $10 in cash were stolen from the Hi-Fi Center.

Also stolen, police said, were an undetermined amount of liquor from a liquor store and an undetermined amount of items from a Spanish-American food store.

Police said they did not know if anything was stolen from a clothing store where a window was broken, and apparently nothing was stolen from an upholstery store where a window was broken.

Bomb Rips Mexican Tourist Office

CHICAGO (UPI)—The second bomb in two weeks blasted open the door of the Mexican government's downtown tourist office early today—the 12th anniversary of Fidel Castro's attack on the Moncada Military Barracks that launched the Cuban revolution.

Lying in the shattered glass of the entryway, police found a note date "26 de Juio," the slogan of Castro's revolutionary movement.

Attached to the two-page, handwritten note were two small stickers, reading, in Spanish, "Unete Poder Cubano" —unite Cuban power!

The first two lines translated roughly as "international democratic commandos, bulletin No. 2. another year of slavery for the Cuban people . . ."

Police would only reveal the top of the note, saying it was "a matter of intelligence" and further handling might destroy fingerprints.

The bomb seemed to be part of a series of blasts of Mexican government offices around the country. The Michigan Avenue office was bombed previousy on a Sunday Morning, July 14. Nobody was injured at either blast.

Since April 22, many such explosions have occurred in other cities. Police theorize they are the work of anti-Castro Cuban groups angry at Mexico for holding the 1968 Olympics with Cuba participating, and at 26 non-Communist countries who trade with Cuba.

Set 15th Anniversary Of Castro's Revolution

SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP) — More than 600,000 Cubans are expected to crowd into this gaily decorated capital of Las Villas Province today to join Prime Minister Fidel Castro in celebrating the 15th anniversary of his revolutionary movement.

A carnival complete with street dancing, Afro-Cuban music and plenty of beer and rum set the tone for the celebration.

The city about 240 miles east of Havana was festooned with flags and thousands of banners bearing the number 26. A 10-story portrait of slain guerrilla leader Che Guevara decorated the front of the Santa Clara Libre Hotel on the city's main plaza.

A speech by the bearded Cuban leader is the high point of the festivities. Castro is expected to issue a rallying cry for more work and a stronger dedication to communism.

He also is expected to touch on Czechoslovakia's current feud with the Soviet Union and the uproar in Bolivia caused by the publication in Cuba of the diary taken from Guevara, who was killed by Bolivian soldiers in that country last October.

Special North Korean, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations were invited to join Castro on the speaker's platform. More than 50 foreign newsmen were given permission to cover the event.

The mass rally celebrates the anniversary of Castro's debut in 1953, when he led an attack against an army barracks in the city of Santiago.

The attack failed and Castro was jailed for two years by President Fulgencio Batista. Batista freed him, and Castro organized the invasion which ended in the overthrow of the Batista regime in January 1959.

It was at Santa Clara that rebel forces led by Guevara defeated the army decisively and forced Batista to flee.

Ten and Twenty Years Ago

July 26, 1948 — A fire which started in the kitchen, damaged the Schreiber farm house south of New Paltz.

An estimated 10,000 spectators saw the parade of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in Saugerties.

Flying saucers were reported seen in various areas.

A cut in the personnel of the New York State Employment Service was expected.

The Rev. Dr. Walter O. Macoskey was guest minister at First Baptist Church in Kingston.

Henry W. DuBois was appointed mayor of New Paltz at a special meeting of the village board.

The Post Office Department announced that there would be no free loading of mail at the old postal rates after July 31.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church announced that it would have the Rev. Lloyd A. Berg as guest speaker.

Kennedy Book Nearly Ready

The last pages of our new Close-to-the-news book, "Triumph and Tragedy, the Story of the Kennedys," are coming off the press at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Shipment of some of the 250,000 copies already ordered by this and other Associated Press newspapers and by their readers will be made next week; the rest will be shipped just as fast as possible, within a week or two.

Production of this out-size, handsome volume has proved more time consuming than first expected because of the vast amount of research involved, because the book has been increased in size successively from 190 to 224 pages, and then to 254 pages, and because the number of black and white and color illustrations has been increased to about 150.

It's going to be well worth waiting for. Its brilliantly written text of about 95,000 words provides a sweeping panorama of the spectacular rise of this Irish immigrant family to the peaks of power, wealth and fame and tragedy.

For you to be sure to get your copy, you should order at once if you have not already done so. There is no increase in the special price of $3 originally announced.

Upstaters Die In Accident

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Two persons were killed and two were injured early today when an automobile crashed into an abutment of a railroad overpass, flipping over on a second automobile.

Police said the two cars were going at high rates of speed and apparently were racing.

Dead in the accident were Bobby Watsons, 30, of Rochester, and, in the other automobile, Mrs. Barbara Scott, also of Rochester.

The women's husband, Marcus Scott, was in Genesee Hospital, reportedly in fair condition, along with an unidentified companion of Watsons.

Watsons lived at 31 Kelly St. The Scott address is 4 Payne St.

The accident occurred on Plymouth Ave. near Clarissa St.

Man Arrested, Ran Up $1,071 Bill in Paltz

Bruno Oscar Klahre, 67, whose permanent address is unknown, was arrested by Highland State Police Thursday night after checking out of the College Motor Inn in New Paltz without paying is bill.

Klahre had stayed at the New Paltz motel since late December, and had accumulated a bill of $1,071 up until several days ago. He was arrested last night after the manager of the motel issued a complaint to police. Klahre had apparently left the motel several days ago. When he did not return, the manager informed the Highland barracks.

Klahre was arraigned before New Paltz Town Justice Schneider last night and remanded to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $150 bail. He will appear before the Town Justice tonight at 8 p. m. to answer charges.

Seaway Tieup Ends

MONTREAL (AP) — Ships have resumed their normal passage through the St. Lawrence Seaway after an 11-hour tieup that resulted from a freighter ramming into a ship-arrester.

Approximately 25 vessels were halted as of Wednesday night because, a Seaway spokesman said, the Greek freighter Castilia hit the arrester — a series of cables — at the Beauharnois Locks.

Utica Lumber Plant Hit By Blaze

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen worked into the morning hours today to douse a fire that destroyed two buildings and 11 lumber sheds at a lumber-company complex on the city's southeast side.

The fire was reported shortly before 7 p.m. Thursday at the Sunset-Philip Thomas Lumber Co. It was reported under control at about 10:15 p.m. but kept scores of firemen at the scene hours later.

Five firemen were treated at hospitals. None was reported injured seriously.

Some damage was reported to nearby houses and private garages.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

An estimate of damage was not available.

Ordered to Leave U.S., Man Swims Niagara River

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A 19-year-old Mexican claims he slipped into Canada, after being ordered to leave the United States, by swimming the swirling Niagara River just below Niagara Falls.

The youth gave his name as Niels C. Thomson and his last official address as Jalisco, Mexico.

He described to Canadian officials Thursday his descent into the treacherous gorge and a 1,000-foot swim during which "my arms were shaking and I couldn't stop trembling."

A police officer said the youth repeated the account three times without variation.

Thomson was ordered to leave the United States as an illegal immigrant. He said he swam the river before dawn Wednesday.

According to his account, he spent Tuesday studying the river at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and plunged into the water in trousers, a sport shirt and gym shoes.

The current, which ranges up to 18 miles an hour, was stronger than he had anticipated, he said, but he could not get back to shore.

"I thought I must die," he told police, saying he felt as though he was in the water "for a whole year."

When he reached the Canadian side, he said, he took an empty cable car up the bank.

He was picked up while hitchhiking Wednesday night.

Thomson also claimed that he once tried out for the Mexican Olympic team as a long-distance swimmer.

Tax Stamps Shifted to State Disburser

Beginning Aug. 1 New York State will start issuing real estate transfer documentary stamps and collecting the revenue formerly collected by the Federal Government. The Federal Government halted the issuance of documentry stamps on Jan. 1.

County Clerk Albert Spada said this week he had been notified by the State Tax Commission that county clerks have been designated as agents for the commission to issue the stamps and serve as a collection agency.

The State Tax Commission will provide a Pitney-Bowes tax meter machine to assist in disbursement and control of the tax stamps. The fee for documentary stamps is $1.10 for each $1,000 transaction.

Tax stamps are required after Aug. 1 on all deeds, documents, instruments, except wills, regarding any real property granted, bargained, sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed.

The real estate transfer tax will be paid either by purchase of adhesive documentary stamps from the Tax Commission or its agents, in this case county clerks, through the use of metering machines.

In February the County Legislature approved a resolution seeking an act of the State Legislature to permit the county to issue the documentary stamps. The state however pre-empted the revenue producing idea and the bill was recently signed by Governor Rockefeller.

The tax stamps will be affixed on each documunt recorded in the county clerk's office, a procedure which was in effect prior to Jan. 1, when the Federal Government sold the tax stamps.

Sees No Future For Railroad Passenger Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the nation's railroads says "there is no future need for the passenger train" except in some heavily populated areas such as the New York-Washington corridor.

Thomas M. Goodfellow, president of the Association of American Railroads, gave this assessment to a Senate Commerce subcommittee Thursday.

Goodfellow told the committee he opposes a proposal by the Interstate Commerce Commission to limit cutbacks in passenger service.

The commission seeks to block discontinuance of "last train" service between cities in different states.

"We see no purpose whatever in running trains the public isn't riding," Goodfellow said.

He told the committee intercity passenger trains would lose about $600 million this year. The deficit, he added, would have to be passed on to the public in the form of higher freight rates "for just about everything people buy."

60th Birthday Today for FBI; No Celebration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, born almost out of desperation and mired in its early years in political problems, is 60 years old today.

But the bureau planned no celebration. For the FBI's 16,000 employes it was just another work day.

Although the FBI of 1968 is one of the most controversial, efficient and—some say—powerful government agencies, it was founded almost as a desperation move July 16, 1908, by then Atty. Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte.

The Justice Department had been borrowing investigators from the Treasury Department's Secret Service to collect evidence for cases, but Congress prohibited that practice on May 27, 1908, and an independent agency was set up.

When Hoover—then 29—took over in 1924 the agency had become mired in the administration of political hacks.

The annual bazaar of the Presentation Church will be held on the church grounds Friday, Aug. 9 and Saturday, Aug. 10. Various booths will be on display such as fancy article, doll, game, and refreshments. On Saturday, Aug. 10, a dance in St. Leo's hall will be held. Music by the Midnites.

Saturday, July 27, there will be two buses at the Port Ewen Firehouse for those of the fire department and their families who wish to go to the firemen's parade to be held at New Paltz. Buses will leave at 2 p.m. and 2:45 p.m. Those taking the buses are to be at the firehouse at least 15 minutes before bus time.

OKs Lakes Compact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill granting the consent of Congress to the Great Lakes Basin compact comprising the eight states bordering the lakes.

The compact creates the Great Lakes Commission, which is empowered to make recommendations to the eight states, the U.S. government and Canada on development, use and conservation of the water resources of the basin.

The states are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Each is represented on the commission by three to five commissioners.

THE GOOD LIFE

begins in a home that you truly enjoy living in. A home you are proud to entertain your friends in.

We have a listing for just such a home. Take the kitchen first, it's large with plenty of dining space, add a Tappan dishwasher & range, plenty of cabinets and glass doors to a deck and you've got a mighty pleasant place to prepare meals. Look at the big comfortable living room with wall to wall carpet and a fireplace at one end, perfect for having friends over. But most important are the large bedrooms and two ceramic baths. There's also a large pleasant dining room that puts pleasure back in dining and a big family room.

All this located on a big lot offering privacy without isolation. Owners are anxious and have reduced the price as they are leaving the area. May we show it to you today?

EMPLOYMENT

ATTENTION JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted ads from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.15 an hour minimum with overtime pay required after 42 hours a week. For specific information, contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.
IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualifiation. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Dear Abby

To Tell or Not to Tell

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If you knew positively that your sister's husband had been keeping another woman for 7 or 8 years, would you take on the sad task of telling your sister?

Many other people know it, and she is bound to find out someday, and then she will know that we knew it, too.

HER SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: There are two schools of thought. To tell and not to tell.

I belong to the "not to tell" school. There are exceptions, of course. In most cases the wife usually knows, but she is putting on a brave face for reasons known only to her.

Allow her her pride and keep quiet. And should she in time admit that she knows, be "big" and don't chime in with those who would say, "I knew it all along."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and I am waiting for a guy who is overseas in the service. (Let's call him Morey.) I don't have an engagement ring or anything like that, but I promised Morey I would wait for him, so that's what I am doing.

Well, there is a guy Morey used to run around with (let's call him Herman), and Herman comes over and takes me out just to keep me from going nuts. Anyway, it started out that way. Now, Herman tells me he thinks he is in love with me, altho I told Herman from the start that I was waiting for Morey and I think of him only as a friend.

Don't get me wrong, Herman hasn't tried anything, but he is starting to like me too much for his own good. I don't want to quit seeing Herman because he's really a nice guy and a girl could go nuts sitting home all the time writing letters.

My mother says I shouldn't be going out at all, but I can't see any harm in it as long as I don't lead anybody on. What do you think? I don't want to hurt Herman.

WAITING FOR MOREY

DEAR WAITING: Maybe you think of Herman as "only a friend," but he obviously has other ideas about you. I don't know how you figure you are "waiting" for Morey, when you are going with Herman. IF A GIRL "waits" for a fellow, she waits alone without "going nuts." Don't worry about hurting Herman. I have an idea he can take care of himself.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You said, "There is one type of man I have never known to be strong, reliable and trustworthy, and he is the man who would ask for a loan of money from the woman he loves."

Are there NO exceptions?

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: Yes. A husband and wife many years married, and united by common interests, may become so one in purpose and thought that a common purse would be as natural to them as a common bed or dinner table. But before marriage, or immediately after, the man who begins to ask a woman for the use of her purse shows himself to be lacking more than money.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO ARNIE: There are two times in a man's life when he shouldn't gamble. (1) When he can't afford it. (2) When he can.

• • •

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HATE TO WRITE LETTERS? SEND $1 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069, FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

A lot of players would manage to go down at today's spade slam. It isn't too difficult. South knows all about those thousands of Englishmen walking the streets of London with no soles to their shoes because they failed to pull trumps, so South draws trumps and possibly runs off an extra couple for good measure.

If East and West discard sensibly on these five trump leads, South will go down. He will go after clubs and ruff the third lead. Should those three leads clear ths suit, South would make all 13 tricks. But they won't and South wil be held to a very unsatisfactory 11.

The correct line of play will bring home the bacon. South should study the hand carefully before leading to the second trick. He will see that he needs three club tricks for his contract. Therefore he won't make it if clubs break worse than 4-2.

Can he make it if they break 4-2? Yes, provided he can get to dummy to collect a trick with the fifth club.

Then, operating on the principle that you play for your contract, South will promptly cash dummy's ace and king of clubs. When both opponents follow, it will be all over but the mopping up. He will ruff a club, enter dummy with the queen of trumps, ruff another club, draw the rest of the trumps and eventually get to dummy with the ace of hearts in order to cash the last club.

The whole point of this line of play is that dummy had two entries outside of the club suit and South had to plan his play to conserve both of them. One was needed to get to dummy for a fourth club lead; the other to get to dummy to cash the fifth club.

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1968

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Excellent time for getting together with club members, co-workers. You could shine at any convention. Key to really successful day is sense of balance. Don't ovedo — avoid extremes.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): You are encouraged in creative pursuits. Your capabilities come to forefront. Be an innovator. Strive for greater comfort and beauty where home appliances are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Stress is on relationship of lasting value. Avoid superficiality. Dig for facts, obtain solid information. Ignore individual who advocates flimsy excuses. Get to heart of matters.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Fine for social visits, short journeys. Key is to change routine and relax. Be a good listener — some of your relatives may have compulsion to confide and confess.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Pendulum swings toward financial area — money is on your mind. There is way to increase income potential. Make outline, prepare format, expand area of contacts. Get rid of petty, fearful notions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Lunar cycle high; means circumstances turn in your favor. You are able to make right moves at right time. Personality is emphasized. What you do, say hits the mark.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Trying to hide or cover up could be mistake. Instead, reveal flaws as well as assets. You may find that proving you are human is the greatest asset. Try it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Encourage social activity — give of yourself. Make effort to please. Some may appear selfish, indifferent. Don't compound error. Set your own pace. Provide beautiful example.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Accent on fulfillment of ambitions. This comes about through concentration on specific problem. May have much to do with communication, short journey or relative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Sit back and review, observe. Time to strengthen basic philosophy. Find out why you are here and where you are going. Fine for catching up on correspondence. Read and write.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Money or investment proposition could be spotlighted. Co-operation required between you and mate, partner. Combine forces — no day to go it alone. Promote meaningful alliance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent on public relations — reactions to your talents, efforts. Be true to yourself; don't water down your beliefs. Stick to principles; stand tall. Then you help insure success.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are fascinated with medical techniques because you have sincere disire to help people. You now have chance to build on solid base. An individual who teaches you should be trusted.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to PISCES: complete agreement which promotes successful partnership.

acerbate (AS-er-bate)
to irritate

The chairman of the state's political convention sharply warned that he would dismiss from the session any individual who purposely acerbated the principal speaker.

The narrow-minded magazine editor, a man who had acerbated many public officials with his slanted stories, was being sued by the town's mayor.

The young child's acerbating behavior was so bad that her first grade teacher had to send her home.

Eddie Albert

'Acres' Star—Serious Side

EDITOR'S NOTE — Actor Eddie Albert's public personality at the moment is that of the innocent city sucker being victimized by the country slickers in the CBS comedy series, "Green Acres." Everyone knows, however' that it is merely acting, for in recent months he appeared with an inspirational reading on a variety show as the narrator of a special "How Life Begins," describing sex for young viewers. Here Albert reveals his serious, off-camera self.

By EDDIE ALBERT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I don't want to be the biggest star in the entertainment world, and the main reason is that there's so little time. The bigger you are, the more of your time it takes up, and the less time you have to investigate the world around you and its wonders.

In my youth I deliberately set out to become a vagabond and a drifter as part of my growth, but after I'd had my fill I realized that there are more subtle ways of exploring.

Once Burl Ives and I got the urge to see what it was like to be alone in a Mexican desert with a gun, a guitar and two cans of tomato juice. We got lost and came back across the border on Dec. 7, 1941.

Horticulture Major Hobby

My urge for adventure was taken care of for the next two years in the Pacific, where I saw action on Tarawa and came out of the war with spiritual shell shock.

For the past 12 years my major hobby has been horticulture. I practice two techniques, liquid culture and organic gardening. I grow normal and abnormal plants, giving the latter the chemical treatment, and I take special pride in the size and beauty of the flowers.

I get some of the seeds from the research people at Oak Ridge who study the effects of radiation on various substances. The mutations are unpredictable — I never know if I'm going to rear a monster or a marvel.

I read about a trip down the Danube in a canoe, so I flew to Europe and paddled my own canoe over the same route in 1965. I once read a book which sent me on an introspective journey to a tiny island off Nova Scotia to meditate. Unfortunately, I became ill and had to be brought out by oxcart.

I made a film called "Human Growth" which caused some controversy in 1947 because it taught 12-year-olds about sex. It is now something of a classroom classic, I understand, and to my great joy it won a prize at the Venice Film Festival in 1965.

So Little Time

I want to make a film short in which a Catholic boy explains Judaism to a Protestant boy, a Protestant boy explains Catholicism to a Jewish boy and a Jewish boy explains Protestantism to a Catholic boy.

I'd like to be 20 years old again and look like Gregory Peck.

I'd like to have 24 hours a day just to plan and enjoy things a little more.

I'd like to take that canoe trip down the Danube again, this time with my son, and stop at Budapest and sing with the Gypsies in Romania.

I want to live to be 100.

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

Sen. Percy Joins Rockefeller Camp

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presidential candidate Nelson Rockefeller now has Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois in his corner, a development Richard Nixon's camp views as something of a campaign issue.

Percy, one of the young and attractive Republicans who came to Congress in the GOP comeback of 1966, said in endorsing Rockefeller Thursday that he was "the only presidential candidate who has set forth a detailed program to end the war."

He described Rockefeller's recent peace plan as "a constructive contribution to the dialogue on this issue."

In New York, Nixon's press secretary said there was some indication Percy's move was motivated by possibiity of joining a Rockefeller ticket.

The secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said "we must now conclude that the lure of the vice presidency has become a key Rockefeller weapon."

"There is some indication that Rockefeller has promised Percy the vice presidential spot," Klein said.

Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts, considered Republican moderates, have come out for Nixon, touching off speculation they might be interested in a vice presidential slot on a Nixon ticket.

Percy had been widely mentioned as a possible running mate for Nixon, who leads in the contest for the GOP nomination.

Percy said he had not been contacted by anyone in the Nixon camp on the possibiity of a Nixon-Percy ticket. Asked if his endorsement of Rockefeller eliminated this possibility, he grinned and said, "That is a possibility, of course."

Percy's daughter Sharon is married to a nephew of Rockefeller—John V. "Jay" Rockefeller IV, a Democrat and the party nominee for secretary of state in West Virginia.

Pueblo, Crew Release Tied To U.S. Apology

MOSCOW (UPI) — A high North Korean military official said today the crew of the captured American ship Pueblo will be punished and never released unless Washington apologizes "for their crimes."

"The American imperialists should be clearly aware that if they do not apologize for the crimes of the Pueblo crew, and if they do not guarantee there will be no repetition of such crimes, we will never return the crew," Col. Zo Nam-zoong, military attache in Moscow, told a news conference.

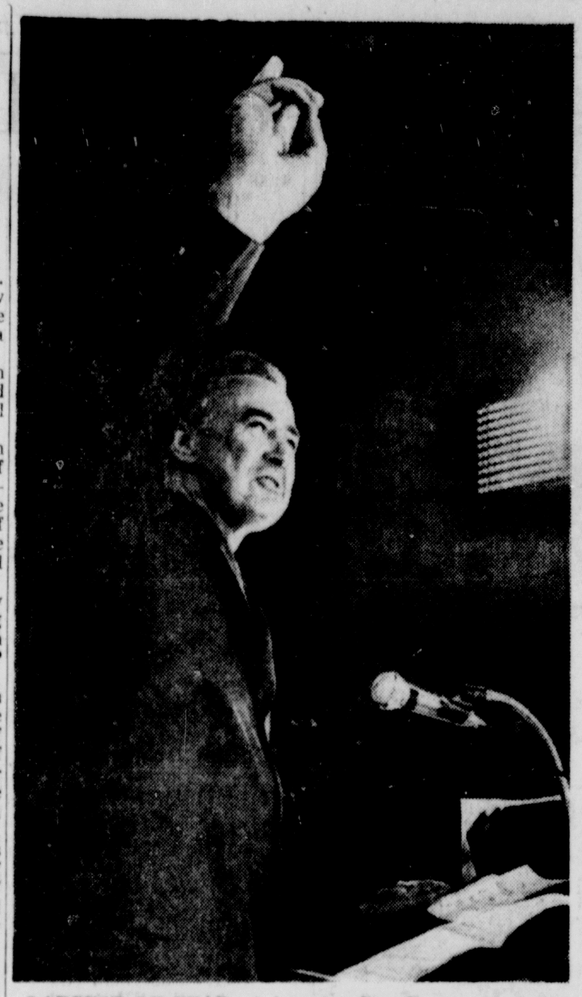

Speaking at the North Korean Embassy, Zo also said, "If the organizers of such crimes will not assume responsibility for the fate of the crew, we will have no alternative to making the crew pay for their crimes."

There was no elaboration on the colonel's threats.

The U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo with a crew of 83 officers and men was seized Jan. 23 by North Korean patrol boats and taken into the port of Wonsan.

All diplomatic efforts to release the ship and men have failed thus far.

LARGEST OF YEAR—A beaming Sen. Eugene McCarthy waves to a crowd of more than 38,000 supporters at a rally at Fenway Park in Boston Thursday night. McCarthy addressing his largest political rally anywhere in the country this year, predicted success in Chicago and in November and called for a "new America of openness, confidence and trust." Javits Opens Up On President

By United Press International

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, criticised by his Democratic opponent in this year's election for being pro-Johnson, has delivered his strongest attack yet on the President.

In a Senate speech Thursday, Javits accused the President of listening to the South Vietnamese government more than he listens to the American people.

Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic nominee to run against Javits, who has Republican-Liberal endorsement in his effort for a third term, has accused Javits of backing administration Vietnam policy and of voting for the Gulf of Tonkin resolution .

New York's senior senator said Johnson had shifted war policies "in a vain effort to vindicate past mistakes." Javits added the President was showing "a greater responsiveness to the protestations of the South Vietnamese government than he does to the overwhelming desire of the American people for an end to the war."

He accused Johnson of "trying to lock the nation into positions on Vietnam which have nothing more to recommend them than the sad fact that they were first mistakenly uttered some years ago."

It was one of the toughest attacks on Johnson since his current peace offensive began March 31 and it came from a Republican senator who has not been particularly outspoken against Johnson's Vietnam policies in the past.

Javits said Johnson's meeting with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu in Honolulu amounted to a "revalidation of General Thieu's veto over U.S. peace efforts..."

"Apparently," Javits said, "the same old delusions and wishful thinking that victory is just around the corner still dominate administration thinking.

"But they are not sufficient justifications for asking the nation to go on paying an unacceptably high price in blood, treasury and domestic strife in a vain effort to vindicate past mistakes in Vietnam.

"Like the egg of the cuckoo bird," Javits said, Johnson policies have "hatched into a monstrosity which threatens to eat our cupboard bare."

Dick Nixon Has It, At Least on Paper

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon still has sufficient convention delegate strength—on paper—to capture the Republican presidential nomination on the first ballot, according to a United Press International survey today.

With the selection less than two weeks away, UPI tabulated 691 probable votes for Nixon on the first ballot. A total of 667 is needed to nominate.

Of Nixon's total, 183 votes are committed to his candidacy on at least the first ballot and 508 are leaning toward it.

His nearest rival, Nelson A. Rockefeller, had 285 votes in the UPI survey, 130 committed and 155 leaning. Ronald Reagan had 157 total, 86 committed and 71 leaning. Harold Stassen had 1 committed vote.

There were still 44 uncommitted votes and 155 tied up in favorite son candidacies.

Rockefeller partisans claim Nixon has been losing delegates votes since the last of the state conventions in early July. The UPI tabulation shows a slight increase in Nixon strength during this period; there were scattered losses, but these were somewhat more than offset by the change of some previously uncommitted delegates to the leaning-toward-Nixon column.

Rockefeller has also gained strength slightly since the state conventions, largely by attracting previously uncommitted delegates.

The greatest proportionate gain in the period accrued to Reagan, who picked up delegates in Utah—the last of the state GOP conventions—and in some other places.

UPI observers across the country reported a softening in Nixon's second-ballot strength. They said there was evidence significant numbers of delegates would be willing to abandon his cause with some readiness—mainly to move to the Reagan camp.

In the Democratic race, the tabulationn gave Hubert H. Humphrey 1,078½ votes, including 419 committed and 659½ leaning. Eugene J. McCarthy had 417½, with 344 committed and 73½ leaning. A total of 1,125 are needed to nominate in the Democratic contest.

George Wallace, a third party candidate, had 15 Democratic votes, 13 committed and 2 leaning. There were 558 uncommitted votes and 325 committed to favorite sons.

Other developments:

McCarthy — The Minnesota senator told newsmen in Boston Thursday that he does not have "any plans to accept the vice presidency" if he fails to win the top spot on the ticket.

Humphrey—In a Washington speech, the vice president said that one of "our problems" in regard to the Vietnam war is that "too few people in America have been required to make any sacrifice."
